

FIGHTING ON RIVER AISNE MORE VIOLENT THAN ON THE MARNE

Unofficial Reports Place Allies' Losses at 50,000 and Those of the Germans at 100,000 in Great Clash of Arms Up to Date

Shows How Murderous is the Modern Warfare

PARIS, Sept. 18.—Fragments of news from the front confirm the serious character of the combat on the Aisne. Some of those wounded on Thursday who have arrived here, declared that the fighting was even more violent than on the Marne, and that the losses on both sides must be heavy.
The English, as on the Marne, are bearing the brunt of the counter-attacks and are conducting themselves brilliantly.

After a four days' constant hammering the German artillery slackened its fire last evening during a heavy downpour of rain which lasted all night.

The trenches must have been nearly filled with water, diminishing greatly the advantage of the defensive works prepared by the Germans and at the same time adding to the sufferings of the wounded.

return to Paris of many who took refuge in Bordeaux and other provincial towns on the approach of the Germans.
Some of the newspapers temporarily at Bordeaux are getting ready to publish in Paris again. The Daily Mail comes back today. The government, however, probably will remain until the war is practically ended.

FIVE ARE INJURED

In Different Accidents
at the B. & M. Car Shops

Five accidents occurred at the Boston & Maine repair shops yesterday and although only one was of a serious nature, the other four were painful and required instant medical attendance.
All of the injured men were attended by Dr. Nell K. Forhan of Billerica, who treated four in his office and removed the fifth to St. John's hospital where he is now resting comfortably.

William Philbrook, who resides in Lowell sustained a serious injury to his back yesterday afternoon while working in the locomotive shop of the plant when an iron pole fell and struck him
treated the injury and then removed him to his home where he will be confined for a few days.

While working about a heavy machine Nicholas Brezette, also of Lowell, was struck with a heavy piece of iron and received a fractured bone in his right foot. He was removed to St.
John's hospital where the fracture was treated.

Ernest Nordloss, who recently came to this city to work in the repair shops, sustained an injury to his shoulder while working in one of the departments connected with the shops.

He will be unable to return to work for several days.

A severe scalp wound was received by Felix Hallee, which required several stitches while A. Landry's ankle was badly crushed as a result of getting caught in a machine in the locomotive plant. The latter two men also live in Lowell.

INTERIOR OF HOSPITAL, TERMONDE, BELGIUM, DAMAGED AND BURNED IN GERMAN ATTACK

BELGIAN HOSPITAL AT TERMONDE, BURNED BY GERMANS. PHOTO © 1914 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

This war picture was taken at Termonde, Belgium, a fortified town sixteen miles east of Ghent. It shows the interior of the hospital there which was burned by the Germans. When the town was attacked the German shells raked the town, and the hospital was shot full of holes. The patients were removed when the engagement began and spent the night in the fields. Several of the wounded soldiers died as a result of the exposure.

IMPORTANT FREIGHT CHANGE

Local Railroad Offices Improve Sys- tem of Handling Inward and Out- ward Shipments—Great Improve- ment to Lowell Business

Local business firms will rejoice much to know that W. G. Parkin, general agent of the Boston & Maine Railroad in this city, has at last succeeded in perfecting arrangements whereby the inward and outward freight business of Lowell may be kept entirely distinct. For years, owing to the many scattered yards, the inadequate track facilities, the two freight offices of Western avenue and Thorndike street and the frequent transfers from and to the New York,

New Haven and Hartford yards, there was an apparent lack of system which was not the fault of the local offices, but which was a constant source of annoyance. Those who wished to make a freight shipment were never sure to which freight house they should take it and the heads of the local departments were compelled to answer constant telephone inquiries.
The same held true of inward shipments which, instead of coming to one distributing point, were sent over two or three, with resultant confusion.
Generally speaking, all outward shipments going to a southern point were sent from the Thorndike street house; northern shipments went from Western avenue. In like manner inward freight from the south and north were found at Thorndike street and Western avenue respectively. There was no certainty about this, however, which at its best was a contradictory and confusing system, and one of which the public complained continually.

Commencing next Monday, Sept. 21, all outward shipments of freight will be made from Western avenue, no matter what the destination may be, and all inward freight will come to the Thorndike street storehouse. The change may be a little confusing at first, but it will do away with a great deal of trouble and will be approved by the general public without delay.

Important changes are now being made in the routine of the offices so as to accommodate conditions to the new system. There will be no changes in the working force but the office system will be entirely revised so as to facilitate the carrying out of the improved arrangements.

BRITISH ARMY MORE THAN HOLDS ITS OWN

LONDON, Sept. 19, 4.30 a. m.—Earl Durham received a letter Friday from his brother, who is on General French's staff. The letter, written two days ago, said that for the four previous days there had been desperate fighting in which the British army more than held its own.

STEAMER FAVIGNANA ARRIVES AT NAPLES

ROME, Sept. 19, 1.15 a. m., via Paris, 4.30 a. m.—The steamer
Favignana has arrived at Naples from the Orient and her officers report that the Russian Black Sea fleet, comprising twenty units, is cruising off the entrance of the Dardanelles ready to attack the Turkish squadron if it should leave the Golden Horn.

DARING ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP BRIDGE

LONDON, Sept. 19, 4.24 a. m.—The Dieppe correspondent of the Daily Mail has sent to his paper the following despatch:

"On Friday a party of Germans made a daring attempt to blow up the railway bridge at Oissel, eight miles south of Rouen and thus sever railway communication between Dieppe, Havre, Rouen and Paris.

"The members of the party were disguised in French officers' uniforms, taken from prisoners and were provided with prisoners' identification papers. Their behavior, however, had excited suspicion. An attempt to stop them resulted in an exchange of revolver fire, three gendarmes being shot. The Germans got away but afterwards they were traced to the river bank near the bridge and captured before they were able to effect their purposes."

AUSTRIAN CAVALRY DISAPPEARS FROM GALICIA

LONDON, Sept. 19, 8.45 a. m.—In a despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from its Petrograd correspondent it is stated that the Austrian cavalry has completely disappeared from the scene of action in Galicia.
After being severely handled in the first part of the campaign, and especially in Galicia, the Austrian mounted troops made no attempt to relieve the hard pressed rear guard which was surrounded by the Russians.

NETHERLANDS GOVERNMENT ENTERS U. S. MARKETS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 19.—The Netherlands government has entered the United States markets as a large purchaser of supplies, according to a local broker who says he has been commanded as purchasing agent at this port.

AUSTRIAN STEAMER CAPTURED IN THE ADRIATIC

LONDON, Sept. 19, 1.18 p. m.—The Star has published a despatch from Rome saying that warships cruising in the Adriatic have captured an Austrian steamer flying the Greek flag and loaded with arms and ammunition destined for Albania.

GERMAN EASTERN ARMY CONTIN-UES OPERATIONS IN DISTRICT ABOUT SUWALKI

BERLIN, Sept. 18, via London, 19, (4.15 a. m.)—The German eastern army continues its operations in the district about Suwalki, Russian Poland, according to a statement issued by the general staff tonight.

The army is now advancing on the fortress at Osceuro, 45 kilometres, about 30 miles, southwest of Lyck, (Eastern Prussia) on the railroad between Lyck and Bialystok. This fortress guards the River Roher, which elsewhere cannot be crossed, owing to swamps, and forms a natural barrier before the advancing army.

SIX STEAMERS CARRYING 6000
AMERICANS ON THEIR WAY FROM BRITISH ISLES

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Six steamers
ish Isles today for the United States.
This makes the total of American departures during the week 15,000.
Among the passengers sailing today are Andrew Carnegie and Sir Johnson
Forbes-Robertson.
The weekly report issued by Herbert
C. Hoover, chairman of the American relief committee in London shows that 959 Americans have been assisted during the past seven days and that the total of American departures since August sixth is 87,000; of whom 8537 have been assisted.

MIDDLESEX NORTH FAIR

Final Day Attracted Large Attendance—Lowell School Gardens Win Prize

The two-day fair held by the Middlesex North Agricultural Society under the auspices of the Dracut Grange at Dracut Centre Thursday and yesterday, was brought to a close last night and the organizers were well repaid for their efforts for the fair was a real success in every way. The weather was ideal and the attendance each day was very gratifying.

Yesterday's program consisted of outdoor sports, open air speaking, baby show and other interesting events, and the large number of present enjoyed immensely each number on the program. As on the previous day an excellent dinner was served at noon and a most enjoyable day was spent by all present.

The special prizes for school gardens were awarded to Lowell public schools and the children are elated over the result of their work. Many other prizes went to Lowell people, who made a very good showing at the exhibition.

The forenoon was spent in visiting the various exhibits and at the close of the day an open air meeting was held under the direction of Larkin T. Trull, the principal address being delivered by Mrs. Mabel Wood Park of Boston, who spoke on "Equal Suffrage." James Stuart Murphy of this city also addressed the gathering on the same subject.

In the latter part of the afternoon a fire alarm contest was held between the companies from Dracut Centre and Chelmsford Centre and the prize was awarded to the latter company. There was also been interest in the contest between a pair of heavy horses and 10 men for $10 a side. The horses literally pulled the men off their feet and they did not work very hard to do it either.

Baby Show

THE SPELLBINDER

A senatorial candidate who recently made a tour of the country towns in his district returned to Lowell with the report that all the country residents wanted to discuss with him was the war, and that some of them hadn't come to a realization of the fact that the state caucuses are on next Tuesday. As a general rule it is the man who neglects to go to the caucuses who makes the biggest protest over the results of the primaries. But a man who doesn't take interest enough to go to a primary and vote for the candidate of his choice has no license to criticize the action of those who have sufficient interest to exercise their privilege. While the democrats have no contest on the state ticket this year there are very important contests on in the seventh and eighth senatorial districts and the 15th and 17th representative districts, and for the county commissioner's office, which this year for the first time in history in all probability will result in the ultimate success of the democrats on election day, provided of course, a strong man is placed in nomination. Election day is therefore a day of great importance on the good judgment shown in the primary election and the best judgment is that of the largest number of voters. The fact that there is no Lowell candidate for the position should not deter local democrats from taking part in those primaries. Their interest in county affairs and politics is as great in the first instance, and should be in the second, as that of the citizens of any other part of the county.

In the seventh senatorial district, while it is a close race, a democratic win on election day the democratic primary contest is between O. E. Thompson, Thomas C. Cuff, of this city and Thomas A. Dunn, of Lynn. As there are some lively democratic legislative contests in the lower end of this district that will bring out the full strength of the democratic vote on caucus day Mr. Dunn is giving his entire attention there and apparently has not bothered about the two Lowell wards. In the two wards of Lowell that are included in the seventh there are no legislative contests, but this fact should not cause the democrats of those wards to lose interest and remain away from the polls. All should get out and vote on the senatorial and county commissioner contests.

In the eighth district a big caucus vote is expected on account of the several local contests including the senatorial, in which four candidates are out after the nomination. Senator Draper, the present incumbent, appears to have determined opposition in some quarters, notably Mr. Spence, while the senator's friends and those of ex-Senator McManis appear to be directing their fight against each other. James P. Dunigan and Michael H. Brady are going it alone, with no apparent opposition from any source. The appearance of Mr. Dunigan in the contest puts the result in doubt for although a resident of North Chelmsford, he is as well known in Lowell as any of the other candidates and has been a party hustler for many years. Mr. Dunigan enters the contest free from prejudice in his own party while his past experience in town politics have proven him to be a great vote getter on election day. Whoever is nominated can win, that is if the party gives him full support on election day.

JAMES P. DUNIGAN

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR IN EIGHTH DISTRICT

Mr. Dunigan has served as selectman for four years and as assessor for 11 years in the republican town of Chelmsford. He was chairman for two years of Chelmsford's first water commission and was instrumental in establishing the water system in that town. He led and successfully carried through the fight for a state highway along the south side of the Merrimack river from the Chelmsford line to the Tyngsboro bridge. He has represented the town of Chelmsford at all legislative hearings on matters concerning that town and has a wide acquaintance and influence at the State House. He can think, he can talk, he can act, and if elected will make a useful senator for his district. He is a member of Lowell Athletic of Eagles, Highland Council, R. A., M. C. O. F., and the Central Club. He has no enemies in his own party and many friends in the others. If nominated he will be elected. Safely first! Vote for the candidate who can be elected! Vote for James P. Dunigan!

"The City Hall" Rosary"

The practice of seeking Divine guidance in the conduct of municipal affairs having been made regular by two former mayors, one holding communion with the Almighty within the sanctity of his home and the other within the sanctity of his sanctum, it is hoped that the other members of the municipal council will go on to like-wise. Speed the happy day when each commissioner before entering the meeting will emulate these pious and worthy officials and sing to the music of Mr. Nevins' immortal ballad:

"The hours I spent with thee my heart,
When candidates tormented me,
I count them over, every one apart,
My rosary, my rosary, my rosary,
Each act of mine forethought in prayer,
To still a conscience sorely wrung,
I supplicate unto thee, O Lord,
And there my vote is hung.
O memories that bless and burn
Like Hanson's gain and Putnam's loss,
By prayer alone I see the light, and learn
To mark a cross—sweet vote—to mark a cross."

Something About Paying Blocks

A statement attributed to Commissioner Morse to the effect that the street department will need $200,000 paying blocks to finish this year's work and that they will cost about $52 per thousand has caused certain persons to sit up and take notice and incidentally to ask questions. Some of the questions are as follows:

"Mr. Morse, why didn't you call for bids for paving blocks in April as has been the custom for years, and not wait until the last moment?"

"Is there an opportunity for open competition at this time to supply paving blocks at short notice?"

It is claimed by the critics that in April or thereabouts annually the street department has sent in an estimate of the blocks, cement, etc., that will be necessary for the year's work and bids are then called for to supply these materials. This year, it is claimed, no such bids were called for and hence the city is short of blocks.

In the meantime, the critics claim, the Hildreth Granite company, has bought up about all the paving blocks available in these parts, except perhaps those of Louis Palmer of Graniteville, who it is said has recently received a big order that will eat up his supply on hand. Thus when the time for calling bids arrives the Hildreth Granite company, if the critics are right, will have the thing all to themselves and can charge their own price.

The Hildreth Granite company is composed of several well known granite and paving men. The officials last year were as follows: President, Herbert E. Fletcher; treasurer, Alfred Thomas; clerk, Walter E. Hassam; directors, George D. Webb, Thomas Leach and H. V. Hildreth. The names of Fletcher, Hassam, Leach and Hildreth are familiar as granite producers and paving men from different sections, and there is something decidedly familiar about the name Hassam. Recently the Hildreth Granite company secured the contract to furnish the city of Brockton with paving blocks at a cost of about $52.93 per thousand. Commissioner Morse may be basing his estimate of the probable cost of the blocks soon to be purchased for Lowell on Brockton's experience. But it is said that the freight on paving blocks is only $5 per thousand to Lowell, while it is $15 per thousand to Brockton; some difference. Last year the city of Lowell bought its paving blocks by the square yard, paying $1.13 per yard. Figuring on 344 yards to the thousand, the city paid $38.554 per thousand, somewhat less than $52 per thousand. The critics claim that had the bids been called for in the spring before the smaller quarries had sold out their product to the combination the city would have secured the blocks much cheaper than it will get them at the present time. Whether this is true or not will come to light when Commissioner Morse calls for the bids.

More About Paying Blocks

Recently the public was made acquainted with the astonishing fact that $500 paving blocks had been recovered by the police in the yard of a brother of a former councillor. That number of paving blocks would mean about 18 or 20 loads and would all a pretty good sized yard. But the blocks were not counted individually, the number simply being estimated, and this year's government has seemed to have a weakness for estimates off the mark. Considerable has been said about an enormous number of old paving blocks that have disappeared, and the inference is that they have been stolen. But the blocks of old blocks have been used to build a fence about the Franklin school; to pave driveways in school yards so that the coal carts could reach the cellar windows without destroying the yards, while others were used to repair crossings and side streets. It may be that if these jobs were measured up the missing blocks would be accounted for. And they do tell me that the scheme of recutting and relaying old blocks, instead of laying new ones, is only a fine bit of false economy. In the first place there is the expense of recutting and a great amount of waste into the bargain. Then when the old blocks are relaid it takes about 20 per cent more cement than it does with new blocks, and cement is an item of expense, and you do not get the same strength of the bond. They don't last as long as the new blocks which come closer together and prevent water from getting in under them. Finally, it takes more men to lay old blocks because being smaller more of them are required and in the end it is estimated that recutting and relaying old blocks cost close to $60 per thousand.

The High School Middle

And now they tell us that the Varnum property will not be ready for occupancy until Dec. 1, and meanwhile we will have two sessions of High school for three months, an injustice to pupils and teachers alike, as a result of the shortsightedness or neglect of our municipal council. This is one matter surely, the responsibility for which cannot be laid at the door of last year's administration. The school board presented the situation at the beginning of the year and found opposition in the ranks of the municipal council. With the situation as it is even the most straight-laced "church member" must admit that there are mightier questions involved in the conduct of municipal affairs than the enforcement of the Sunday laws, relative to the sale of sandwiches and the paving of brewery yards.

Has Some Voice

The representative contest in ward 2 brought out two of the three candidates in open-air rallies. John J. Quensen opened the series, closely followed by Representative Dennis A. Murphy. Both men made favorable impressions. Representative Murphy surprised those who had never before heard him in public speech by his resonant voice which could be distinctly heard at a great distance and his easy flow of words. Representative Murphy speaks like a seasoned stump orator.

Joke, a la Spence

George T. Spence, the gentleman who is camping on the trail of Senator Draper has quite a reputation as a punster and when he became active in the campaign his friends expected that he would hand out a new line of puns. But George appears to be too busy to do so and has yet to utter nothing of a jocular nature. The question appears to be, will this opposition to Draper be dispensed with by the voters of the district, or will Henry be Dunigan?

Follows Lowell's Example

And now President Wilson is going to hold communion with the Almighty. Boom Lowell! We've been doing that for a long time.

Closely following the announcement of Commissioner Brown relative to his implicit trust in the Power above came the news that the Kaiser's army has been getting a thorough wallowing and along comes a Joker with a reason for the sudden change in the Kaiser's fortunes, to wit, that the Almighty has withdrawn his support from the German Emperor and has allied with the Lowell municipal council.

17th Middlesex District

The democratic candidates for the legislature in the 17th district are confident that this year they can overcome the republican majority of that district and go to the state house. A red hot fight has developed among the republicans that undoubtedly will leave its sore spots after the caucuses while the progressives have put up a well known citizen, Pierre Brousseau. The democratic candidates are Joseph F. Whitley who showed good vote-getting ability as a candidate last year; Hercules A. Toupin and Joseph Jodoin, Jr., both of whom have served in the board of aldermen, and Thos. J. Mulhoney and Thomas H. Corcoran, both well and favorably known in the district.

Look at Varnum Avenue

Varnum avenue was recently macadamized and yet a correspondent informs The Sun that the top dressing already is beginning to break up and that the street needs to be gone over again at once.

Such Is Fame

The Courier-Citizen's political writer in this morning mentions among the republican candidates for attorney-general Messrs. Higgins and "Holland" of Middlesex County. The "Holland" referred to is none other than J. Mott Halliwell, former assistant attorney-general of this state and one of the best known lawyers in Massachusetts.

Jewett and Achin

While the pictures of Jewett and Achin, the perennial candidates for the legislature in the 17th district appear side by side in the daily papers, "they do say" that in ward three the word has been passed around to vote for Jewett alone while in ward six, it's vote for Achin alone. Watch for the bullets.

Another Financial Blunder

Financial blunders on the part of the municipal council are becoming so common that they no longer attract much attention. The latest is the contract for the filtration plant for which Mr. Gow was the lowest bidder. The contract cannot be awarded until the money to pay for it is on hand, and that money is not there at present.

To Sen. Draper

Hon. Senator Henry J. Draper, how many letters have you received from the Trades and Labor Council, asking you to come to their meetings, and up to date you have not done so. Are you afraid to show up? Come out in the open Senator, and tell the truth. Please show us where Foss is a friend of labor. I am not favoring the nomination of any special candidate but am showing the Senator up in his true light. You missed 38 roll calls, Senator. The voters in your district would like to know why.

I submit the following letter received from the Foss campaign committee showing how Mr. Draper stood in the gubernatorial contest last year:

Oct. 27, 1913.
George Spence, Esq.,
236 Chelmsford St.,
Lowell, Mass.

My Dear Sir:—Your name has been handed to me by Senator Henry J. Draper, and I take the liberty of asking you to do such service in the interest of the governor's campaign as you may deem wise.

Any names that you can send to me of those whom you think may be interested enough to do some personal work will be gratefully received. I shall be glad to send literature to you or any others whom you may designate. Trusting to hear from you favorably, I am,

Yours very truly,

Secretary Foss Campaign Committee.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Vaudeville bookings that will please amusement lovers wonderfully well will be featured at the B. F. Keith theatre, next week. As usual eight acts have been secured, and these will come from the so-called "big time" houses. The principal feature for the first three days of the week will be "Doing Well, Thank You," an inimitable little comedy, in which James B. Donavan and Marie Lee will be featured. Mr. Donavan is universally known as "The Man from Ireland," and Miss Lee, for perfectly obvious reasons, is widely known as "The Little Beauty." For a pure fun-making combination the twain are without any superiors on the vaudeville circuits. "Doing Well, Thank You," is for the sole reason of causing laughter, and while there is a thread of story in it, it is very largely bright patter, some brand new songs and sprightly dancing. That's the sort of a combination which tickles the palate of everybody. Another act, manufactured along the same lines, is "Al Economy Junction," in which Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Friel appear. This is a rural affair, with plenty of so-called atmosphere in it and a homely type of comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Friel are well known performers who have had a long list of one-act successes. For downright novelty—and one like unto nothing this town has ever had—Gordon Brothers and their boxing kangaroo will prove the goods. It's a real kangaroo, imported from Australia when very young, and taught to box with either front or back feet. And it strikes a blow that no man, under ordinary conditions, could withstand. Furthermore it has a tail of such wonderful strength that it supports its entire body on it. This act has only recently come from the continent, where the advent of war made it necessary to cancel all bookings. King, Carleton and the Clifton Sisters, banjoists and fun-makers, have a very pretty act, and one that holds unique features to it.

For the final half of the week feature acts are again brought forward. With the Hirscoff troupe of Russian singers, dancers and singers headlined, four men and four women, from Trans-Caucasia constitute this diverting company of entertainers, and they will present bewitching numbers replete with barbaric costume and scenic effects. The Van Der Coors "quack" illusionists, featuring Felix, the mind-reading duck, ought to make an instantaneous hit. Benton & Howard are a bright singing and talking duo, and Jeannette Childs is a dainty singing, dancing, and singing.

Four feature pictures will be given at each performance, these having been carefully selected by Manager Plekett. Remember, there are three performances daily, beginning at 2, 7 and 9 p. m. Phone 28. Tomorrow afternoon and evening special performances will be in order.

REAL ESTATE and BUILDING NEWS

In introducing a real estate and building news page, The Sun will endeavor each week to publish for its readers the choicest items of news of these fields and the most interesting articles available in order that these features may be of the greatest possible value both to the general public and to the advertisers. Consequently, The Sun urges its readers to look for this page each Saturday and to cultivate the habit of reading it throughout the week. It is one that should interest everybody.

That such a newspaper feature, carefully prepared, is bound to be of real value to those interested in real estate and building, in fact to everybody, appears most reasonable, especially in the case of a building news page. As Lowell, where building is constantly receiving added stimulus both in the residential and business sections. On this page will be found the notices of the real estate men, plumbers, furniture dealers, builders and contractors of every description, so that it will serve as a directory to all those who are engaged in building, doing on or within a house or building.

Lowell Building Rapidly

Lowell is building rapidly; new houses are being constantly erected, and several big additions are being made to the business sections. The public buildings of the city are most up-to-date and attractive and of them the city may well be proud. The business blocks, too, are of modern structure, central location, and especially is the new Sun building an ornament and a credit to the city. All these things are most favorable to the building conditions of the city, and many predict that Lowell is soon to experience an even greater building boom.

There are many bustling real estate dealers in the city, and all are doing big business, a fact which indicates that people of Lowell regard real estate as about the safest and most highly profitable investment. The writer, on interviewing a number of the contractors, found them very optimistic regarding the conditions at the present time, in spite of the cry about the scarcity of money.

The real estate men, builders, contractors, furniture dealers, lumbermen, gardeners, and all others whose business is the building, selling, beautifying, remodeling, or equipping of buildings of any description, will find The Sun's real estate and building news the most efficient medium by which to reach the public and receive direct returns. No paper now appears in Lowell in making this new feature as effective as possible.

Readers having items of interest, articles, new ideas on these topics are invited to submit them to The Sun for publication on this page. All copy for the page should be at The Sun office no later than Thursday evening, in order to secure publication on Saturday.

Week's Building Operations

In accordance with the requirements of the law recently passed regarding safety and fire prevention in garages, extensive alterations and remodeling are in progress at the establishment of the Lowell Buick company in Appleton street. The fire commissioner recently visited the garage to make inspection and told the management just what changes were required. The specifications made by the fire commissioner on this occasion are followed to the letter in the carrying on of the work. A hard plaster or cement wall is being constructed about the entire garage to separate that department from the other business. This wall will completely separate and protect the large show rooms and salesrooms which form a most attractive portion of the garage and will also be erected on the western side, between the garage and the establishment of the National Hiscutt Co. A cement ceiling is also to be constructed, as well as a cement floor to replace the wooden floor. The door openings in the partitions are to be filled in in the course of the work.

New School Rooms for Hebrews

Congregation Anshai Sward, a local Jewish association, has arranged for extensive alterations, additions and improvements on the headquarters at 142 Howard street and the city building authorities have granted the society a permit for the carrying on of the work. The changes will provide new school accommodations.

The main part of the present building, and also the ell portion, are to be moved back about fourteen feet. Then the plan calls for the erection of a brick addition on the site of the part which is to be moved, this addition to be used as a synagogue. Some of the partitions on the first story of the present structure are to be removed, and new ones constructed, dividing the space into two large rooms for school purposes, thereby very substantially increasing the school accommodations for the children of the Hebrew population.

These alterations will make a big improvement and the action of the society gives it an even higher position among the progressive organizations of Lowell. The work will be done at a cost of nearly four thousand dollars.

Make Dwelling Two-Tenement House

Charles S. Dodge is making extensive alterations on the interior of his property at 269 Westford street, which will convert the present cottage on that site into a two-tenement house. This is quite a big piece of work, and apparently a very skillfully planned one, which will doubtless greatly increase the value of the property. Mr. Dodge intends that each of the tenements which will result will consist of 6 rooms, pantry and bath. They will have separate entrances.

Remodeling One Family House

Mr. Patrick P. Mahoney also is making extensive alterations upon his property at 698 School street. Mr. Mahoney will change his one-family dwelling house into a two-tenement house. The alterations will result in additional rooms, including two chambers on the second floor and one chamber and new bath and fixtures on the first story.

Rebuilding Boiler Room Roof

The Lowell Electric Light corporation is rebuilding the boiler room roof of its building in Perry street. The roof is being constructed of reinforced concrete according to the most modern ideas of building, and the work will be accomplished at a cost of approximately $2,000.

Operations planned by John Racetto at his property at 527 Moody street, will result in the converting of the basement of the building into an up-to-date store. The store will have ample room and a new metal ceiling will be constructed. New windows are to be constructed and the entrance will be at the corner of Moody and James streets.

To remodel the ell consisting of four rooms and build an addition for a new bath room and fixtures is the intention of Andrew Urneck. The property in question is located at 29 Elmwood avenue. The work includes extensive interior alterations.

Oscar A. Shaw has been granted a permit by the city authorities to build two storage sheds in the rear of his house in Varona avenue.

Interior alterations and the changing over of a bath room constitute the work which is to be done by Bernard J. Kelley upon his property at 1 Dracut street.

Walking through the various residential sections of the city, one could not but comment upon the large number of new dwelling houses that are being erected. This is evidence of the continual activity in the building field, and, moreover, bespeaks the rapid growth of the city. The houses are of varied style of construction, some being single dwellings, while others are tenements.

The property of Henry J. Rogers at 131 Cumberland road is to be the object of considerable remodeling. Mr. Rogers will construct an addition 12 feet by 17 over the kitchen in the rear of his house, the new portion to be used as a chamber.

The size of the rooms in the building of Joseph J. Marzella, located at 252-254 Allen street, is to be considerably increased by the construction of bay windows. The building is a three story structure and 12 new bay windows are to be built in, four on each floor, adding much to the already attractive property as well as to the convenience of the occupants.

Andrew Marzella is contemplating the erection of a dwelling at 61 Beacon street, and has begun work on the foundation for the building.

Robert James Blackstock is moving his cottage in Dayton street from the rear of the lot to the front, with the intention of leaving it a distance of about 15 feet from the street. It is planned by the owner of this property to cut down the ell and build a second story over it.

A new piazza is to be constructed by William Saunders at his home which is located at 139 Methuen street.

Daniel Murphy of 55 Arlington street is making extensive alterations on his home. The work consists of the enlarging of two rooms and the building of a second story to the ell of the house for chambers and a new bath and fixtures.

A stairway is to be constructed in the property of Margaret M. Merrill at 275 Central street, from the rear, facing on Green street, into the boiler room in the basement.

Avila Sawyer will build additional rooms in his tenement dwelling at 236 Moody street, and will change the location of the bathrooms. Following the completion of these changes, the building will consist of three three-room tenements. There are at the present time five rooms on each floor.

Brokers are Active

The condition of the real estate and building business in the city of Lowell, as manifested by the reports of sales of the real estate brokers, and the reports of the transactions which are published on this page, appears to be most encouraging. The various contractors, also, are kept quite busy and conditions, as a whole, appear to be quite satisfactory.

Sales Reported

Abel R. Campbell, real estate and insurance broker with offices at 403-405 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending September 18th:

The sale of an eleven-room house and stable near Canton street. The house is equipped with several hardwood floors and open plumbing, bath and set tubs. The stable accommodates three horses and has a carriage room. Land to the amount of about 4000 feet will be conveyed with the house. The grantor lives out of the city and the grantee is a local party. The sale of an exceptionally well constructed two-apartment house near the Highland school. Each tenement contains eight rooms, pantry and bath. The house is heated with two steam plants and is equipped with bath, set tubs, slate roof, cement cellar and electricity. The lot contains 7000 square feet of land. This was sold to a man out of town and the grantor also resides out of the city.

Byam Bros., real estate brokers, with offices at 97 Central street, report the following sales for the week ending September 18, 1914:

Final papers have been passed on a nine-tenement block situated at Nos. 141-143 Lakeview avenue. Each tenement is entirely separate from the other, and is always rented. It brings in a total rental of $900 a year. In this transaction Arthur G. Beharrell, executor, transfers title to Mary E. Foley, who buys for investment. The purchaser will put the property in first-class renting condition in a very short time.

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices 61 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Sept. 18:

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a first-class cottage property situated near Fifth street in the Centralville section. The house has seven excellent rooms equipped with modern conveniences. The land to be conveyed approximates 4000 square feet and is laid out for the most part to an attractive garden, fruit trees and shrubbery. The sale is negotiated on behalf of a local business man buying for personal occupancy.

Also parties have been bonded on the purchase and sale of a high class parcel of business property situated near lower Westford street. The land involved in the transfer amounts to 5000 square feet and is assessed at the value of $6000. Extensive improvements will be commenced on the parcel and in the future it will be devoted exclusively to business purposes. The transfer is effected on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser buying purely for investment purposes. Full details will be given on the making of the final papers in the immediate future.

THE BEAUTIFUL HOME

Henry Tyler, a landscape gardener, contributes the following to Keltin's Magazine:

"One has said, 'A house is never a home until guarded by trees, seconded by shrubs, and tied down by vines and creepers.' This tied down is significant. A house set up in a meadow is a dreary intruder, but tie it into the meadow with proper planting and it begins to look as though it belonged there, and had a close and intimate association with the ground, thus rapidly becoming a part of it. In the planting your tree and shrubbery layout, one cannot be too careful to maintain a proper sense of proportion. One should also remember that the exterior of a home is equally as important as the interior. It is seen first and last by all the passing public. So whether your home be old or new, small or large, an attractive yard takes the leading part in making the charming home. Such a place will not only give you greater satisfaction, but will render your home more sell for more, and command a larger loan."

SOME CLOCK

After six years' work James Calway, of Skowhegan, Me., has finished a clock which is 19 in. in height and which has involved the use of more than 20,000 pieces. The clock was made entirely by hand from many different kinds of wood. The mechanism is unique in that it includes mechanical figures that march and go through evolutions at certain hours.

BEST TIME TO BUILD

In discussing the prices of building materials and the cost of labor, a writer in a recent issue of the Manufacturer, records points out that as architects and contractors have more time just now to plan and carry out the present is the time to build. The man who wants a home and has money with which to build it can do it now to better advantage than when prosperity comes and at a much lower cost and with more care and attention on the part of contractors and mechanics.

"Thousands and tens of thousands of men in this country are intending to build homes for themselves, but are waiting for what they think will be a more prosperous moment, when everybody is an optimist rather than a pessimist. When they do undertake to build, every item will cost them more, and they will find great difficulty in securing as much attention in construction work and in the equipment of their homes as could be had now. This is the time when every man who expects to build a house, a store, or an office building, if he has the money, should do it. This is the time when every manufacturing enterprise which knows that it needs new machinery or the enlargement of its plant, and has the money available, should do the work now. This is the time when our municipalities should move as vigorously as possible all of their improvements, in order to get the benefit of the lower prices of materials now prevailing as compared with boom periods. Almost over night a change in business could be brought about, if people who are able to do this building and construction work would undertake it now."

LEGAL POINT OF INTEREST

Plaintiff was in the employ of defendant as painter and decorator. He used a scaffold, consisting of a plank stretched upon ladders. Planks and ladders were furnished by defendant. There is evidence that in the course of the work it became necessary to use a plank of different length from any that had been furnished, and that defendant directed plaintiff's foreman to go to an employee of defendant in charge of another job and that such employee would furnish one. The foreman acted accordingly and the plank was so furnished. It was unfit for the purpose by reason of a knot near the center. This knot was somewhat obscured by lime, plaster and dirt. The duty of defendant to furnish suitable plank for scaffolding was also- lude, and could not be delegated. The evidence is sufficient that this plank was in contemplation of use by defendant, and that defendant was negligent in not furnishing a suitable plank. The question of whether plaintiff assumed the risk of the use of this defective plank was for the jury. The test is whether the defect was known to or plainly observable by him, and whether he understood, or by the exercise of ordinary observation ought to have understood, the risk incident to its use. In view of the manner in which this defect was obscured by lime, plaster and dirt, the question of assumption of risk was one of fact.

CLEANING WINDOWS

There are many things offered for this purpose, perhaps the simplest being to use benzine. One solution recommended for this purpose is made of benzine and burnt magnesia made to a paste-like consistency. This is spread over the glass with a wad of cotton or a soft brush, rubbing it on thoroughly and then rubbing it off again. It is supposed to take with it all the grease, paint and putty.

KING SELECTS AMERICAN STYLE

King Christian of Denmark has decided that the newest of his numerous residences shall be furnished in American style in every detail. He will not imitate the home of the American multi-millionaire. The style he has selected to copy is that of the simple and efficient equipment of the average American home. He has long been an admirer of the American arts and crafts movement, and he has insisted that his newest house, which is situated on the Skaw, will lack none of them.

ON HISTORIC GROUND

Arrangements are rapidly going forward looking to the erection of what will be New York city's most southern skyscraper. It will be a structure of considerable charm, and while not of the cloud-piercing variety, being only 12 stories in height, it will stand on historic ground at the north corner of Whitehall and State streets overlooking Battery park. The plans have been prepared by Architects Starratt & Van Vleck, Everett building, New York city, and while originally intended to be 22 stories, the design was changed in deference to the rising sentiment against buildings which shut out the light and air of their neighbors and tend to cause congestion in the streets.

Part of the site of the new structure once held the home of Peter Stuyvesant, the land then being the southernmost point of New York, and before the old governor's home stretched the upper bay with a view clear down to the Narrows. The affairs of the Dutch colony were directed from this house until the English took over Manhattan, when Governor Donkan made the Stuyvesant place his residence. Robert Fulton was a later occupant of the dwelling which replaced the Stuyvesant house. Fulton's home was right on the corner of Whitehall and State streets. Here he worked out the problems of steam navigation. John Harrison, builder of the famous Monitor, was a later tenant of the house.

The freshman class at the Lowell Normal school is the largest in the history of the school, according to the officials. Over 18 classes are represented by the 36 pupils who have registered. The senior class has a membership of 71.

A. J. Cooper Vermont Progressives' Candidate for Governor

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 18.—The progressives entered the state campaign yesterday by choosing Alexander J. Cooper of Bennington as their candidate for governor. Edward C. Crosby of Brattleboro was nominated for lieutenant governor, and Charles A. Prouty, former interstate commerce commissioner, for United States senator. The convention was attended by delegates from all parts of the state.

GOV. BALDWIN NOMINATED

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR AT DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION AT HARTFORD

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 18.—Governor Simeon E. Baldwin was nominated for United States senator at the democratic state convention here today, defeating Congressman Bryan F. Mahan of New London, 377 to 225.

The platform endorsed the administration of President Wilson and his foreign policy, with reference to Mexico and asserted that the democratic party in congress has redeemed its promises.

It endorses the administration of Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, recites democratic achievements in the state and among other things declares in favor of the short ballot, the direct primary and nomination by petition pledges the party to support the submission of a constitutional amendment enfranchising women to the vote of the state and favors legislation "that will cure the free pass evil and eliminate the professional lobbyist from legislative proceedings."

DECREASE IN STRIKES

FIGURES FOR AUGUST AND ALSO FOR EIGHT MONTHS IN THIS STATE FAR BELOW THOSE OF 1913

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Only four strikes involving 25 or more workers occurred in Massachusetts during the month of August, according to the records of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, and these four involved a total of only 183 men.

During the corresponding month last year there were 18 such strikes involving more than 1325 persons. Up to Sept. 1, 1914, the records for this year show only 82 strikes involving 25 or more workers, as against 142 up to the same date in 1913. The number of persons thrown out of employment by this year's strikes is only 9318, compared to 22,162 last year.

A SLICK CHICKEN THIEF

CONFIDENCE GAME WORKED ON WOMEN IN PAWTUCKETVILLE DISTRICT

A slick hen thief has been at work in Pawtucketville for some time and it is reported that many residents of that section of the city have been deceived by the confidence game. According to information received, the thief works his game by calling at a house where hens are kept and by informing the woman of the house that he has purchased a number of hens, specifying a certain number from the head of the family, and that he has called for his property, and every time his work has been successful.

The last to be caught by this slick thief was Mrs. Joseph Boudreau, of 886 Moody street. Thursday afternoon a man called at this woman's home and informed Mrs. Boudreau he had just paid Mr. Boudreau for two hens, and he also told her he had called for the pullets. Mrs. Boudreau doubted the man's story at first, but so assured her he was telling the truth and then he repaired to the henhouse, where he selected two of the heaviest hens and after borrowing a bag to carry the hens in, he boarded an electric car in the direction of the city. In the evening when Mr. Boudreau returned to his home he deeded having sold his hens and informed his wife she had been robbed.

The man's description as given by Mrs. Boudreau for the benefit of other hen keepers in Pawtucketville or elsewhere is as follows: Five feet and ten inches in height, and weight, about 155 pounds. The man wore a blue coat with gray trousers and a small cap. He has a smooth face and he is of good appearance.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very enjoyable birthday party was held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ryne of Linden street in honor of their daughter Florence, a popular young lady of this city, the occasion being her eighteenth birthday. During the evening a pleasing program was carried out which included piano selections by Mr. Chester Hutchison and Miss Florence Ryne. Messrs. Baldwin, Brown, Harrington, and Montgomery made quite a hit with their quartet entitled "Once in a Thousand Years," solo, Mr. John McCardie, and whistling solo, Mr. Fred Pater. Improvisations by Miss Helen Donovan; solo by Miss May Ryne, accompanied by Miss Florence Ryne; comic recitations, Miss Loretta Barry. The accompanist of the evening was Miss Catherine McLaughlin.

This hostess was the recipient of many beautiful gifts including an amethyst pendant set with diamonds. The presentation was made by Mr. Russell Merrill. Games were played and refreshments served.

VILLA

No Friction Between Him and Other Constitutional Leaders

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—General Villa sent a notice to President Wilson today denying that there was any friction between him and other constitutional leaders. From other sources came reports that Villa was loyal to Carranza. The other reports said that in some cases properties had been taken over for protection but there had been no confiscation. The general tenor of today's reports was to assure the president that order is being restored. Brig. Gen. Funston's recommendation that the evacuation of Vera Cruz be postponed until Oct. 10 was forwarded today to Secretary Garrison at San Francisco, N. J. It probably will be adopted as transportation cannot reach Vera Cruz for several days. Brig. Gen. Bliss, commanding the border patrol is completing arrangements to return to Mexican territory the 5000 Mexican soldiers and camp followers interned at Fort Wingate, N. M., and Rosencrans, Cal., since their escape to the United States after defeat by constitutionalists.

A telegram from Chaplain Joyce saying that 500 priests and nuns were destitute and would be in danger after the departure of the American troops and asking that the government support them from Vera Cruz to Galveston was taken to the White House today by Rev. Louis J. O'Hearn of the Catholic university. He received assurances that the president would consider it.

THE POSTOFFICE REFUSES

WILL NOT DELIVER MAIL MATTER UNLESS STREET AND NUMBER IS GIVEN

Although the new postal regulation requiring the name of the street and number on all mail to be delivered by carriers has not yet been received at the local postoffice, it is probable that a great many Lowell business concerns will be affected when the order is put into force. The order which was issued yesterday by First Assistant Postmaster-General Roper, directs that all mail bearing the name of the street and number of the addressee shall be placed in the general delivery to be called for in person and not delivered by carrier.

It seems that large advertising concerns in various parts of the country have made it a custom to send out thousands of letters and advertising circulars, bearing only the name and city of the addressee, leaving the postal authorities to learn the street and number of the person to whom the matter was intended.

As a result the number of clerks required for this kind of work in post offices throughout the country, especially in the large cities, is large and rapidly increasing. In order to put an end to this practice and place the cost of clerical hire for this work on the advertising houses themselves, the postal authorities decided to prohibit delivery by carrier of all mail not fully addressed. Now for the local postmaster will go in the matter is not known as to when The Sun man called at his office today.

WELCOME HOME DINNER

SECRETARY JORDAN OF UNITED IRISH LEAGUE HONORED BY FRIENDS

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—In a "welcome home" dinner to President Michael J. Jordan of the Boston central branch of the United Irish League of America at the Hotel Lenox last night some 40 officers and fellow members of the United Irish League pledged themselves to the support of John E. Redmond in his manifesto asking Irishmen to enlist in the English cause in the present war, and refused the statement of Matthew Cummings at Faneuil hall recently that the Irish would fight Great Britain on the side of Germany because of the home rule situation.

Strong addresses in support of Mr. Redmond's policy were made by Thos. B. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Jordan.

SOUTH POLAR REGION

LONDON, Sept. 18.—2.15 p. m.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, and the members of his trans-Antarctic expedition left London today in two sections for the South Polar region. One party, headed by Sir Ernest Shackleton, departed for South America, the other half of the expedition left for Ross Sea, on the New Zealand side of the Antarctic, by way of Tasmania.

Sir Ernest hopes to meet the Ross Sea contingent in April of next year, or failing that by March, 1916.

One great difficulty which confronted the expedition was the lack of scientific instruments. These had been ordered in Germany but have not been delivered because of the war.

DOMESTIC WINE TAX

More Protests Concerning it Lodged With Democrats on Ways and Means Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—More protests were lodged with the ways and means committee democrats today against the proposed tax on domestic wines in the war revenue bill but Chairman Underwood announced that there was no disposition to change the plan to taxing dry wines 12 cents a gallon and sweet wines 20 cents a gallon. Representatives of California wine growers are in Washington but so far have not had a formal hearing.

ROBBERS MADE BIG HAUL

Broke Into House, Cut Telephone Wires and Compelled Woman to Open Safe

KANKAKEE, Ill., Sept. 18.—Diamonds and jewelry valued at $60,000 were obtained here today by five masked robbers at the home of Mrs. Nellie Clark.

The robbers broke into the house, cut the telephone wires and compelled Mrs. Clark to open the safe. They then bound her and Margie Miller, her companion, took the jewels and drove away in an automobile.

When Mrs. Clark freed herself she tried to telephone the police but found that the wires were cut. She then directed her chauffeur to follow the robbers. He followed their tracks to the outskirts of Moneague and found a machine overturned and abandoned in a cornfield. The robbers are said to be surrounded by a posse.

IN EVERS AND MARANVILLE STALLINGS HAS STAR GUARDIANS ON KEYSTONE BAG

MARANVILLE ♦ ♦ ♦ STALLINGS ♦ ♦ ♦ EVERS ♦ ♦

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—No championship baseball club has ever been organized that did not have a star combination around second base. The keystone sack must be guarded by a second baseman and a shortstop who are always alert and on the job and who understand each other and who play together without having to hold conferences and postmortems. Johnny Evers, who made his reputation as a member of the "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination that pulled off so many double plays for the Chicago Cubs, is just as good as he ever was and is a trifle better so far as brain work is concerned. Maranville, who is almost as big as the bag boy, also has baseball sense, and a good many critics regard him as the best shortstop in the National league. Whether or not he is the best, he is just about good enough, and if he has any shortcomings they are not noticeable when Evers is there to help him out.

MEETS THE CITY CHIEFS

O'KEEFE ENTERS UPON DUTIES OF NEW POSITION OF FIRE PREVENTION COMMISSIONER

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Fire Prevention Commissioner John A. O'Keefe yesterday entered upon the duties of this new office, which was created by an act of this year's legislature. Commissioner O'Keefe will for the present occupy rooms 425 and 426 of the state house. His office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day but Saturday and on that day from 9 a. m. to noon. The commissioner started right in yesterday in carrying out the plan he had outlined, when first appointed and before he qualified, of inviting chiefs of fire departments of the Metropolitan district to call upon him and describe existing conditions in their respective cities and towns.

Chief Rich of the Somerville fire department and Chief Bunker of the Cambridge department were callers yesterday. Other chiefs will be invited daily to confer until the commissioner has heard from the heads of the fire departments all over the Metropolitan district.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE DEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Frank Leslie (the business de Fazio) died last night in her apartments in an uptown hotel here. She was a widow of Frank Leslie, the publisher, who died in 1880, and has herself since been prominent in the publishing world.

HER LAST WISH FULFILLED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The last wish of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was fulfilled today when the senate passed the house bill eliminating the crowded dwellings in the alleys of Washington, the shams of the city. The bill was the result of Mrs. Wilson's investigation and now goes to the president for his signature.

AMENDMENTS TO BANK LAW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Amendments to the bank law liberalizing the reserve requirements and extending the redemption facilities of member banks were passed today by the senate and now await action by the house.

WELCOME HOME

Anything that concerns a school teacher in a city such as Lowell interests a great many people, and undoubtedly in the masses of our citizens are hundreds who without knowing the members of the Owen-Killpatrick parties personally, hoped for their safe return from the war-torn fields of Europe and rejoiced to read that they are back to their duties with ripened experience and with gladdened hearts.

Had our travellers anticipated the terrors that lay in wait for the countries they were to visit they would certainly have postponed their tour until a more auspicious season, but now as they look back they have good reason to rejoice at an experience which will give them a larger outlook on life for the future and which will enable them to more truly interpret the spirit of history and to make geography lessons more realistic. They have learned a great deal that they may impart, but above all, they have learned to love and regard their own country and its institutions with a greater love than they had previously known.

In their visits to the cities of Italy with their wonderful churches, museums, squares, monuments and palaces, they have come to regard the races whose descendants will flock to them in American schools for instruction. They have been the folly of sectional patronage towards those who have such a marvellous heritage of art and beauty. In the glories of olden Athens they must have felt the thrill of the storied times of Greek magnificence and treasured up mental pictures that will illuminate many a classic page in the long evenings of American winters.

But they have learned something more vital than all this. With terrible directness has been borne in upon them the horror and misery of war—that barbaric injustice against which the peoples of all nations are rising up in disgust. In a little Austrian mountain town in its setting of jeweled loveliness they went through winding streets that echoed only to the footsteps of boys, women and old men; they saw with their own eyes the tragic pity of it. All the men between the ages of 20 and 42 had been sent to the front and the women waited in salient resignation for the second call which would enroll the men from 42 to 70. There was poverty and suffering in plenty, but it was war.

It is to the credit of our Lowell teachers and their friends that they acknowledge a debt of gratitude to the American consuls and other government representatives who are striving so hard to lighten the load of returning American tourists. The testimony of a school teacher carries more weight than that of most individuals and when they so generously praise the efforts of their government, there is a feeling of gratification in the acknowledgment for all Americans who are not warped in judgment by petty prejudices. Our Lowell school teachers who have experienced so much of interest have shown a fine spirit and Lowell cordially welcomes them home to their labors of usefulness.

ATTEND THE PRIMARIES

All citizens of whatever class or political creed should without exception attend the primaries next Tuesday and vote for the most desirable candidates for office. Even should an individual feel no special interest in any of the aspirants he ought to remember that it is a strictly American duty and that he is grossly neglecting that duty if through sloth or indifference he stays away from the ballot box. It is most essential that he vote well but it is certainly to be desired that he vote, however his fancy may dictate his choice of men.

They who take no part in the nomination of candidates who will be voted upon in the fall election have no cause for complaint if the popular decision is unfavorable to their desires, for they have forgotten a principle which is greater than any candidate. There is no excuse for the pessimistic individual who professes disgust at politics generally and remains away from the polls. In the list of candidates for offices he must surely have a political or merely personal preference and he is not doing his duty to his state or city if he ignores the claims and demands of his citizenship. The victory that is won by any party because of a slight vote is won dearly, and it would be far better for the people generally that we have a large vote, whatever the consequences to any particular party.

The Lowell democrats need have no apprehension about the results if they individually resolve to go to the polls and vote for their most representative candidates. The Sun does not propose to dictate a particular choice where more than one democrat aspires to office, but it urges on all democrats that they weigh fitness above personality and decide with an eye to the future rather than with the intention of placing anybody in a good position. The Maine election is a pretty good straw to indicate which way the wind is blowing and Lowell will do its part in swelling the democratic majorities if it considers the achievements of the democratic party in federal and state government and picks worthy democratic candidates to contest the various political offices in the near future.

FRENCH THRIFT

The recent speech of Lloyd George of England advertising to the "silver bullet" drew international interest to the respective resources of the various countries engaged in war and emphasized the part national thrift plays in a long conflict. It is noteworthy in this connection that France has long been a synonym for thrift. Recent investigators declare that its reputation is richly deserved and they have called attention to some of the phases of government conservation and guidance which has made thrift a national trait of the French people.

The individual is thrifty in France and the state pays a premium to encourage the characteristic, according to the published opinions of President S. W. Straus of the American Society for Thrift who made a four month study of thrift in its foreign aspect. He found that the government gives awards and prizes to school children in the form of small bank deposits which grow to a large amount by the time the child has reached maturity. The state is empowered to transfer these savings banks' deposits into interest-bearing bonds.

"The people of France live on small farms and draw small incomes but they spend in proportion to their incomes and they manage to make a consistent saving of some part of their wages. Collectively their bank accounts have a great influence on financial Europe. Out of 12,500,000 savings bank depositors in 1900 over fifty per cent had less than $4 to their credit in the saving banks, but this is an indication of prosperity when it represents the poorer classes throughout the country. The American spirit is to ignore small savings until the individual can save larger amounts, but this eventually leads to general poverty and distress. The lesson of French thrift is a lesson that reaches down to our very poorest citizens.

What is needed here is the realization that no one can be prepared for the future who does not live within his resources. In a desire for all which money can buy most people throw thrift to the winds and live their lives a day at a time, forgetful of the future and indifferent to its hardships.

WAR DURATION

On what seems like rather weak grounds many American papers incline to the view that the Kaiser is open to offers of peace but there is little on which to base conviction or hope. His alleged withdrawal from the conflict is hedged round with so many conditions that it will take a few big battles to clear the air and open negotiations for even the preliminaries of an armistice. It would be presumptuous to base the German attitude on their recent reverses, for they have by no means exhausted their resources, though the moral effect of their retreat before the allies must have been damaging. The attitude of Italy, too, tends towards German dissatisfaction, and indeed will awake but slight admiration at the present time anywhere. Far different from the hazy sentiments attributed to the Kaiser is the declaration of Earl Kitchener to the effect that the war is likely to be long and that a great army will still be required in active service. There is no reason to alter the first opinion that the war will be to the death, and if it is to come to a speedy end it will be only after such a surrender on the part of one side as will ensure to the other the same results as an overwhelming victory.

AMONG THE TOILERS

The Bay State mills are starting up and will soon be running in full.

John Hudson, formerly employed at the Northern Woolen Co., has accepted a position at the Saco-Lowell shops.

G. W. Osborn, master mechanic at the Bigelow Carpet Co., has severed his connections with that company.

B. H. Marcotte of the Lawrence Mfg. Co.'s baseball team should be one of those to enter the basketball arena this winter.

Frank Hannigan of the Northern Woolen Co., an accomplished musician, has entertained his friends in style last evening.

William Merritt, formerly employed at the U. S. Cartilage Co., has accepted a position with Curtis & Spillane, plumbers.

James Mullin of the Bigelow Carpet Co., has returned from a two weeks' trip to Burlington, Vt., where he visited relatives.

John Walsh of the U. S. Runtine Co., attracted much attention by his clever demonstration of the various dance steps last evening.

James Cooney, Jr., employed at the Saco-Lowell shops has closed up his camp at Silver Lake for the season and has moved into the city.

J. E. Ashton of the Spinners' union who was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the union last evening, has been an active worker in the labor movement for a great many years.

James J. Donnelly, president of the Leather Workers' union has been chosen as a delegate to attend the state conference of the American Federation of Labor in Boston next week.

The unions in Lowell have made great progress so far this year and the various leaders predict even more in the coming future. The movement is growing gradually.

Peter Touhey of the Mass mills has taken up his post in Lowell, and will in all probability be seen on the mat in this city in the near future.

H. L. Bishop, who has been employed for some time by the Bigelow Carpet Co. in the capacity of paymaster, has resigned his position with that company.

Jack Demarais of the Tremont and Suffolk has resigned his position at the mill to accept more lucrative employment in a down street business office.

Charles Farrell's Tremont & Suffolk baseball team is the runner up to the Lawrence history in the mill league. This team has been very successful.

Spinnery Elect Officers
The members of the Spinners union gathered in Trades & Labor hall in Middlesex street last evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: D. H. Moran, president; Arthur Simpson, vice president; J. E. Ashton, secretary-treasurer; Michael Logan, auditor; Henry Sisman, sergeant-at-arms. Considerable routine business was transacted and four new members were admitted. Many communications from foreign locals were read and turned over to the secretary. Several members made interesting and instructive remarks on the good of the union, and they were listened to attentively. The secretary's report showed the union, which is one of the oldest in Lowell, to be in a flourishing financial condition. After the business session, the rest of the evening was spent in a social hour and was much enjoyed.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and lay such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case.
Providence, R.I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABIGAIL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R.I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

LATE WAR NEWS

LOSS OF LIFE IN PRESENT WAR IS GREATEST ON RECORD—GREAT HEROISM

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The official communications issued thus far have neglected the question of losses, which in a fight such as the battle of the Marne, covering a front of 130 miles, are almost impossible to estimate, even approximately.

Some unofficial reports have placed the Allies' losses at 50,000 and those of the Germans at 100,000 in the series of engagements comprised in the great clash of arms. How near these figures are to the truth no one will know.

The official figures are compiled, however, the impression derived from individual accounts of wounded soldiers and from the prisoners, the only unofficial sources of information at present, would indicate that these estimates are conservative.

Some certainly are the greatest on record, and perhaps the proportion for the Germans is greater than two to one in dead, at least.

If the press bureau communications are silent on this subject the order of the day for the army gives eloquent hints of sacrifices made to gain advantage and shows how murderous modern warfare and how regardless of personal safety are the officers and men. The latest order, given out last night, is full of deeds of the greatest heroism and at the same time indicates what the cost was of the recent successes and previous reverses.

Lieutenant Naquet, of the 25th Infantry of reservists, is among those mentioned for bravery. Although wounded, he continued the energetic direction of his company, of which all the officers in his section had been killed or wounded.

Adjutant-General Dute of the 65th Infantry, led his section on under the most violent fire until all his men were wounded. Then he grabbed a gun from one of his soldiers, and while the section retired, continued firing until he was killed by a fragment of shell.

For the great portion of French officers killed or wounded two explanations are given—the zeal of the officers and the order given to the German riflemen to pick them out.

Besides those already named, yesterday's order mentions General Mangin, who achieved fame in the Moroccan campaign. General Bataille, who was killed on September 8 after showing the most bravery and sangfroid; Belgrand of Dragons Volontaires, who was mortally wounded by a shell, cried as he fell: "Vive la France; I die for her; I am satisfied" and died trying to sing the Marseillaise; and Lieut. Blanc, of the staff of the Havas Agency, mentioned for brilliant conduct in battle on August 23.

CORRESPONDENT AT ROTTERDAM

DESCRIBES VISIT OF EMPEROR WILLIAM TO SON

LONDON, Sept. 18, 2.30 a. m.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Rotterdam telegraphs that despatches from Virm, near Longwy, describe a visit of Emperor William to his wounded son, Oscar, at that place. The visit was a surprise and the emperor, who had been in the city, came to see his son, who was lying in a hospital.

SIX PERSONS WERE KILLED

And Fifteen Others Seriously Injured in Train Wreck Near Livingston, Ala., Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 18.—Six persons were killed and 15 seriously injured today when a passenger train of the Alabama & Great Southern railroad was derailed at Klondike Switch, one mile west of Livingston, Ala.

All of the dead were passengers. The engineer is said to have been probably fatally injured. The engine was derailed at a switch, swerved and crashed into a gondola loaded with slag which was standing on a sidetrack. The mail and baggage car, two coaches and three sleepers were wrecked. Three other sleepers remained on the track. Fewer passengers than usual were in the sleepers.

Switch Tampered With
Bloodhounds have been sent to the scene of the accident. Railroad officials believe the switch was tampered with and an effort will be made to trail the alleged wreckers.

TRAGEDY IN CLIFTON

Candy Salesman Killed Mrs. Laura Guild of Somerville and Then Committed Suicide

CLIFTON, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Laura Guild of Somerville was shot and killed today by Bertram G. Lawton, a candy salesman of Salem, who immediately committed suicide. It was stated that Lawton had been paying attention to Mrs. Guild.

Mrs. Guild had been living at the Frazer cottage with her little son and Lawton is said to have been a frequent visitor this summer.

He met Mrs. Guild this noon as she was going to lunch and fired five shots at her, three of which took effect. She was dead when a physician reached the scene. Lawton coolly reloaded the revolver and then, stepping back into a field beside the road ended his own life with a bullet through the heart.

Mrs. Guild came here from her father's home in Somerville, where she had been spending a few days in an automobile owned by Peter Supernault of Keene, N. H. Mrs. Bawhelen, a sister of Mrs. Guild, was also in the car. The party reached the house where Mrs. Guild's little girl was stopping and Mrs. Guild had just passed the little one to her sister when Lawton stepped up and tried to engage her in conversation.

Mrs. Guild would not talk to Lawton, who, it is alleged, drew a revolver and fired at her.

Before he could be overpowered Lawton stepped back to the side of the road and shaking out the empty shells re-loaded the revolver and ended his own life.

On his body were several letters, one of which directed that the revolver should be returned to E. M. Converse at Salem and another addressed to his wife who was stopping with her children at Portsmouth, N. H.

J. HENRY ROBINSON HAS NOT BEEN MUCH OF A STAR WITH THE CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—J. Henry Robinson, the pitcher who came to the Cardinals as a part of the big trade with the Pirates last winter, has not been much of a star with the St. Louis team, but at that he has been about as valuable as Bob Harmon, the former Cardinal who went to Pittsburgh in the same trade. Robinson has recently shown more "stuff" than early in the season, and with double headers coming along frequently he is likely to be used oftener by Manager Huggins.

A PRAYER FOR PEACE

CANADIAN RELIGIOUS SOCIETY WILL OBSERVE DAY OF SPECIAL PRAYER

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—It was announced here yesterday that the Canadian council of the Layman's Missionary Movement would do what it could to further the plan of President Wilson for observing Sunday, Oct. 4 as a day of special prayer for peace.

An interesting resolution touching upon the whole religious aspect of the war which was passed by the council was given out as follows:

"The Canadian Council of the Layman's Movement recognizes that Christianity is now on trial both at home and among the non-Christian peoples of the earth; that the present war is a most serious challenge to the Christian faith, and to the supremacy of the Prince of Peace. Unless the church meets this challenge with courage and self-sacrifice and triumphs over all difficulties, she will lose her claim to moral and spiritual leadership among the nations of the earth.

"In view of this grave crisis, its effect upon Christian missions and the embarrassment of the work of continental missionary societies through the ravages of the present war, a peculiar responsibility rests upon the churches of North America to assist in meeting the situation, by not only maintaining their present work at home and abroad, at its highest efficiency, but by strengthening this work in every possible direction. Years of astounding material prosperity in Canada have turned the thoughts of many men away from the supreme claims of religion. The present serious attitude of mind on the part of our people, brought about by the war, presents the church with one of her commanding opportunities to rally all Christian forces in support of a movement for quickening the spiritual life at home, and for the world-wide extension of the kingdom of the Prince of Peace.

"The Canadian council urges upon

IS A GREAT FIGHTER—THEY CALL HIM THE "KITCHENER OF FRANCE"

General Paul Pau is called the "Kitchener of France." This is a new picture of this great French fighter. He has been in active service practically all his life. In the Franco-Prussian war he lost his right arm. In the present war the movements of his troops have been fast, and he has figured in much of the hardest fighting. Many consider Pau the biggest figure in the war on the allies' side.

RAILROAD COMPANY FINED
PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 18.—Fines aggregating $3700 were imposed on the Bangor and Aroostook railroad by Judge Hale in the United States district court yesterday, for alleged violation of the "hours of labor" act. It was claimed by the government that a number of trainmen and telegraphers employed by the road were required to remain on duty beyond the time specified by law, and that no report was made of the overworking of the employees. The defense was that if such violation of the law did occur, it was during a strike and under conditions over which there was no control.

GEO. CHARRETTE DETAINED

Was Expected in July Under Retirement—Is Probably Detained With Navy in Orient

Mr. and Mrs. Alexandre Charrette of 55 Goshorn avenue, are anxiously awaiting news from their son, George, chief gunner aboard the U. S. S. Farallone, who left Lowell for China some three years ago. As a rule Mr. Charrette writes to his parents about twice a month, but it is now several months since the last letter was received from him, and it is probable that he is in China at the present time, where the Japanese are rather hated. Mr. and Mrs. Charrette are very anxious to receive news from their son.

It was expected that George would be in Lowell by this time, for he was to be retired from duty last July, when his 15 years' service came to a close, and it is stated he had made plans to leave Lowell in this city, for which he always had a great pride. Some of Mr. Charrette's relatives believe he is on his way home and they expect him any moment, but others, under the impression that he is being detained in China by the United States government, where his services are very valuable in protecting American rights.

George Charrette, who is now 42 years of age, entered the service of

THE SOUTH END CLUB

WELL KNOWN ORGANIZATION WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING ON SUNDAY

The annual meeting of the South End club will be held Sunday afternoon at the club's quarters in Goshorn street and it bids fair to be a most important and interesting session. Annually since the organization and incorporation of this club, the September meeting has always been attended with many interesting incidents, the officers giving to the members a resume of the work of the club, the financial standing, and the plans of the officers for the coming year.

Pres. Thomas H. Donoghue will preside, submitting his report which will undoubtedly be replete with interesting facts and not a few figures. Treasurer John A. Dulan, the official custodian of the coffers of the organization, will submit a report of the financial condition of the club, which is said to be in splendid shape. After the reading of the reports, under new business, nominations for officers will take place, and the election subsequently will be marked by many a contest, friendly of course, for from time immemorial the loyalty of the South End boys, one to another, forms one of the bright, particular spots in the life and aspirations of that section.

Owing to her youth and her short term of teaching, Miss Riley deserves great credit for a promotion which attests her unusual ability.

WILL OF SAMUEL EMERY

SENT TO SUPERIOR COURT TO DETERMINE QUESTION OF UNDER INFLUENCE

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—The contest over the will of Samuel W. Emery of Portsmouth, N. H., who left his property, valued at $50,000, to his second wife, cutting off a son and two daughters by his first wife, was today sent to the superior court for a jury trial to determine the question of alleged undue influence.

The supreme court decided that Mr. Emery was a resident of Boston but left the question of undue influence to a jury. The case is expected to be reached early in the winter.

TOY PLANT BURNED

DETROIT, Sept. 18.—The toy manufacturing plant of the Toy Makers, Inc., was destroyed by fire with a loss of $50,000 today. The fire originated has not been determined.

Mrs. Robert E. Stratton and son, Harold, have returned to Lowell after spending a very pleasant vacation with her brother, Mr. R. B. O'Neil, and sister, Mrs. W. M. O'Neil, of Utica, N. Y. Mrs. Stratton also visited her mother, at West Chazy, N. Y., and her brothers in Burlington, Vermont.

NEW HAVEN CHANGES

SANFORD NAMED PURCHASING AGENT FOR TROLLEY COMPANIES, GIVING EXPERIENCE

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad has announced that, following out its policy of curtailing expenses, H. A. Sanford, director of purchases, will hereafter purchase all supplies for the road, and J. H. Sanford, formerly purchasing agent of the road, has been appointed purchasing agent for the Connecticut company, the Housatonic Power company, the Berkshire Street Railway company and the Westport Water company.

It is also stated that the appointment of a purchasing agent for the trolley companies is the last step in giving these companies a complete organization of their own, independent in every respect of the New Haven road. Mr. Sanford's headquarters will be in New Haven.

At a meeting of the directors of the Central New England railroad in New York yesterday the resignation of James H. Husted as director and vice president was accepted. Mr. Husted had been elected president of the Boston & Maine railroad in his place was elected J. M. Tomlinson, general auditor of the New Haven road.

A report made at the meeting of the New Haven directors stated that the interstate commerce commission hoped to begin its valuation work on the New Haven road on April 1. It was asserted that the road had all its data ready and preparations made so that the commission would be able to proceed promptly.

The New Haven directors authorized the appropriation of about $55,000 for improvements in the signal system in the vicinity of New Haven. A contract with a power company was approved which will enable the amount of electric train traffic in the Central New York and New York to be materially increased.

WHEREAS PATRICK KENNEDY?

A telegram was received at the police station this morning from Waterbury, Conn., addressed to Patrick Kennedy of Lowell in care of the chief of police. The message stated that John Kennedy died suddenly yesterday in Waterbury and was signed by Raymond Kennedy, who evidently did not know the location of his brother Patrick. The police have been unable to locate Patrick Kennedy, although he is supposed to reside here and to be a brother of deceased.

Directory publishers in Boston and other New England cities have arranged with Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade to supply the local board with a directory of each city in New England. A consignment of the books has already arrived at the board rooms in the Central block and others are expected shortly. The directories will be used for reference and advertising purposes.

SEVERAL LIVES WERE LOST

As Result of Collision Between
Two Steamers on St. Lawrence River

QUEBEC, Sept. 18.—The Canadian government steamer Montmagny was sunk in the St. Lawrence river 26 miles from Quebec at 5 o'clock this morning in collision with the Dominion Coal Co. steamer Linsan in a fog. The crash occurred one mile below Crane Island.

Second Officer Lachance of the Montmagny was among those who perished. He died with two children in his arms in an heroic attempt to rescue them. The children likewise perished.

Mrs. Lavallee, wife of the lighthouse keeper at Flower Island, and her four children also were lost.

Mrs. Richards, wife of a lighthouse keeper at Belle Island, and her seven children were aboard the Montmagny. How many of them were saved was not known this morning.

Survivors of the crash were picked up by the steam tug Potana and taken to Grosse Ile. The government boat Alice was ordered to bring them from Grosse Ile to Quebec, also the bodies of two babies who were drowned.

The Montmagny was on her way from Quebec to the Straits of Belle Isle, N. F. She had aboard a cargo of coal and provisions for wireless stations and signal service stations along the coast.

HIGH SCHOOL HOT AIR

Com. Donnelly Will Put in Indirect System—Treasurer Stiles Gets
No Bids on Property

After all the talk that has been made about the heating system of the Varnum property in Kirk street, which is being converted into an annex for the high school, the trip of city officials to Boston to confer with the chief of the state police and the efforts of certain parties to have the state law abolished for this particular case, it is very probable that an indirect heating system will be installed in the property as requested by law. The matter of deciding whether the law should be suspended for the city of Lowell was left to the state inspectors and they have not as yet reported.

Be that as it may, Commissioner Donnelly of the public buildings department is tired of all this talk and conferences, and he will make plans for the installation of an indirect heating system. Of course it will cost the city more money, but the commissioner feels that it would be proper for city officials to have a state law amended for a city's benefit.

The Varnum property is now equipped with a direct heating system for four rooms and the cost of installing connections for the other four rooms of the building would cost approximately $300, but the state law says that an indirect heating system is required for all school buildings and that settles the matter, and a new system is likely to be installed at a cost of about $3000.

Commissioner Donnelly says it would be useless to make plans for a direct system, for he has assurances that plans will not be accepted by the state inspectors unless they call for an indirect system. Mr. Donnelly said there is no use in going to the expense of drawing out plans if they are not accepted. He also stated that there is no delay as far as his department is concerned for his plans will be ready in time, and in the meantime the work of changing over the building is being rushed along.

Precedent Officers

"The councilman's chamber was last night the scene of a very large gathering when the precinct inspectors, 200 strong out of the 304 who were recently appointed by Commissioner Brown, met to receive instructions as to their work from City Clerk Flynn.

The main floor as well as the gallery was well taken up and the meeting was a most interesting one for Mr. Flynn dealt with the duties of the wardens and the inspectors, quoting the law in many instances and he made things very clear for his listeners. Mr. Flynn urged the officers to report at 11:45 o'clock at the coming primaries so as to be ready to open the polls on time and he also spoke on the duties of a warden. He said he has found many cases where a man would be sworn in by the warden as to his enrollment and he said this is against the law for no warden has the power to take the oath of a voter as to his party designation, but instead the party should be sent to city hall to the office of the registrars of voters.

TAPPINGS HEARD IN MINE

Where Miners are Entombed — Rescue Gangs Tunneling Way to Their Rescue

EUREKA, Utah, Sept. 19.—Tappings were heard early today from the Oklahoma slope of the Centennial-Eureka mine where ten of the miners caught in a cave-in Thursday are entombed. Working in hourly shifts, rescue gangs are tunneling their way to the spot from which the tappings come.

Those in charge of the rescue party say they will have a way cleared to the miners some time today, but they gave no hope of reaching the buried men in time to save their lives.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE EDWARD D. ROBBINS

BOSTON CENTRAL BRANCH CHOOSES DELEGATES TO THE CONVENTION

The Boston Central branch of the United Irish League met last night at the American house to select delegates to the convention to be held in New York on Sept. 30. President Michael J. Jordan presided.

In opening the meeting Mr. Jordan referred to what had been accomplished by the nationalist party, and brought out the fact that the delay of operation of the home rule bill was at the request of the Irish leaders, so that they could have ample time to prepare for the opening of the parliament in Dublin.

Triumphs were paid to the memory of many men who had worked for the cause in past years but who have died. Hon. Augustine J. Daly presented the following resolutions, which were adopted by a unanimous vote:

"It is with a sense of profound pleasure that we, the members of the Boston Central branch of the United Irish League of America, gather together tonight. We have today witnessed the signing of the new charter of Irish independence.

"We recognize that the days of discord and bitterness have passed forever. We know that a new and peaceful era has opened for Ireland. We know that home rule parliament will be a reality, and that Ireland will be peaceful, contented, free and independent.

Independence Won
"In the struggle for our national rights the Irish people have never made any distinction of creed or class. The party which has won the greatest triumph is composed of men of various religious beliefs.

"The members of this body have ever followed in the footsteps of their leaders and Irishmen of all beliefs in Ireland, America, Canada and Australia have joined hands in harmony to effect the great climax of centuries of domination. The work of ages has been accomplished, the legislative independence of Ireland is won.

"Therefore, we, the members of the Central branch, with a sense of the fullest gratitude, offer to our great leader, John B. Redmond, the Irish people and the Irish party, our most sincere congratulations on the happy achievement of home rule for Ireland.

"Resolved, That we cordially express to the democracy of Great Britain our appreciation of the services which have been rendered to the cause of Ireland by the friends of liberty in England, Scotland and Wales.

"Resolved, That we tender to the press and people of Boston of all creeds and beliefs our thanks for the sympathy which they have rendered to us in our efforts to accomplish the freedom of our native land."

SENATE TRIES TO BREAK

STUBBORN FILIBUSTER

Against River and Harbor Bill—The Sergeant at Arms Directed to Request Attendance of All Senators Now Out of the City

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Through a dreary, continuous session, the senate today dragged its weary way in an effort to break the stubborn filibuster against the river and harbor bill conducted by Senators Burton and Kenyon and other opponents of the measure. It had been an all night session. Democratic leaders of the senate, ably supported in point of numbers, had brought to bear every parliamentary check they could find in an effort to break the continuous flow of river and harbor information imparted by Senator Burton. Matching parliamentary strategy by strategy, Senator Burton, however, held the floor and spoke sometimes to an almost empty chamber, and whenever he could, to full attendance by a carefully engineered demand for a quorum.

Several times a roll call failed to bring enough senators to do business and a squad of deputy sergeants-at-arms, bearing writs of arrest, started in taxicabs to bring in the absent members. Senator Lewis, the democratic whip, was the first brought in. He was hurried from his bed at the army and navy club by a deputy after the latter had threatened club attendants with arrest because of their alleged refusal to permit the senator to be disturbed.

Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, reported to the senate, some time after a quorum had been secured, that he had been arrested and had promised the sergeant-at-arms to hurry to the senate in order to avoid being brought in by the arm.

Senator Burton Takes Floor
Senator Burton took the floor shortly before six o'clock last night after the democrats had determined on a continuous session. Despite all efforts to dislodge him, he continued to talk and shortly after midnight the lack of a quorum caused the ordering of writs of arrest. He had an hour and a half of rest while the majority of the senate was herded into the chamber and then resumed, his voice a trifle husky but still strong. During his resting spells, the senator discarded his frock coat for an alpaca house jacket and had dozed bedroom slippers. Thus attired, he nodded up and down, pointer in hand, before a series of charts which he had placed on the wall of the senate chamber.

Half a dozen senators formed the audience then, and one of them Senator Yandaman, was stretched out on a couch in the rear of the chamber. The cloakrooms and nearby committee rooms were filled with slumbering senators awaiting the summons of the quorum bell. In the interval, while they waited for the sergeant-at-arms to gather in a quorum, the chamber was almost deserted. Half a dozen senators gathered about Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who told funny stories. Senator Ashurst, who then occupied the chair, was forced to call Senator Williams to order for whistling "How dry I am" in the chamber. Senator Burton betook himself to a couch in the cloakroom to rest.

Dawn Dims the Lights

Altogether Senator Burton and his aides, Senators Kenyon and Smoot, forced nine calls before dawn dimmed the lights in the senate chamber. Just as day broke the democrats forced Senator Burton from the floor on the contention that he had already made two speeches on the pending bill in a single legislative day, the limit fixed by rule. Senator Burton, however, immediately presented a motion to immediately send the bill back to committee, and began one of his allotted speeches on that motion.

Shortly after 6 o'clock, when Senator Burton had occupied the floor more than 12 hours, Senator Kenyon relieved him and immediately succeeded in forcing a roll call on a point of quorum.

During the long wait to get senators to the chamber, Senator Ramsdell proposed that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to request the attendance of all senators now out of the city, as earlier orders had applied only to those in Washington. The order was agreed to after Senator Kenyon made an unsuccessful attempt to secure an amendment exempting senators engaged in political campaigns. When he quit talking, Senator Burton left the chamber to get some sleep.

Looks Like Big Fight

About nine o'clock this morning a few senators returned from their homes. A deputy sergeant at arms reported that the only absent senator who had refused to obey the order for attendance was William Alden Smith of Michigan. When awakened at his home by the officer Senator Smith declared he would not respond because he had learned that a quorum was present and his presence was not imperative.

On motion of Senator Simons four additional assistant sergeants at arms were appointed and directed to again scour the city for senators who had responded to calls during the night but had again disappeared.

Majority leader Kern returned after a brief rest and Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee took up the task of presiding officer.

Senator Burton, refreshed by one hour's sleep and some coffee and eggs, returned to the chamber about the same time Senator Smith arrived and made his peace with the sergeant at arms.

"Handicapped as we are, we will fight on all day, all night, and Sunday if necessary," Senator Burton said.

Senator Bristow is away. Senator Norris sick and Senator Borah is not here but, said Burton, "I'm still on my feet and I am going back to take up the struggle."

FOR AN IRISH BRIGADE

Even Wm. O'Brien Joins Demonstration in Cork in Response to Redmond's Appeal for Recruits

DUBLIN, Ireland, Sept. 19.—For the first time on record followers of John E. Redmond and William O'Brien have joined in a popular demonstration. This occurred at Mill street, County Cork, and the cause was rejoicing over the passage of the Home Rule bill. Headed by an "All for Ireland" band a battalion of volunteers paraded the streets. Speeches were delivered by local leaders who exhorted the volunteers to join the Irish brigade and at once tender their services to the war office. O'Brien has been the bitterest opponent and assailant of Mr. Redmond in the past.

fects much credit on the hospitality of the committee in charge.

In the early part of the evening a concert program which included selections by the orchestra, solos by J. F. Roane, Charles F. Carey and Misses Katherine Mullen and Vera Moody, was given and very much appreciated by the audience. Miss Lulu Ginty served as accompanist. From nine o'clock until midnight dancing was indulged in.

The following officers and committees are responsible for the success of the event:

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF A CHOICE BUILDING LOT ON THE WEST SIDE OF WENTWORTH AVENUE, IN THE OAKLANDS

ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26th, 1914, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

The owner of the above lot has instructed me to sell at public auction to whomsoever will bid the most, one of the finest building lots in that beautiful residential section of Belvidere known as the Oaklands.

The lot has a frontage on Wentworth avenue of 83 feet, and a total area of 14,378 square feet; it has sewer, gas and electricity; the street has recently been newly macadamized.

This is a splendid chance for anyone thinking of erecting a home to purchase a lot in a strictly home locality, and one that is rapidly growing, and also a location that will remain exclusively residential.

If you are looking for a choice lot at your own price, attend this sale. Terms: $75 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as struck off.

AWFUL TRAIN WRECK IN MISSOURI CLAIMS TWENTY-SEVEN LIVES; CARS ARE SUBMERGED

FRISCO TRAIN WRECK NEAR LEBANON, MO.

Plunging into a lake that had been formed over the tracks by a cloudburst, two cars of the westbound Texas Limited train on the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad were submerged near Lebanon, Mo. Twenty-seven persons died, many of them being drowned, and eighteen were injured when the smoking car and one chair car toppled into the water. "My train was going a little more than fifteen miles an hour," said the engineer, O'Brien, afterward. "The rain had been terrific. I was running along very cautiously, knowing the nature of the region we were traversing. As I rounded the curve just east of a twelve foot fill that had been made in a gully, I found myself face to face with a lake. There evidently had been a cloudburst, which filled the hollow on either side of the tracks and covered the rails as well. I applied the brakes, but we struck the water full force. The engine rocked along through the lake, lurching perilously. It seemed the wheels never could keep to the weakened tracks, but we kept rolling on until we began to clear the deeper stretches of the water. Just when the chair and smoking cars got into the middle of the lake the coupling with the Pullman in the rear parted, and they went over into the water. The chair car was entirely submerged and the smoking car almost so." Ninety-nine persons, including the crew, were on the train, but the attempts to the injured to rescue those in the derelict cars met with little success. There were no lights, and assistance could not be summoned because the heavy storm had blown down the telephone and telegraph wires.

REAR OF BATTLE FRONT SCARRED WITH GRAVES

Of Thousands Whose Lives Have Been Sacrificed—British and French Admit it Will Take Almost Superhuman Effort to Turn the Tide—Germans Not Abashed at Tremendous Losses

REAR OF BATTLE FRONT

LONDON, Sept. 19.—If reliance can be placed on British and French assertions that the right wing of the Germanic horde which stretches across northeastern France is slowly yielding, then the battle of the Aisne seems likely to follow the course of the battle of the Marne, for there it was the German right first fell back across the river.

Along the 150 mile front, the rear of which is scarred with graves of thousands whose lives already have been sacrificed, two armies comprising millions of nerve-wracked men rapidly approaching a stage of exhaustion and standing in trenches deep with water, wait an opportunity to drive a wedge through the opposing line and thus end the terrible strain which must last so long as Emperor William's troops hold their now strongly entrenched positions and so long as the allied forces can face the murderous hail of projectiles from the hidden batteries of their opponents.

Both the British and the French admit that it will take almost a superhuman effort to turn the tide, the strength of the German position being emphasized in almost every despatch from the front.

Those in London closely following the war have the chief hope of the allies in a possible envelopment of the German right wing under General Von Kluck, who has heretofore shown himself a master of strategy. Renewed activity on the part of the allied cavalry and a significant movement of the allied troops to the north and west of the German line of communication together with a possible advance of fresh allied troops from the north through Amiens, gives expression to these hopes.

A fact which stands out among the varied accounts of the hostilities is the utter prodigality with which the Germans throw forward man after man in close formation in an attempt to carry a position. The tremendous losses they have suffered seems not to have changed their tactics.

Despatches received from Paris late last night noting a lull in the struggle is taken here to refer to the artillery only, and today perhaps may see the most sanguinary infantry fighting since the start of the battle of the Aisne one week ago. From the eastern theatre continue to come further reports of overwhelming Russian victories against the Austrians in Galicia and of the stubborn German pressure on the Russian frontier to the north in which the Russians appear to be holding their own.

GRAPHIC STORY BY CORRESPONDENT FROM POINT BEHIND THE LINES

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Times correspondent from a point behind the lines at Sandis and Chantilly, under date of Sept. 16, writes:

"The allies succeeded in crossing the line Sunday after a most desperate struggle. On the north bank the Germans were able to reform their lines and obtained large reinforcements.

"On Monday a second and greater battle opened all along the line. Details are scanty, but there is every indication that the struggle has been, if possible, more terrible and greater than the struggle on the banks of the Marne.

"General Von Kluck's defense demanded the allies' utmost strength and determination. Smashing attacks have been made and sustained in a manner that will make this battle one of the most momentous of the whole campaign. I have heard narratives how columns went down again and again to the blazing death in the valley and how the men worked in this inferno.

"In the trenches, likewise, there are tales of heroism. A wounded private told me: "We lay in the trench, my friend and I, and when the order to fire came we shot and shot till our rifles burned up. Still they swarmed on toward us and then my friend received a bad wound. I turned to my work again, continuing to shoot slowly. Then I rose a little too high on my shoulder. Do you know what it is like to be wounded? A little sting pierced my arm like a hot wire, too sharp almost to be sore and my rifle fell from me. I looked at my friend then and he was dead."

GERMANS SAID TO HAVE SHIFTED TROOPS

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent says he learns from an authentic source that eight German army corps have left France and Belgium for the Russian frontier.

JAPAN SENDS MESSENGER

BERLIN, Sept. 19, via wireless to Associated Press.—According to the Cologne Gazette, Japan sent a special commissioner to a German motor company during the first days of July to order four hundred aeroplane motors to be delivered within the shortest limit of time. The order, however, was not carried out.

The German governor of Belgium, General Von Der Goltz, has appointed Privy Councillor Dr. Von Falcke to decide upon ways and means to effect the protection of Belgian art treasures against burglary and pillages.

It is announced here that three aeroplanes are again over Paris.

The British naval commission has left Constantinople.

The Russian general, Parios, who ordered the shooting of all the male inhabitants and the burning of all villages in East Prussia, has been tried by a German courtmartial.

CROWN PRINCE REPRIMANDED BY KAISER

GENEVA, Sept. 19, via Paris.—Advices received here from Germany state that Emperor William, who is still in Luxemburg with his staff, reprimanded Crown Prince Frederick William for needlessly exposing himself and his staff to the artillery fire of the enemy in his eagerness to watch operations closely. Several of his staff were wounded by shrapnel fire.

TOWNS EVACUATED BY THE GERMANS

ANTWERP, Sept. 19, via London, Sept. 19, 2.30 p. m.—The Telegraph reports that the towns of Dendermonde (Termonde) and Londerzeel have been evacuated by the Germans. This is the first time these places have been free of the invaders since the removal of the Belgian capital from Brussels to Antwerp.

The street lights of Antwerp are lighted every evening from 7.30 to 8 o'clock.

MIDDLESEX NORTH FAIR

Final Day Attracted Large Attendance—Lowell School Gardens Win Prize

The two-days' fair held by the Middlesex North Agricultural society under the auspices of the Dracut grange at Dracut Centre Thursday and yesterday, was brought to a close last night and the organizers were well repaid for their efforts for the fair was a real success in every way. The weather was ideal and the attendance each day was very gratifying.

Yesterday's program consisted of out-door sports, open air speaking, baby show and other interesting events and the large gathering present enjoyed immensely each number on the program. As on the previous day an excellent dinner was served at noon and a most enjoyable day was spent by all present.

The special prizes for school gardens were awarded to Lowell public schools and the children are elated over the result of their work. Many other prizes went to Lowell people, who made a very good showing at the exhibition.

The forenoon was spent in visiting the various exhibits and at the close of the dinner an open air meeting was held under the direction of Larkin T. Trull, the principal address being delivered by Mrs. Maud Wood Park of Boston, who spoke on "Equal Suffrage." James Stuart Murphy of this city also addressed the gathering on the same subject.

In the latter part of the afternoon a fire alarm contest was held between the companies from Dracut Centre and Chelmsford Centre and the prize was awarded to the latter company. There was also keen interest in the contest between a pair of heavy horses and to men for $10 a side. The horses literally pulled the men off their feet and they did not work very hard to do it either.

Baby Show
A feature of the afternoon was the baby show which resulted as follows: In division one for boys under one year and over six months, Herbert Adam Sturtevant of Chelmsford and Kenneth Whiting of Dracut were tied for first place. First honors for girls in this division were awarded to Eleanor Martha Thomas of Lowell.

In division two, between one and two years, Alfred Norman Devine of Lowell and Hazel Adair Colburn of Dracut were first.

Handsomest boy under one year: Arthur Kirtland, Jr., of Lowell, first; Herbert Sturtevant, Chelmsford, second. Handsomest girl: Leonie Kirtland, Lowell, first; Jonathan Bancroft, Tyngsboro, second. Girls under one year: Dorothy Mills, Lowell, first; Dorothy Lavoie, second. Plumpiest girl: Josephine Gallagher, first; Dorothy Richardson, Lowell, second.

Handsomest boy over one year: Carl Young, Lowell, first; David James Fox, Lowell, second. Girls over one year: Margaret Dyer, first; Hazel Colburn, Dracut, second. Plumpiest: Gladys Emmers Heathcock, first; second, Lucille Sorenson, Lowell.

The handsomest twins were May Rose and Sophie Claire Lavoie of Lowell. The youngest child was Muriel Alice MacQuarrie.

School Contest
In the floral and vegetable display for public schools, the Wood street school of this city was awarded first prize. The Atwater street school got first prize for asters and zinnias, while the Lyon street got second prize for general floral display. The Cabot street school was awarded third prize for general floral display.

Awards
The other awards throughout the exhibit were as follows: Household and fancy work: Nellie Stowell, lace insertion, 1; Florence Welbeck, crocheted tie, 1; Mahalia Carpenter, slippers, 1; hat, 2; Mrs. Frank Hodges Hudson, edging on skirt, 1; J. P. Babson, bedspread, 1; Mrs. H. H. Harding, Hilderley, knit slippers, 1; crocheted jacket, 1; Mrs. Perry Flint, Tyngsboro, bag, 1; Mrs. Fred Fox, Dracut, luncheon set, 1.

Children's exhibit, poultry, etc.: Bert Bryant, Dracut, rabbit, 2; J. Benson, Dracut, bantam, two gratitudes; Roy Staveland, Chelmsford, rabbit, gratuity; Anna Threlk, Chelmsford, game bird, gratuity; Arthur Allen, Chelmsford, R. I. Cat, 2; Charles Wadsworth, Chelmsford, R. I. Red, 1; game bird, gratuity; Kenneth Reib, Chelmsford, ducks, 1; Octave Foster, East Chelmsford, ducks, 2; Frank Cassady, North Chelmsford, hen, gratuity; John Shank, Collinsville, bantam, gratuity; Theodore Emerson, Chelmsford, bantam, gratuity; H. C. Peabody, Dracut, two birds, a second and two gratitudes on bantams.

pigs and rabbits: G. Potts, Andrew J. Pratt, John McTeague, Fred Coburn, gratuities.

In the children's cooking department prizes were taken by Arthur Conon of Dracut, Helen Cameron of North Tewksbury, Edna Conon of Dracut, Katherine Hall of Chelmsford, Alice Trell of North Tewksbury, Alice Beland of Kenwood, Yvonne Dixon of North Chelmsford, Lena Parkhurst of Chelmsford, Yvonne Mauseu of Chelmsford, Werle Leach of Chelmsford, Katherine Hall of Chelmsford, Cecilia Taylor of Chelmsford, Lena Parkhurst of Chelmsford, Alice Bolton of Dracut, Brooks and Harriet Stevens of Tewksbury, Agnes Cannon of North Chelmsford, Mary Welsh of Chelmsford.

The winners on flower displays were Mrs. George Bennett of Tewksbury, Mrs. E. M. Davis of North Chelmsford, Chester B. Colburn of Dracut, J. J. McManmon of Dracut, Mrs. Frank Trull and Miss Frances Trull of Lowell, Mrs. Frank B. Foss of Dracut.

The winners in the arts and crafts were: George F. Foss of Lowell, H. H. Hall of Chelmsford, Mrs. Euphrasie Hall of Dracut, Miss Irene White of Dracut, Walter Burnett of Lowell, Ethel S. Johnson of Lowell, Mrs. G. V. Hazeltine of Chelmsford.

The winners in the fancy work contest were: Nellie Spaulding of Lowell, Nellie Atwell of Lowell, G. R. Loveloy of Lowell, Florence Welbeck of Lowell, May Upham of Lowell, Florence Crocker of Dracut, Mrs. J. M. Crosby of Dracut, Mrs. B. F. Harding of Rillerica, Mrs. J. W. Bailey of Lowell, Mrs. J. L. ## TEDDY IN KANSAS

Making Rapid Tour in Interest of Progressive Party

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 19.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, reaching here today, expected to begin a rapid tour through Kansas in the interests of the progressive party. Three addresses have been arranged, one here today, another in Hutchinson tonight, and a third in Kansas City Monday night. From Kansas City, Mr. Roosevelt will go to Lincoln, Neb., to speak. It was planned to ask Col. Roosevelt to make short speeches in several towns through which the special carrying the party was to pass, but it was believed these requests would be refused.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

BELIEVES HE WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE IN 1916—HE SAYS HE HOPES HE WON'T ANYWAY

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 19.—Edward C. Carrington, Jr., republican nominee for the United States senate yesterday made public a letter under date of August 27 last, from Col. Theodore Roosevelt, which, after saying "there are certain states where the republican candidates have declared they are for me in 1916," goes on to say:

"As regards the announcement for myself I do not regard it as amounting to anything, because in the first place I not only hope, but at the present time believe that I will not be a candidate in 1916, and also, what is more important, because it is of no earthly consequence to endorse me unless the principles for which I stand are endorsed."

Col. Carrington was a strong supporter of Col. Roosevelt in the last presidential campaign, but afterward returned to the republican party.

SECRETARY REDFIELD

SAYS TIME IS NOT OPPORTUNE FOR GENERAL TRADE CAMPAIGN IN SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Secretary Redfield informed the senate yesterday that the time was not opportune for a general trade campaign in South America. Moreover, replying to the senate's resolutions asking for an estimate of the probable cost of sending a government vessel carrying American samples and trade envoys to South America's principal ports, the secretary suggested that displays of "individual and corporate products should not be made under the auspices of the federal government." The effect of the European war has not impaired the ultimate purchasing power of South America, Mr. Redfield said, but its present buying strength and resources of current credit are adversely affected.

Our Real Estate Page

The Sun today publishes a real estate and builders' page which will be a regular weekly feature every Saturday. This page is to be devoted to the real estate and building trades. It will contain the latest local news from each field as well as appropriate special articles of interest to everyone. This real estate and builders' page will serve as a most effective medium by which the builders and the general public may keep in constant touch with one another to their mutual advantage.

The Sun asks its readers to peruse the advertisements on this page. They tell the people whom to seek when they want work competently done. Advertisements for this weekly feature page will be accepted from all whose business is in any way connected with the buying, construction or equipment of a dwelling or other building. Advertising is bound to bring big results when featured as the advertising is on this page and augmented by the interesting items of the local fields and by special articles written by men who are recognized authorities on these topics. Advertising copy for this page should be received at The Sun office not later than Thursday of each week.

GERMANS HAVE NO FEAR

Of Outcome of Battle in France—They Believe That French Army Has Shot its Bolt

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Members of the general staff here, in private conversation, have manifested absolute confidence in the outcome of the battle in France, as their own army is steadily growing stronger and the lines of communication have been adjusted to permit of a more efficient supply of provisions and ammunition, it having rather outrun its supply arrangements in the rapid advance on Paris.

The French army, according to the night bulletin, is showing signs of having shot its bolt and fought itself to a standstill, being unable to fill its depleted ranks like the Germans. The Germans, according to last night's bulletin, are slowly but surely gaining ground in the center.

Headquarters' announcements still give no definite information regarding the position of the battle line, contenting themselves with speaking of it generally as located between the Oise and Meuse rivers.

Lieut. Werner von Baulieu, one of the best known German aviators, has been killed. He was mortally wounded while reconnoitering a hostile position on September 4, but clung to the steering gear until he and his observer had safely landed within the German lines. He then collapsed. As a result of the trip the observer was able to deliver a valuable report.

The well known sculptor, Friedrich

Pfannschmidt, captain of the fourth Foot Guards, was killed in the battle near Chalons.

Herman Wendell, the socialist member of the Reichstag, who caused a sensation during the budget debate by closing his speech with the words: "Long live France" has volunteered in the Frankfurter Landsturm battalion, and has seen service in Belgium.

He writes to the socialist organ that he could not sit quietly before the fire while the whole nation was fighting for its existence.

A shower of steel arrows, released by French aviators over a mile high in the air, is the most modern terror of war, according to accounts of German wounded printed in the Munich Medical Weekly. The arrows which are of pressed steel from four to six inches long and a quarter of an inch in diameter, have a heavy pointed head and a skeletonized shaft. The arrows seem to have caused more surprise than actual damage. Only one man was killed in the attack described, the other missiles causing mostly flesh wounds.

The regiment to which the wounded belong, resting in close battalion formation, paid little attention to two aviators circling a mile overhead until the novel projectiles suddenly rained down, scattering far and wide. Men were wounded in three companies. As many as possible crawled under the wagons and escaped another shower of them.

DRACUT
On account of the overflow of pupils at the Parker avenue school in Dracut, the members of the school board have decided to open the spare room at the Goodhue school on Monday. This decision was taken after a conference between the chairman of the school board, H. K. Linscott, and the superintendent of the district, C. E. Randall. Miss Alice McLoon has been appointed as teacher and Miss Elizabeth Whipple, who has been in charge of the other room for some time, will act as principal.

DIED AT SUMMER HOME

MRS. HARRIET PARKER, MOTHER OF JUDGE PARKER, PASSED AWAY

DERBY, Conn., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Harriet Stratton Parker, mother of Judge Alton B. Parker of Essex, N. Y., died at the summer home of her daughter on Pond Point, Millford, today after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Parker was born in Orange county, New York, in 1825. Married in early life, Mrs. Parker lived in Cortlandt, N. Y., until her daughter was married to Mayor James A. Miles of this city, about 14 years ago when she came here to live. The surviving children are Judge Parker, Frederick H. Parker of Albany and Mrs. Miles.

A service will be held at Mr. Miles' home on Monday morning and the body will be taken to Cortlandt for interment on Tuesday.

THE SPELLBINDER

A senatorial candidate who recently made a tour of the country towns in his district returned to Lowell with the report that all the country residents wanted to discuss with him was the war, and that some of them hadn't come to a realization of the fact that the state caucuses are on next Tuesday. As a general rule it is the man who neglects to go to the caucuses who makes the biggest protest over the results of the primaries. But a man who doesn't take interest enough to go to a primary and vote for the candidate of his choice has no license to criticize the action of those who have sufficient interest to exercise their privilege. While the democrats have no contest on the state ticket this year there are very important contests on in the seventh and eighth senatorial districts and the 15th and 17th representative districts, not forgetting the county commissioner contest which this year for the first time in history in all probability will result in the ultimate success of the democrats on election day, provided of course, a strong man is placed in nomination. Election day's success depends in a great measure on the good judgment shown in the primary election and the best judgment is that of the largest number of voters. The fact that there is no Lowell candidate for the position should not deter local democrats from taking part in the primaries. Their interest in county affairs and politics is as great in the first instance, and should be in the second, as that of the citizens of any other part of the county.

In the seventh senatorial district, with a fine chance for a democrat to gain on election day the democratic primary contest is between ex-Rep. Thomas S. Cuff, of this city and Thomas Dunn, of Lynn. As there are some lively democratic legislative contests in the lower end of this district that will bring out the full strength of the democratic vote on election day, Mr. Dunn is giving his entire attention there and apparently has not bothered about the two Lowell wards. In the two wards of Lowell that are included in the seventh there are no legislative contests, but this fact should not cause the democrats of those wards to lose interest and remain away from the polls. All should get out and vote on the senatorial and county commissioner contests.

In the eighth district a big caucus vote is expected on account of the several local contests, including the senatorial, in which four candidates are out after the nomination. Senator Draper, the present incumbent, appears to have determined opposition in some quarters, notably Mr. Spence, while the senator's friends and those of ex-Senator MacMahon appear to be directing their light against each other. James P. Dunigan and Michael H. Brady are going it alone, with no apparent opposition from any source. The appearance of Mr. Dunigan in the contest puts the result in doubt, for though a resident of North Chelmsford, he is as well known in Lowell as any of the other candidates and has been a party hustler for many years. Mr. Dunigan enters the contest free from enemies in his own party while his past experiences in town politics have proven him to be a great vote getter on election day. Whoever is nominated can win, that is if the party gives him full support on election day.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR IN EIGHTH DISTRICT

Mr. Dunigan has served as selectman for four years and as assessor for 11 years in the republican town of Chelmsford. He was chairman for two years of Chelmsford's first water commission, and was instrumental in establishing the water system in that town. He led and successfully carried through the fight for a state highway along the south side of the Merrimack river from the Chelmsford line to the Triggsboro bridge. He has represented the town of Chelmsford at all legislative hearings on matters concerning that town and has a wide acquaintance and influence at the State House. He can think, he can talk, he can act, and if elected will make a useful senator for his district. He is a member of Lowell Aerie of Eagles, Highland Council, R. A., M. C. O. F., and the Central Club. He has no enemies in his own party and many friends in the others, nominated he will be elected. Safely first. Vote for the candidate who can be elected! Vote for James P. Dunigan!

"The City Hall" Rosary

The practice of seeking Divine guidance in the conduct of municipal affairs having been made popular by two former mayors, one holding communion with the Almighty within the sanctity of his home and the other within the sanctity of his sanctum, it is hoped that the other members of the municipal council will go and do likewise. Speed the happy day when each commissioner before entering the mansion will emulate these pious and worthy officials and sing to the music of Mr. Nevins' immortal ballad:

"The hours I spent with thee my heart,
When candidates tormented me,
I count them over, every one apart,
My rosary, my rosary.
Each act of mine forethought in
To still a conscience sorely wrung,
I supplicate unto the end,
And there my vote is hung.
O memories that bless and burn
Like Hanson's gain and Putnam's loss,
By prayer alone I see the light,
And learn
To mark a cross—sweet vote—to mark a cross."

Something About Paying Blocks

A statement attributed to Commissioner Morse to the effect that the street department will need 200,000 paving blocks to finish this year's work and that they will cost about $52 per thousand has caused certain persons to sit up and take notice and incidentally to ask questions. Some of the questions are as follows:

"Mr. Morse, why didn't you call for bids for paving blocks in April as has been the custom for years, and not wait until the last moment?"

"Is there an opportunity for open competition at this time to supply paving blocks at short notice?"

It is claimed by the critics that in April or thereabouts annually the street department has sent in an estimate of the blocks, cement, etc., that will be necessary for the year's work and bids are then called for to supply these materials. This year, it is claimed, no such bids were called for and hence the city is short of blocks.

In the meantime, the critics claim, the Hildreth Granite company, has bought up about all the paving blocks available in these parts, except perhaps those of Louis Palmer of Graniteville, who it is said has recently received a big order that will eat up his supply on hand. Thus when the time for calling for bids arrives the Hildreth Granite company, if the critics are right, will have the thing all to themselves and can charge their own price.

The Hildreth Granite company is composed of several well known granite and paving men. The officials last year were as follows: President, Herbert E. Fletcher; treasurer, Alfred Thomas; clerk, Walter E. Hassam; directors, George D. Webb, Thomas Leahy and H. V. Hildreth. The names of Fletcher, Hassam, Leahy and Hildreth are familiar as granite producers and paving men from different sections, and there is something decidedly familiar about the name Hassam. Recently the Hildreth Granite company secured the contract to furnish the city of Brockton with paving blocks at a cost of about $52.33 per thousand. Commissioner Morse may be basing his estimate of the probable cost of the blocks soon to be purchased for Lowell on Brockton's experience. But it is said that the freight on paving blocks is only $3 per thousand to Lowell, while it is $15 per thousand to Brockton. Some difference. Last year the city of Lowell bought its paving blocks by the square yard, paying $1.19 per yard. Figuring on 334 yards to the thousand, the city paid $39.864 per thousand, somewhat less than $52 per thousand. The critics claim that had the bids been called for in the spring, before the smaller quarries had sold out their product to the combination the city would have secured the blocks much cheaper than it will get them at the present time. Whether this is true or not will come to light when Commissioner Morse calls for the bids.

More About Paying Blocks

Recently the public was made acquainted with the condition of the 3500 paving blocks had been recovered by the police in the yard of a brother of a former councilman. That number of paving blocks would mean about 18 or 20 loads and would fill a pretty good sized yard. But the blocks were not counted individually, the number simply being estimated, and this year's government has seemed to have a weakness for estimates off the mark. Considerable has been said about an enormous number of old paving blocks that have disappeared, and the inference is that they have been stolen. But thousands of old blocks have been used to build a fence about the Franklin school, to pave driveways in school yards so that the coal carts could reach the cellar windows without destroying the yards, while others were used to reneave crossings and side streets. It may be that if these jobs were all measured up the missing blocks could be accounted for. And they do tell me that the scheme of recutting and relaying old blocks, instead of laying new ones, is only a fine bit of false economy. In the first place there is the expense of recutting and a great amount of waste into the bargain. Then when the old blocks are relaid it takes about 20 per cent more cement than it does with new blocks, and cement is an item of expense, and you do not get the same strength of the bond. They don't last as long as the new blocks which come closer together and prevent water from getting in under them. Finally, it takes more labor to lay old blocks because being smaller more of them are required and in the end it is estimated that recutting and relaying old blocks cost close to $60 per thousand.

The High School Middle

And now they tell us that the Varum property will not be ready for occupancy until Dec. 1, and meanwhile we will have two sessions of High school for three months, an injustice to pupils and teachers alike, as the result of the short-sightedness or neglect of our municipal council. This matter surely, the responsibility for which cannot be laid at the door of last year's administration, the situation at the beginning of the year and found opposition in the ranks of the municipal council. With the situation as it is, even the most ardent "church member" must admit that there are mightier questions involved in the conduct of municipal affairs than the enforcement of the Sunday laws, relative to the sale of sandwiches and the paving of brewery yards.

Hear Some Voices

The representative contest in Ward 2 brought out two of the three candidates in open-air rallies. John J. Quonnan opened the series, closely followed by Representative Dennis A. Murphy. Both men made favorable impressions. Representative Murphy surprised those who had never before heard him in public speech by his resonant voice which could be distinctly heard at a great distance and his easy flow of words. Representative Murphy speaks like a seasoned stump orator.

Joke, a la Spence

George T. Spence, the gentleman who is campaigning on the trail for Senator Draper, has quite a reputation as a punster and when he became active in the campaign his friends expected that he would hand out a new line of puns. But George appears to be deadly in earnest and as yet has uncocked nothing of a jocular nature. The question appears to be, will this opposition to Draper be dispensed with by the voters of the district, or will Henry be Dunigan?

Follows Lowell's Example

And now President Wilson is going to hold communion with the Almighty. Boom Lowell! We've been doing that for a long time. Closely following the announcement of Commissioner Brown relative to his implicit trust in the power above came the news that the Kaiser's army has been getting a thorough re-education and along comes a joker with a reason for the sudden change in the Kaiser's fortunes, to wit, that the Almighty has withdrawn his support from the German emperor and has allied with the Lowell municipal council.

17th Middlesex District

The democratic candidates for the legislature in the 17th district are confident that this year they can overcome the republican majority of that district and go to the state house. A red hot fight has developed among the republicans that undoubtedly will leave its sore spots after the caucuses while the progressives have put up a well known citizen, Pierre Brousseau, the democratic candidate, are Joseph F. Whiteley who showed good vote-getting ability as a candidate last year; Hercule A. Toupin and Joseph Jodoin, Jr., both of whom have served in the board of aldermen, and Thos. J. Mullarkey and Thomas H. Corcoran, both well and favorably known in the district.

Look at Varum Avenue

Varum avenue was recently macadamized and yet a correspondent informs The Sun that the top dressing already is beginning to break up and that the street needs to be gone over again at once.

Such Is Fame

The Courier-Citizen's political writer this morning, mentions among the republican candidates for attorney-general, Messrs. Higgins and "Holland" of Middlesex County. The "Holland" referred to is none other than J. Mott Halliwell, former assistant attorney-general of this state and one of the best known lawyers in Massachusetts.

Jewett and Achin

While the pictures of Jewett and Achin, the perennial candidates for the legislature in the 17th district appear side by side in the daily papers, "they do say" that in ward three the word has been passed around to vote for Jewett alone while in ward six, it's the bulls for Achin alone. Watch for the bullets.

Another Financial Blunder

Financial blunders on the part of the municipal council are becoming so common that they no longer attract much attention. The latest is the contract for the filtration plant for which Mr. Gow was the lowest bidder. The contract cannot be awarded until the money to pay for it is on hand, and that money is not there at present.

To Sen. Draper

Hon. Senator Henry J. Draper, how many letters have you received from the Trades and Labor Council, asking you to come to their meetings, and up to date you have not done so. Are you afraid to show up? Come out in the open Senator, and tell the truth. Please show us where Foss is a friend of labor. I am not favoring the nomination of any special candidate but am showing the Senator up in his true light. You missed 38 roll calls, Senator. The voters in your district would like to know why.

I submit the following letter received from the Foss campaign committee showing how Mr. Draper stood in the gubernatorial contest last year:

Oct. 27, 1913.
George Spence, Esq.,
236 Chelmsford St.,
Lowell, Mass.

My Dear Sir:—Your name has been handed to me by Senator Henry J. Draper, and I take the liberty of asking you to do such service in the interest of the governor's campaign as you may deem wise.

Any names that you can send to me of those whom you think may be interested enough to do some personal work will be gratefully received. I shall be glad to send literature to you or any others whom you may designate.

Trusting to hear from you favorably, I am,

Yours very truly,

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Vaudeville bookings that will please amusement lovers wonderfully well will be featured at the H. F. Keith theatre, next week. As usual eight acts have been secured, and these will come from the so-called "big time" houses. The principal feature for the first three days of the week will be "Doing Well, Thank You," an inimitable little comedy in which James B. Donovan and Marie Lee will be featured. Mr. Donovan is universally known as "The Man from Ireland," and Miss Lee for perfectly obvious reasons, is widely known as "The Little Beauty." For a pure fun-making combination the twain are without any superior on the vaudeville circuits. "Doing Well, Thank You," is for the sole reason of coming laughter, and while there is a thread of story in it, it is very largely bright patter, some brand new songs and sprightly dancing. That's the sort of a combination which tickles the palate of everybody. Another act, manufactured along the same lines, is "At Economy Junction," in which Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Friel appear. This is a rural affair, with plenty of so-called atmosphere in it and a homely type of comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Friel are well known performers who have had a long list of one-act successes. For downright novelty—and one like unto nothing this town has ever had—Gordon Brothers and their boxing kangaroo will prove the goods. It's a real kangaroo, imported from Australia when very young, and taught to box with either front or back feet. And it strikes on how that no man, under ordinary conditions, could withstand. Furthermore it has a full of such wonderful strength that it supports its entire body on it. This act has only recently come from the continent, where the advent of war made it necessary to cancel all bookings. King, Carleton and the Clifton Sisters, banjoists and fun-makers, have

REAL ESTATE and BUILDING NEWS

In introducing a real estate and builders' page, The Sun will endeavor each week to publish for its readers the choicest items of news of these fields and the most interesting articles available in order that these features may be of the greatest possible value both to the general public and to the advertisers. Consequently, The Sun urges its readers to look for this page each Saturday and to cultivate the habit of reading it throughout. Its topic is one that should interest everybody.

That such a newspaper feature, carefully prepared, is bound to be of real value to those interested in real estate and building, in fact to everyone, appears most reasonable, especially in the case of a growing city such as Lowell, where building is constantly receiving added stimulus, both in the residential and business sections. On this page will be found the notices of the real estate men, plumbers, furniture dealers, builders and contractors of every description, so that it will serve as a directory to all desiring any work, large or small, done on or within a house or building.

Lowell Building Rapidly

Lowell is building rapidly; new homes are being constantly erected, and several big additions are being made in the business sections. The public buildings of the city are most up to date and attractive and of them the city may well be proud. The business blocks, too, are of modern structure, central location, and especially is the new Sun building an ornament and a credit to the city. All these things are most favorable to the building conditions of the city, and many predict that Lowell is soon to experience an even greater building boom.

There are many bustling real estate dealers in the city, and all are doing business, a fact which indicates that people of Lowell regard real estate as about the safest and most highly paying investment. The writer, on interviewing a number of the contractors, found them very optimistic regarding the conditions at the present time, in spite of the cry about the scarcity of money.

The real estate men, builders, contractors, furniture dealers, landscape gardeners, and all others whose business is the building, selling, beautifying, remodeling, or equipping of buildings of any description, will find The Sun's real estate and building page the most efficient medium by which to reach the public and receive direct returns. No pains nor expense will be spared in making this new feature as effective as possible.

Readers having items of interest, articles, new ideas on these topics are invited to submit them to The Sun for publication on this page. All copy for the page should be at The Sun office no later than Thursday evening, in order to secure publication on Saturday.

Week's Building Operations

In accordance with the requirements of the law recently passed regarding safety and fire prevention in garages, extensive inside alterations and remodeling are in progress at the establishment of the Lowell Brick company in Appleton street. The fire commissioner recently visited the garage to make inspection and told the manager just what changes were required. The specifications made by the fire commissioner on this occasion are being followed to the letter in the carrying on of the work. A hard plaster or cement wall is being constructed about the entire garage to separate that department from the other business. This wall will completely separate and protect the large show rooms and salesrooms which form a most attractive portion of the garage, and will also be erected on the western side, between the garage and the establishment of the National Biscuit Co. A cement ceiling is also to be constructed, as well as a cement floor to replace the wooden floor. The door openings in the partitions are to be filled in in the course of the work.

The work at the Lowell Brick company's building is going ahead rapidly, and should be completed within a reasonably short space of time. These alterations will make quite a difference and quite an improvement in the garage.

New School Rooms for Hebrews

Congregation Aseh Seward, a local Jewish association, has arranged for extensive alterations, additions, and improvements on the headquarters at 14 Howard street and the city building authorities have granted the society a permit for the carrying on of the work. The changes will provide new school accommodations.

The main part of the present building, and also the old portion, are to be moved back about fourteen feet. Then the plan calls for the erection of a brick addition on the site of the old building to be moved. This addition to be used as a synagogue. Some of the partitions on the first story of the present structure are to be removed and new ones constructed, dividing the space into two large rooms for school purposes, thereby very substantially increasing the school accommodations for the children of the Hebrew population.

These alterations will make a big improvement and the action of the society gives it an even higher position among the progressive organizations of Lowell. The work will be done at a cost of nearly four thousand dollars.

Make Dwelling Two Tenement House

Charles S. Dodge is making extensive alterations on the interior of his property at 269 Westford street, which will convert the present cottage into a two-story tenement house. This is quite a big piece of work, and apparently a very skillfully planned one, which will doubtless greatly increase the value of the property. Mr. Dodge intends that each of the tenements which will result will consist of 5 rooms, parlors and bath. They will have separate entrances.

Remodeling One Family House

Mr. Patrick F. Mahoney also, is making extensive alterations upon his property at 638 School street. Mr. Mahoney will change his one-family dwelling house into a two-story tenement house. The alterations will result in additional rooms, including two chambers on the second floor and one chamber and new bath and fixtures on the first story.

Renewing Boiler Room Roof

The Lowell Electric Light corporation is renewing the boiler room roof in its building in Perry street. The roof is being constructed of reinforced concrete according to the most modern ideas of building, and the work will be completed at a cost of approximately $2,000.

Operations planned by John Racetto at his property at 527 Moody street, will result in the conversion of the whole of the building into an up-to-date store. The store will have ample room, and a new metal ceiling will be constructed. New windows are to be constructed and the entrance will be at the corner of Moody and James streets.

To remodel the ell consisting of four rooms and build an addition for a new bath room and fixtures is the intention of Andrew Urnez. The property in question is located at 29 Elmwood avenue. The work includes extensive interior alterations.

Oscar A. Shaw has been granted a permit by the city authorities to build two storage sheds at the rear of his house in Varnum avenue.

Interior alterations and the changing over of a bath room constitute the work which is to be done by Bernard J. Kelley upon his property at 1 Dracut street.

Walking through the various residential sections of the city, one could not but comment upon the large number of new dwelling houses that are being erected. This is evidence of the continual activity in the building field, and, moreover, bespeaks the rapid growth of the city. The houses are of varied style of construction, some being single dwellings, while others are tenements.

The property of Henry J. Rogers at 131 Cumberland road is to be the object of considerable remodeling. Mr. Rogers will construct an addition 12 feet by 17 over the kitchen in the rear of his house, the new portion to be used as a chamber.

The size of the rooms in the building of Joseph Martin, located at 252-254 Allen street, is to be considerably increased by the construction of bay windows. The building is a three-story structure and 12 new bay windows are to be built in, four on each floor, adding much to the already attractive property as well as to the convenience of the occupants.

Andrew Magiera is contemplating the erection of a dwelling at 61 Beacon street, and has begun work on the foundation for the building.

Robert James Blackstock is moving his cottage in Dayton street from the rear of the lot to the front, with the intention of locating it a distance of about 16 feet from the street. It is owned by the owner of this property to cut down the ell and build a second story over it.

A new piazza is to be constructed by William Saunders at his home which is located at 133 Methuen street.

Daniel Murphy of 66 Arlington street is making extensive alterations on his home. The work consists of the squaring up of two rooms and the building of a second story to the ell of the house for chambers and a new bath and fixtures.

A stairway is to be constructed in the property of Margaret M. Merrill at 278 Central street, from the rear, facing on Green street, into the boiler room in the basement.

Avila Sawyer will build additional rooms in his tenement dwelling at 526 Moody street, and will change the location of the bathrooms. Following the completion of these changes, the building will consist of three seven-room tenements. There are at the present time five rooms on each floor.

Brokers are Active

The condition of the real estate and building business in the city of Lowell, as manifested by the reports of sales of the real estate brokers, and the reports of the transactions which are published in this page, appears to be most encouraging. The various contractors, also, are kept quite busy and conditions, as a whole, appear to be quite satisfactory.

Sales Reported

Abel R. Campbell, real estate and insurance broker with offices at 403-405 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending September 13th:

The sale of an eleven-room house and stable near Canton street. The house is equipped with several hardwood floors and open plumbing, bath and set tubs. The stable accommodates three horses and several carriages. Land to the amount of about 400 feet will be conveyed with the house. The grantor lives out of the city and the grantee is a local party.

The sale of an exceptionally constructed two-apartment house near the Highland school. Each tenement contains eight rooms, pantry and bath. The house is heated with two steam plants and is equipped with baths, tubs, slate roof, cement cellar and electricity. The lot contains 7000 square feet of land. This was sold to a man out of town and the grantor also resides out of the city.

Byron Davis, real estate brokers, with office at 87 Central street, report the following sales for the week ending September 13, 1914:

Final papers have been passed on a nine-tenement block situated at Nos. 141-143 Lakewood avenue. Each tenement is entirely separate from the other, and is always rented. It brings in a total rental of $900 a year. In this transaction Arthur C. Behrman, executor, transfers title to Mary E. Fiske, who buys for investment. The purchaser will put the property in first-class renting condition in a very short time.

Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices 64 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Sept. 13:

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a first-class cottage property situated near Twelfth street in the Centralville section. The house has seven excellent rooms and is equipped with modern conveniences. The land to be conveyed approximately 1800 square feet and is laid out for the most part to an attractive garden, fruit trees and shrubbery. The sale is negotiated on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser being a local business man buying for personal occupancy.

Also parties have been bonded on the purchase and sale of a high class parcel of business property situated near lower Westford street. The land involved in the transfer amounts to 5000 square feet and is assessed at the value of $6000. Extensive improvements will be commenced on the parcel and in the future it will be devoted exclusively to business purposes. The transfer is effected on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser buying purely for investment purposes. Full details will be given on the passing of the final papers in the immediate future.

BEST TIME TO BUILD

In discussing the prices of building materials and the cost of labor, a writer in a recent issue of the Manufacturers Record points out that as architects and contractors have more than just now to plan and carry out contracts than in the past, the present is the time to build. The man who wants a home and has money with which to build it can do it now to better advantage than when prosperity comes and at a much lower cost and with more care and attention on the part of contractors and mechanics.

Thousands and tens of thousands of men in this country are intending to build homes for themselves, but are waiting for what they think will be a more propitious moment, when everybody is an optimist rather than a pessimist. When they do undertake to build, every item will cost them more, and they will find great difficulty in securing as much attention in construction work and in the equipment of their homes as could be had now.

This is preeminently the time when every man who expects to build a home, a store, or an office building, if he has the money, should do it. This is the time when every manufacturer, every merchant, every large corporation, every municipality should press as vigorously as possible all of its improvements. In order to get the benefit of the low prices of materials now prevailing as compared with boom periods. At most over night a change in business could be brought about, if people who are able to do this building and construction work would undertake it now.

LEGAL POINT OF INTEREST

Plaintiff was in the employ of defendant as painter and decorator. He used a scaffold, consisting of a plank stretched upon ladders. Planks and ladders were furnished by defendant. There is evidence that in the course of the work it became necessary to use a plank of different length from any that had been furnished, and that defendant directed the plaintiff to go to an employee of defendant in charge of another job and that such employee would furnish one. The foreman acted accordingly and the plank was so furnished. It was unfit for the purpose by reason of a knot near the center. This knot was somewhat obscured by lime plaster and dirt. The plaintiff assumed the risk of the use of this defective plank was for the jury. The test is whether the defect was known to or plainly observable by him, and whether he understood, or by the exercise of ordinary observation ought to have understood, the risk incident to its use. The question of whether this defect was obscured by lime plaster and dirt, the question of assumption of risk was one of fact.

CLEANING WINDOWS

There are many things offered for this purpose, perhaps the simplest being to use benzine. One solution recommended for this purpose is made of benzine and burnt magnesia made to a paste-like consistency. This is spread over the glass with a wad of cotton or a soft brush, rubbing it on thoroughly and then rubbing it off again. It is supposed to take with it all the grease, paint and dirt.

KING SELECTS AMERICAN STYLE

King Christian of Denmark has decided that the newest of his numerous residences shall be furnished in American style in every detail. He will not imitate the home of the American multi-millionaire. The style he has selected to copy is that of the simple and efficient equipment of the average American home. He has long been an admirer of the American arts and conveniences of home-making, and he has insisted that his newest house, which is situated on the Skaw, will lack none of them.

HEAD OF TICKET GENERAL VILLA

A. J. Cooper Vermont Progressives' Candidate for Governor

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 18.—The progressives entered the state campaign yesterday by choosing Alexander J. Cooper of Bennington as their candidate for governor. Edward C. Crosby of Brattleboro was nominated for lieutenant governor, and Charles A. Prouty, former interstate commerce commissioner, for United States senator. The convention was attended by delegates from all parts of the state.

GOV. BALDWIN NOMINATED

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR AT DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION AT HARTFORD

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 18.—Governor Simeon E. Baldwin was nominated for United States senator at the democratic state convention here today, defeating Congressman Bryan F. Mahan of New London, 377 to 225.

The platform endorsed the administration of President Wilson and his foreign policy with reference to Mexico and asserted that the democratic party in congress has redeemed its promises.

It endorses the administration of Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, recites democratic achievements in the state and among other things declares in favor of the short ballot, the direct primary and nomination by petition pledges the party to support the submission of a constitutional amendment enfranchising women to the vote of the state and favors legislation "that will cure the free press evil and eliminate the professional lobbyist from legislative proceedings."

DECREASE IN STRIKES

FIGURES FOR AUGUST AND ALSO FOR EIGHT MONTHS IN THIS STATE FAR BELOW THOSE OF 1913

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Only four strikes involving 25 or more workers occurred in Massachusetts during the month of August, according to the records of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, and these four involved a total of only 135 men.

During the corresponding month last year there were 10 such strikes reported to the state board, throwing out of work no less than 1255 persons. Up to Sept. 1, 1914, the records for this year show only 82 strikes involving 25 or more workers, as against 142 up to the same date in 1913. The number of persons thrown out of employment by this year's strikes is only 5415, compared to 32,152 last year.

A SLICK CHICKEN THIEF

CONFIDENCE GAME WORKED ON WOMEN IN PAWTUCKETVILLE DISTRICT

A slick hen thief has been at work in Pawtucketville for some time and it is reported that many residents of that section of the city have been separated from valuable chickens. According to information received, the thief works his game by calling at a house where hens are kept and by informing the woman of the house that he has purchased a number of hens, specifying a certain number from the head of the family, and that he has called for his property, and every time his work has been successful.

The last to be caught by this slick thief was Mrs. Joseph Boudreau, of 856 Moody street. Thursday afternoon a man called at this woman's home and informed Mrs. Boudreau he had just paid Mr. Boudreau for two hens, and he also told her he had called for the pullets. Mrs. Boudreau doubted the man's story at first, but he assured her he was telling the truth and then he repaired to the hen coop, where he unlocked two of the heaviest hens and after borrowing a bag to carry the hens in, he boarded an electric car in the direction of the city. In the evening when Mr. Boudreau returned to his home he denied having sold any hens and informed his wife she had been robbed.

The man's description as given by Mrs. Boudreau for the benefit of other hen keepers in Pawtucketville or elsewhere is as follows: Five feet and ten inches in height and weight about 165 pounds. The man wore a blue coat with grey trousers and a small cap. He has a smooth face and he is of good appearance.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very enjoyable birthday party was held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ryne of Linden street in honor of their daughter Florence, a popular young lady of this city, the occasion being her eighteenth birthday. During the evening a pleasing program was carried out which included piano selections by Mr. Chester Hutcheson and Miss Florence Ryne, Messrs. Baldwin, Brown, Harrington, and Montgomery made quite a hit with their quartet entitled "Once in a Thousand Years," solo, Mr. John McArthur, and whistling solo, Mr. Fred Foley; impersonations by Miss Helen Donovan; solo by Miss May Ryne, accompanied by Miss Florence Ryne; comic recitations, Miss Loretta Barry. The accompanist of the evening was Miss Catherine McArthur.

The hosts were the recipient of many beautiful gifts including an amethyst pendant set with diamonds. The presentation was made by Mr. Russell Merrill. Games were played and refreshments served.

No Friction Between Him and Other Constitutional Leaders

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—General Villa sent a notice to President Wilson today denying that there was any friction between him and other constitutionalist leaders. From other sources came reports that Villa was loyal to Carranza. The other reports said that in some cases properties had been taken over for protection but there had been no confiscation. The general tenor of today's reports was to assure the president that order is being restored. Gen. Funston's recommendation that the evacuation of Vera Cruz be postponed until Oct. 10 was forwarded today to Secretary Garrison at Sea-bright, N. J. It probably will be adopted as transports cannot reach Vera Cruz for several days. Belg. Gen. Bliss, commanding the border patrol in completing arrangements to return to Mexican territory the 5000 Mexican soldiers and camp followers interned at Forts Wingate, N. M., and Rosserans, Cal., since their escape to the United States after defeat by constitutionalists.

A telegram from Chaplain Joyce saying that 500 priests and nuns were destitute and would be in danger after the departure of the American troops and asking that the government transport them from Vera Cruz to Galveston was taken to the White House today by Rev. Louis J. O'Hearn of the Catholic university. He received assurance that the president would consider it.

THE POSTOFFICE REFUSES

WILL NOT DELIVER MAIL MATTER UNLESS STREET AND NUMBER IS GIVEN

Although the new postal regulation requiring the name of the street and number on all mail to be delivered by carriers has not yet been received at the local postoffice, it is probable that a great many Lowell business concerns will be affected when the order is put into force. The order which was issued yesterday by First Assistant Postmaster-General Roper, directs that all mail bearing the name of the street and number of the addressee shall be placed in the general delivery to be called for in person and not delivered by carrier.

It seems that large advertising concerns in various parts of the country have made it a custom to send out thousands of letters and advertising circulars, bearing only the name and city of the addressee, leaving the postal authorities to learn the street and number of the person to whom the matter was intended.

As a result the number of clerks required for this kind of work in post-offices throughout the country, especially in the large cities, is large and rapidly increasing. In order to put an end to this practice and place the cost of clerical hire for this work on the advertising houses themselves, the postal authorities decided to prohibit delivery by carrier of all mail not fully addressed. How far the local postmaster will go in the matter is not known as he was out when The Sun man called at his office today.

WELCOME HOME DINNER

SECRETARY JORDAN OF UNITED IRISH LEAGUE HONORED BY FRIENDS

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—In a "welcome home" dinner to President Michael J. Jordan of the Boston central branch of the United Irish League of America at the Hotel Lenox last night some 40 officers and fellow members of the United Irish League pledged themselves to the support of John E. Redmond in his manifesto asking Irishmen to enlist in the Irish cause in the present war, and related the statement of Matthew Cummings at Fenwick hall recently that the Irish would fight Great Britain on the side of Germany because of the home rule situation.

Strong addresses in support of Mr. Redmond's policy were made by Thos. B. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Jordan.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—2.15 p. m.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, and the members of his trans-Antarctic expedition left London today in two sections for the South Polar region. One party, headed by Sir Ernest Shackleton, departed for South America, the other half of the expedition left for Ross Sea, on the New Zealand side of the Antarctic, by way of Tasmania.

Sir Ernest hopes to meet the Ross Sea contingent in April of next year, or failing that by March, 1916.

One great difficulty which confronts the expedition was the lack of scientific instruments. These had been ordered in Germany but have not been delivered because of the war.

DOMESTIC WINE TAX

More Protests Concerning it Lodged With Democrats on Ways and Means Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—More protests were lodged with the ways and means committee democrats today against the proposed tax of domestic wines in the war revenues bill but Chairman Underwood announced that there was no disposition to change the plan to taxing dry wines 12 cents a gallon and sweet wines 20 cents a gallon. Representatives of California wine growers are in Washington but have not had a formal hearing.

ROBBERS MADE BIG HAUL

Broke Into House, Cut Telephone Wires and Compelled Woman to Open Safe

KANKAKEE, Ill., Sept. 18.—Diamonds and jewelry valued at $60,000 were obtained here today by five masked robbers at the home of Mrs. Nellie Clark.

The robbers broke into the house, cut the telephone wires and compelled Mrs. Clark to open the safe. They then bound her and Margie Miller, her companion, took the jewels and drove away in an automobile.

When Mrs. Clark freed herself she tried to telephone the police but found that the wires were cut. She then directed her chauffeur to follow the robbers. He followed their tracks to the outskirts of Monee and found a machine overturned and abandoned in a cornfield. The robbers are said to be surrounded by a posse.

EDWARD EWING PRATT BUILDING BLOWN UP

IN EVERS AND MARANVILLE STALLINGS HAS STAR GUARDIANS ON KEYSTONE BAG

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—No championship baseball club has ever been organized that did not have a stag combination around second base. The keystone sack must be guarded by a second baseman and a shortstop who are always alert and on the job and who understand each other and who play together without having to hold conferences and postmortems. Johnny Evers, who made his reputation as a member of the "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination that pulled off so many double plays for the Chicago Cubs, is just as good as he ever was and is a trifle better so far as brain work is concerned. Maranville, who is almost as big as the bag boy, also has baseball sense, and a good many critics regard him as the best shortstop in the National league. Whether or not he is the best, he is just about good enough, and if he has any shortcomings they are not noticeable when Evers is there to help him out.

MEETS THE CITY CHIEFS

O'KEEFE ENTERS UPON DUTIES OF NEW POSITION OF FIRE PREVENTION COMMISSIONER

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Fire Prevention Commissioner John A. O'Keefe yesterday entered upon the duties of this new office, which was created by an act of this year's legislature. Commissioner O'Keefe will for the present occupy rooms 425 and 426 of the state house.

His office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day but Saturday and on that day from 9 a. m. to noon.

The commissioner started right in yesterday in carrying out the plan he had outlined, when first appointed and before he qualified, of inviting chiefs of fire departments of the Metropolitan district to call upon him and describe existing conditions in their respective cities and towns.

Chief Rich of the Somerville fire department and Chief Bunker of the Cambridge department were callers yesterday. Other chiefs will be invited daily to confer until the commissioner has heard from the heads of the fire departments all over the Metropolitan district.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE DEAD NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Frank Leslie (the Baroness de Bazas) died last night in her apartments in an uptown hotel here. She was a widow of Frank Leslie, the publisher, who died in 1880, and has herself since been prominent in the publishing world.

AMENDMENTS TO BANK LAW WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Amendments to the bank law liberalizing the reserve requirements and extending the redemption facilities of member banks were passed today by the senate and now await action by the house.

HOUSE AT MELLE, BELGIUM, BURNED BY GERMANS

WELCOME HOME

Anything that concerns a school teacher in a city such as Lowell interests a great many people, and undoubtedly in the masses of our citizens are hundreds who without knowing the members of the Owen-Killpatrick parties personally, hoped for their safe return from the war-torn fields of Europe and rejoiced to read that they are back to their duties with ripened experience and with gladdened hearts.

Had our travellers anticipated the terrors that lay in wait for the countries they were to visit they would certainly have postponed their tour until a more auspicious season, but now as they look back they have good reason to rejoice at an experience which will give them a larger outlook on life for the future and which will enable them to more truly interpret the spirit of history and to make geography lessons more realistic. They have learned a great deal that they may impart, but above all, they have learned to love and regard their own country and its institutions with a greater love than they had previously known.

In their visits to the cities of Italy with their wonderful churches, museums, squares, monuments and palaces, they have come to regard the past with reverence and to understand the temperament of some of the races whose descendants will flock to them in American schools for instruction. They have been the folly of sectional patronage towards those who have such a marvellous heritage of art and beauty. In the glories of olden Athens they must have felt the thrill of the storied times of Greek magnificence and treasured up mental pictures that will illuminate many a classic page in the long evenings of American winters.

But they have learned something more vital than all this. With terrible directness has been borne in upon them the horror and misery of war—that barbaric injustice against which the peoples of all nations are rising up in disgust. In a little Austrian mountain town in its setting of jeweled loveliness they went through winding streets that echoed only to the footsteps of boys, women and old men; they saw with their own eyes the tragic pity of it. All the men between the ages of 20 and 42 had been sent to the front and the women waited in sullen resignation for the second call which would enroll the men from 42 to 50. There was poverty and suffering in plenty, but it was war.

It is to the credit of our Lowell teachers and their friends that they acknowledge a debt of gratitude to the American consuls and other government representatives who are striving so hard to lighten the load of returning American tourists. The testimony of a school teacher carries more weight than that of most individuals and when they so generously praise the efforts of their government, there is a feeling of gratification in the acknowledgment for all Americans who are not warped in judgment by pretty prejudices. Our Lowell school teachers who have experienced so much of interest have shown a fine spirit and Lowell cordially welcomes them home to their labors of usefulness.

ATTEND THE PRIMARIES

All citizens of whatever class or political creed should without exception attend the primaries next Tuesday and vote for the most desirable candidates for office. Even should an individual feel no special interest in any of the aspirants he ought to remember that it is a strictly American duty and that he is grossly neglecting that duty if through sloth or indifference he stays away from the ballot box. It is most essential that he vote well but it is certainly to be desired that he vote, however his fancy may dictate his choice of men.

They who take no part in the nomination of candidates who will be voted upon in the fall election have no cause for complaint if the popular decision is unfavorable to their desires, for they have forgotten a principle which is greater than any candidate. There is no excuse for the pessimistic individual who professes disgust at politics generally and remains away from the polls. In the list of candidates for office he must surely have a political or merely personal preference and he is not doing his duty to his state or city if he ignores the claims and demands of his citizenship. The victory that is won by any party because of a slight vote is won dearly, and it would be far better for the people generally that we have a large vote, whatever the consequences to any particular party.

The Lowell democrats need have no apprehension about the results if they individually resolve to go to the polls and vote for their most representative candidates. The Sun does not presume to dictate a particular choice where more than one democrat aspires to office, but it urges on all democrats that they weigh fitness above personality and decide with an eye to the future rather than with the intention of placing anybody in a good position. The Maine election is a pretty good straw to indicate which way the wind is blowing, and Lowell will do its part in swelling the democratic majorities if it considers the achievements of the democratic party in federal and state government and picks worthy democratic candidates to contest the various political offices in the near future.

FRENCH THRIFT

The recent speech of Lloyd George of England advertising to the "silver bullet" drew international interest to the respective resources of the various countries engaged in war and emphasized the part national thrift plays in a long conflict. It is noteworthy in this connection that France has long been a synonym for thrift. Recent investigators declare that its reputation is richly deserved and they have called attention to some of the phases of government conservation and guidance which has made thrift a national trait of the French people.

The individual is thrifty in France and the state pays a premium to encourage the characteristic, according to the published opinions of President S. W. Straus of the American Society for Thrift who made a four months' study of thrift in its foreign aspect. He found that the government gives awards and prizes to school children in the form of small bank deposits which grow to a large amount by the time the child has reached maturity. The state is empowered to transfer these savings banks' deposits into interest-bearing bonds.

The people of France live on small farms and draw small incomes but they spend in proportion to their incomes and they manage to make a consistent saving of some part of their wages. Collectively their bank accounts have a great influence on financial Europe. Out of 12,500,000 savings bank depositors in 1900 over fifty per cent. had less than $4 to their credit in the savings banks, but this is an indication of prosperity when it represents the poorer classes throughout the country. The American spirit is to ignore small savings until the individual can save larger amounts, but this eventually leads to general poverty and distress. The lesson of French thrift is a lesson that reaches down to our very poorest citizens.

What is needed here is the realization that no one can be prepared for the future who does not live within his resources. In a desire for all which money can buy most people throw thrift to the winds and live their lives a day at a time, forgetful of the future and indifferent to its hardships.

WAR DURATION

On what seems like rather weak grounds many American papers incline to the view that the Kaiser is open to offers of peace but there is little on which to base conviction or hope. His alleged withdrawal from the conflict is hedged round with so many conditions that it will take a few big battles to clear the air and open negotiations for even the preliminaries of an armistice. It would be presumptions to base the German attitude on their recent reverses, for they have by no means exhausted their resources, though the moral effect of their retreat before the allies must have been damaging. The attitude of Italy, too, tends towards German dissatisfaction and indeed will awake but slight admiration at the present time anywhere.

Far different from the hazy sentiments attributed to the Kaiser is the declaration of Earl Kitchener to the effect that the war is likely to be long and that a great army will still be required in active service. There is no reason to alter the first opinion that the war will be to the death, and if it is to come to a speedy end it will be only after such a surrender on the part of one side as will ensure to the other the same results as an overwhelming victory.

AMONG THE TOILERS

The Hay State mills are starting up and will soon be running in full.

John Hudson, formerly employed at the Northern Waste Co., has accepted a position at the Saco-Lowell shops.

G. W. Osborn, master mechanic at the Biscow Carpet Co., has severed his connections with that company.

Bill Marcotte of the Lawrence Mfg. Co.'s basketball team about to be one of those to enter the basketball arena this winter.

Frank Hamman of the Northern Waste Co., an accomplished musician entertained his friends in style last evening.

William Merritt, formerly employed at the U. S. Cartridge Co., has accepted a position with Curtin & Spillane, plumbers.

James Mullin of the Biscow Carpet Co., has returned from a two weeks' trip to Burlington, Vt., where he visited relatives.

John Welsh of the U. S. Duntun Co., attracted much attention by his clever demonstration of the various dance steps last evening.

James Conroy, Jr., employed at the Saco-Lowell shops has closed up his camp at Silver Lake for the season and has moved into the city.

J. F. Ashton of the Spinners' union who was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the union last evening, has been an active worker in the labor movement for a great many years.

James J. Donnelly, president of the Leather Workers' union has been chosen as a delegate to attend the state conference of the American Federation of Labor in Boston next week.

The unions in Lowell have made great progress so far this year and the various leaders predict even more in the coming future. The movement is growing gradually.

Peter Toubey of the Mass mills has taken up his pet pastime, vestripping, and will in all probability be seen on the mat in this city in the near future.

H. L. Bishop, who has been employed for some time by the Biscow Carpet Co. in the capacity of paymaster, has resigned his position with that company.

Jack Demarais of the Tremont and Suffolk has resigned his position at the mill to accept more lucrative employment in a down street business office.

Charlie Farrell's Tremont & Suffolk baseball team is the runner up to the Lawrence hostery in the mill league. This team has been very successful.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case. Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABRIL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

NOTICE OF HEARINGS

The Municipal Council of the City of Lowell will give hearings at their room, City Hall, Tuesday, October 6th, 1914, at 11 o'clock a. m., on the following petitions:

G. W. Ongard—For a license to keep and store gasoline in and from a tank (30 gal. capacity) buried in the ground at premises, 25 Robinson street.

on the diamond this year, due, no doubt to its able management.

We are glad to see William McDermott, captain of the Tremont & Suffolk bowling team back in harness. He capped second prize at the roll-off Wednesday night with a total of 222.

Frank Delman, foreman of the packing department at the Meigs, Adams Shoe Co., and an accomplished violinist, has leased a studio downtown and will give lessons evenings through the winter months. His many friends wish him all kinds of success in his now undertaking.

Although the mill baseball teams were a bit late in starting this year they have all given creditable performances. It has been suggested that a basketball league be started among the young men employed in the local industries. Surely this is a good idea and a little extra money could in all probability be made on the side. Last year the game was given a sudden impetus, and came along strong, but this year there is even more of a call from sport lovers for the great indoor pastime, and indications point to the sport flourishing if taken up by the right persons. There are a great many athletes working in the mills and factories and they should give the matter their immediate attention as an early start means a great deal. This certainly ought to appeal to Jimmy O'Brien of the Pilling Shoe Co., and Walter Lyons of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., both of whom have been actively connected with all kinds of sport for years.

Biscow Carpet Co.

Owing to the present trade depression in the carpet trade, the Biscow Carpet Co. is forced to maintain its present curtailed schedule.

Millmen's Union Held Meeting

Millmen's Union held a largely attended meeting last evening in Carpenters hall in the Runcie building. A list of very important business was transacted and two new members were admitted. Several applications were also received and were laid over to the next regular meeting. Several committees submitted reports of progress and communications from many members were properly referred. The secretary reported the union to be progressing rapidly and all members working.

Spinners' Fleet Officers

The members of the Spinners' union gathered in Trades & Labor hall in Middlesex street last evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: D. R. Jordan, president; Arthur Simpson, vice president; J. P. Ashton, secretary-treasurer; Michael Logan, auditor; Henry Slemman, sergeant-at-arms. Considerable routine business was transacted and four new members were admitted. Many communications from foreign locals were read and turned over to the secretary. Several members made interesting and instructive remarks on the good of the union, and they were listened to attentively. The secretary's report showed the union, which is one of the oldest in Lowell, to be in a flourishing financial condition. After the business session, the rest of the evening was spent in a social hour and was much enjoyed.

MATRIMONIAL

Charles Dexter Wright and Miss Fannie Johnson, both of Westford, were married yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Johnson by Rev. E. A. Kernahan, pastor of the Methodist church at Graniteville. The young couple left on the 6:40 o'clock train for a honeymoon trip.

RICHARDSON-RICHARDS Charles Richardson and Mrs. Lizzie E. Richards, both of Braintree, were married yesterday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. G. Alger, pastor of the Pawtucket Congregational church, at his residence, 113 Varnum avenue.

LATE WAR NEWS

LOSS OF LIFE IN PRESENT WAR IS GREATEST ON RECORD—GREAT HORRORS

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The official communications issued thus far have neglected the question of losses, which in a fight such as the battle of the Marne, covering a front of 130 miles, are almost impossible to estimate, even approximately.

Some unofficial reports have placed the allies' losses at 50,000 and those of the Germans at 100,000 in the series of engagements comprised in the great clash of arms. How near these figures are to the truth no one will know until the official figures are compiled. However, the impression derived from individual accounts of wounded soldiers and from the prisoners in the hands of the enemy, and the one unofficial source of information at present, would indicate that these estimates are conservative.

The losses certainly are the greatest on record, and perhaps the proportion for the Germans is greater than two to one in death at least.

If the press bureau communications are silent on this subject the order of the day for the army gives eloquent hints of sacrifices made to gain advantage and shows how murderous is modern warfare and how regardless of personal safety are the officers and men. The latest order, given out last night, is full of deeds of the greatest heroism and at the same time indicates what the cost was of the recent successes and previous reverses.

Lieutenant Noget, of the 25th, infantry of reservists is among those mentioned for bravery. Although wounded, he continued the energetic direction of his company, of which all the officers in his section had been killed or wounded.

Adjutant-General Dete of the 68th infantry, led his section on under the most violent fire until all his men were wounded. Then he grabbed a gun from one of his soldiers, and while the section retired, continued firing until he was killed by a fragment of shell.

CORRESPONDENT AT ROTTERDAM

DESCRIBES VISIT OF EMPEROR WILLIAM TO SON

LONDON, Sept. 19, 2:30 a. m.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Rotterdam telegraphs that dispatches from Vitron, near Longwy, describe a visit of Emperor William to his wounded son, Oscar, at that place. The visit was a surprise and the garrison barely succeeded in turning out in time to welcome the emperor, who, after a brief talk with his son, inspected the trenches.

of the grenadiers. Addressing the regiment, he said: "The fighting around Longwy will be inscribed in letters of gold on the roll of history, but all our successes we must ascribe to the God of our fathers, who is above us."

STORY OF DUEL BY BIRD MEN—GERMAN AVIATOR KILLED BY HIS OPPONENT

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The newspapers yesterday related the story of an air duel between a French aviator and a German aviator at an unnamed place during the battle. After long maneuvering the Frenchman succeeded in ascending above the German. Both men used revolvers. The German was seriously wounded and his machine turned over and fell among British troops. He was dead when picked up.

MAJOR STIVERS, U. S. A., RETIRED, AND HIS NIECE CAUGHT IN TRACK OF BATTLE

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Major Edwin Jacob Stivers, U. S. A., retired, and his niece, Miss Stivers, were caught in the track of battle at a little village called Vauvroux, about 46 miles northeast of Paris. The major, who is in his 80th year, broken in health, said the British troops had been in the village on Aug. 20 and 31 and the Germans from Sept. 1 to the 14th. There had been a good deal of shooting around his cottage. He painted a small American flag on a piece of board which he nailed to the cottage and this was usually respected. Miss Stivers, however, was made to do all kinds of work for the German soldiers, such as serving them at table, making tea and watering their horses. Major Stivers distinguished himself in the Civil war. He was mentioned by General Rosecrans for conspicuous gallantry in the battle of Chickamauga.

THAT THERE ARE NEUTRALS WHO WANT TO GO TO WAR THE FOLLOWING BOTH ATTEST

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Adventurous neutrals who long to get into the European fight abound. Hence the Anglo-American contingent that Lord Lynden, a nobleman of some years' residence in North Carolina, is organizing. It is not the intention of Lord Lynden to interfere with President Wilson's desire of strict American neutrality. He seeks only British subjects in the United States or Americans who are resident in Britain or have taken out British citizenship papers. Permission to organize such a contingent has only recently been granted by the British war office, yet over 200 already have enrolled. Plans are to form half an infantry battalion of 450 men and one or two squadrons of cavalry of 150 men each, besides small detachments. Then, if at the end of four months the command passes the inspector, the men will take the ancient army oath of allegiance to the king and go to Great Britain and go to the front as a unit.

The small detachments already include 25 motorcyclists, a hospital staff and a machine gun detachment, to which a wealthy Anglo-American has given a maxim. A well known American poloist has sent to the United States for his stable and other gifts of the kind expected. Anyone giving a machine gun or equipping a body of men will be honored by having the detachment or command named in his honor.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S WAR

NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM

Germans charge 10 times in succession on the British, but are repulsed with great loss.

Allies beat back the troops in several hand-to-hand fighting.

GERMANS HOLD THEIR GROUND—THEIR HEAVIEST GUNS HIDDEN IN THE WOODS

LONDON, Sept. 19, 3:30 a. m.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail, describing the great battle, says:

"The Germans have held their ground three days, their heaviest guns hidden in the woods and the French artillery has not yet obtained a mastery of fire over them."

"The German infantry is entrenched

along the edges of woods in which the batteries are concealed. It is being attacked alternately by artillery fire and by infantry assaults, the French charges being driven home right into the heart of the woods."

"At night the Germans make counter attacks but these have always been repulsed. The stronghold of the German position is the height of Nogent l'Abbaye, three miles due east of Rheims. There the Germans occupy the site of what used to be the forts of Rheims and from there they are bombarding the town of Rheims which was on fire in eight different places at 4 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon when I came down from the tower of the cathedral from which I had been watching the first battle since morning."

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much better. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagging. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pint.

Another wonderful facial beautifier and rejuvenator that has become quite popular in the United States, as it is in France, is mercerized wax. Druggists report a great demand. The wax immediately absorbs the shallow, cracked, blotchy or withered complexion, giving the fresh, vigorous, healthy-hued young skin underneath a chance to "breathe" and absorb itself. Applying the wax at night, like cold cream, during the morning, will completely renovate a poor complexion in a week or ten days. One ounce usually is sufficient.

FEATS OF WORLD'S SERIES

Pitching and Batting Records Which Stand for Annual Classic Between Major League Winners

New records can be established for the world's series this fall without endangering major or minor league records. All that a pitcher has to do to shatter a previous red letter mark for a blue ribbon game is to dispose of his opponents without a safety. Edward Marvin Reulbach of the Superbas has the distinction of having pitched the best game in a world's series. In 1906, while wearing the uniform of the Cubs Reulbach let the White Sox down with one safe smash, made by "Jiggs" Donohue, who died about a year ago, in the sixth inning. The Hillies Wonders scored a run in this controversy, but Donohue's safety had nothing to do with the tally.

Men who have twirled two hit games in world's series are Mordecai Brown, Ed Walsh and Eddie Plank. The three-throwed marvel accomplished his feat against the White Sox, Comiskey's one time man of steel, selected the Cubs as his victims and the veteran southpaw picked the Giants. Brown and Walsh whitewashed their opponents while they were hunting them to a brace of hits, while Plank missed a shut-out because of an error by Frank Baker and a piece of bone-headed line-running by Arthur Shaffer, who, according to a sarcastic member of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, ought to be awarded a Chalmers car because he has done more for the Braves than any other player.

The three-hit games reeled off in the annual classic now number five. Bill Dinnin pitched the first of these in 1903 for the Red Sox against the Pirates; Jeff Overall the second in 1908 for the Cubs against the Tigers; "Chief" Bender, the third in 1910 for the Elephants against the Cubs; Jack Coombs the fourth in 1911 for the White Elephants against the Mordecai Browns, each having pitched two and these men each one; "Don" Phillips, Bill Dinnin, Eddie Plank, Nick Altrock, Jack Pfeister, Jeff Overall and "Rube" Marquard.

The record number of strike-outs for a world's series tussle is 12. Walsh of the White Sox fanned a dozen Cubs the first time he faced them, in 1906, and Bill Donovan of the Tigers duplicated the performance against the Chance combination the next season, having a dozen strikeouts, however, in which to do so. Dinnin of Boston whiffed 11 Pirates in 1903 and in 1911 and 1912 11 Giants took the strike-out count at the hands of Bender of Philadelphia and Wood of Boston. Pitchers credited with striking out ten men in contests for the championship of the universe are Phillips of Pittsburgh, Overall of Chicago and Mullin of Detroit.

Considering the number of games played, it is remarkable that there is no very wild exhibition of pitching on the records. The unsteadfast stunt was uncovered by Jack Coombs of the Athletics in 1910, when he handed the Cubs nine passes and beat them, nevertheless, 9 to 3.

J. HENRY ROBINSON HAS NOT BEEN MUCH OF A STAR WITH THE CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—J. Henry Robinson, the pitcher who came to the Cardinals as a part of the big trade with the Pirates last winter, has not been much of a star with the St. Louis team, but at that he has been about as valuable as Bob Harmon, the former Cardinal who went to Pittsburgh in the same trade. Robinson has recently shown more "stuff" than early in the season, and with double headers coming along frequently he is likely to be used often by Manager Huggins.

JACK JOHNSON

Is Still an American Citizen—Gets Passport to Russia

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Giving the lie to stories that he has taken out French naturalization papers, Jack Johnson visited the American embassy yesterday and said he was a citizen of the United States. He received a passport to travel in Russia. Johnson was cross examined severely, but he persisted that he had never even dreamed of expatriating himself. He denounced as a newspaper invention the statement that he was a Frenchman. He showed a passport obtained from Ambassador Herrick in Paris six months ago, which now has expired. He was in Russia a few weeks ago, then in Berlin and Paris, whence he came to London. Johnson drove up to the embassy in a big limousine. He was accompanied by his wife, her maid and his managers and trainers. The only other negro in the party was Johnson's sparring partner. He is going to Russia, to fulfill theatrical engagements which he entered upon long ago. His wife will accompany him. Her diamonds so dazzled the clerk he scarcely could see to write the passport.

ELEVATED RAILWAY CONDUCTOR SHOTS HIMSELF AT HIS HOME IN REVERE

REVERE, Sept. 19.—Harry Addison, aged 32, a Boston elevated conductor, committed suicide last night at his home, 48 Summer street, by shooting himself in the right temple with a revolver. Mrs. Addison was away from home and their three children, the oldest 5 years and the youngest only 3 months, were there in charge of a young woman, Miss May Weiner.

On hearing the shot she ran out of the house and notified the driver of a coal wagon, who notified the police. They took Addison to a hospital, where he died about 15 minutes later, at 6 o'clock.

Late in the evening Mrs. Addison had not returned and neighbors were caring for the children. Addison was employed by the street railway company for nearly five years on the Chelsea division. He had been away sick for a fortnight, and his fellow employees believe his sickness had made him despondent.

Tonight you and your friends are invited to hear Minner's orchestra in a concert program preceding dancing. Minner's plays all of the latest compositions, as well as many of the old classics, and the combination offers sufficient variety to entertain. As for quality, there is only one Minner's orchestra in this section. The Kasino is well adapted to its purpose. Situated on Thornehill hill, convenient for all Lowell people, and with the most spacious surface in Lowell, it is made further attractive by efficient management. Saturday afternoon dancing is discontinued.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

A large crowd of Lowell fans attended the game at Lawrence yesterday afternoon and the majority of them were rooting for the New England League champions. The delegation which came from Haverhill, however, seemed to be out for a New London win. The best of feeling does not exist between Haverhill fans and the Lawrence club since the deal went through whereby the Haverhill franchise passed into Dan Noonan's hands.

Plans are already being made to play off the remaining games of the series in Lawrence. The crowds were quite thin in New London, especially on the second day and it is thought that more gate receipts can be realized by playing off the rest of the contests down river. Sounds all right to us.

Lawrence now has the edge on the series. If Louis Pieper's club plays up to the standard it set for itself yesterday, it will win the series, without any question. The club as a whole worked smoothly with machine-like precision. In fact New London looked bad in comparison.

President Murnane was present without a blush upon his chest. Murnane and O'Rourke, the executive of the Eastern association, are "in" for ten per cent. of each game's receipts. We wonder how long we would have to wait for Timothy to appear at a post-season game if he were not "in" for a slice of the coin.

The game at Spaulding park this afternoon between the Lawrence Mfg. Co. and the C. M. A. C. amateur teams attracted a large crowd of rooters from both clubs. The contest was for gate receipts as well as a $200 purse. J. Cronin, at one time the best amateur twirler in the city, officiated.

Hughes Duffy and Fred Lake as well as Jimmy Gray were at yesterday's game in Lawrence. President Bronch and Jim Kennedy, owners of the local park, were also interested spectators of the inter-league battle.

Becker, the New London right-hander, is one of the fastest men to have been playing the game today in any league. If a grounder from his bat takes two hops in the infield, it is certain to make the initial sack in safety. His hit in the ninth, which Mike Lynch did well to stop at all,

FOR SUCCESS OF ALLIES

Mass Celebrated in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Bordeaux, Today—Church Was Crowded

BORDEAUX, Sept. 19.—1.20 p. m.—A large crowd filled St. Andrew's cathedral this morning to listen to the mass for the success of the allied forces. In spite of the early hour there was not a vacant seat in the immense building.

At the conclusion of the service Ab-would have been an out for many ball players.

The Regulars and Federals of the Bay State Street Railway employees will meet on the diamond next Wednesday at Canobie lake when the street railway men will hold their annual outing. There is intense rivalry between the two clubs and an exciting contest is sure to be the result.

Cecelia Freilberg, one of Boston's famous girl swimmers, and Eddie McCormick of this city, will meet in a water contest tomorrow afternoon on the Merrimack river. The race will be from Tyngsboro bridge to the Vesper boat house. The two swimmers will enter the water at 1 o'clock.

The fastest mile ever paced in an open race was accomplished yesterday in Detroit by Frank Bogash, Jr. in the free-for-all which he turned under the wire in 1.59.14. This horse has gone along in wonderful style all summer and was picked as an easy favorite although such remarkable time was not looked for.

The proposition of re-building the grandstand at Spaulding park has not yet been definitely settled. It has been said that unless double tracks are laid to the ball park a new site will be selected next season for the local club.

The Red Sox came very near losing yesterday's game to the Naps. With the score 3-0 in Boston's favor, Shore weakened in the eighth and allowed Cleveland to tie up matters. Scott's triple and Speaker's single, however, pulled out a 4-3 victory for Carrigan's club.

That was some struggle between the Braves and the St. Louis. Darkness halted hostilities at the conclusion of the 12th inning with the score still 1-1. New York's 3-2 win over Cincinnati cut down St. Louis' lead by a half game. Marty O'Toole was again yanked yesterday, but Fromme saved the day for McGraw.

The Athletics lost and the Red Sox won. Still there isn't much encouragement in this fact for the Boston club's supporters. Conley's 3-0 loss to Cleveland cut down St. Louis' lead by a half game. Marty O'Toole was again yanked yesterday, but Fromme saved the day for McGraw.

The first Lawrence run came in the last half of the second inning. Mahoney hit safely to centre for one base and then stole second. Warner helping him out by Harry Aubrey of Lawrence. The ball was headed for right field at bullet speed was the feature of the game. Mike Lynch, Lawrence's doughy shortstop, Rock, Warner and Marhefka also did some fine fielding. The score:

LAWRENCE WON THE THIRD GAME

Fuller and Green in 2-0 Pitching Duel—Each Allowed but 4 Hits

Aubrey, Former Captain of Local Club, Made the Feature Play

Wheeler Fuller, youngest pitcher on the Lawrence staff, and Paddy Green, veteran twirler of the New London club, took part in mound duel in the third game of the inter league series played yesterday afternoon at Riverside park, Lawrence. The New England league champions were returned the winners by a 2 to 0 score.

It was a fine game of baseball and the crowd of nearly three thousand fans which attended were well satisfied. Not only was the pitching above the average but both clubs were keyed up to their highest effectiveness.

Four hits was all that either hurler allowed and all of these were singles. Each club was credited with one mis-play. Rock, the phenomenal shortstop of the New London club, committed the only mis-play which counted in the score when he booted Mahoney's grounder in the eighth inning with two down, allowing Lynch to tally.

The first Lawrence run came in the last half of the second inning. Mahoney hit safely to centre for one base and then stole second. Warner helping him out by Harry Aubrey of Lawrence. The ball was headed for right field at bullet speed was the feature of the game. Mike Lynch, Lawrence's doughy shortstop, Rock, Warner and Marhefka also did some fine fielding. The score:

LATE WAR BULLETINS

BRITISH ARMY MORE THAN HOLDS ITS OWN

LONDON, Sept. 19, 4.30 a. m.—Earl Durbam received a letter Friday from his brother, who is on General French's staff. The letter, written two days ago, said that for the four previous days there had been desperate fighting in which the British army more than held its own.

STEAMER FAVIGNANA ARRIVES AT NAPLES

ROME, Sept. 19, 1.15 a. m., via Paris, 4.30 a. m.—The steamer Favignana has arrived at Naples from the Orient and her officers report that the Russian Black Sea fleet, comprising twenty units, is cruising off the entrance of the Dardanelles ready to attack the Turkish squadron if it should leave the Golden Horn.

DARING ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP BRIDGE

LONDON, Sept. 19, 4.24 a. m.—The Dieppe correspondent of the Daily Mail has sent to his paper the following despatch:

"On Friday a party of Germans made a daring attempt to blow up the railway bridge at Oisiel, eight miles south of Rouen and thus sever railway communication between Dieppe, Havre, Rouen and Paris. "The members of the party were disguised in French officers' uniforms, taken from prisoners and were provided with prisoners' identification papers. Their behavior, however, had excited suspicion. An attempt to stop them resulted in an exchange of revolver fire, three gendarmes being shot. The Germans got away but afterwards they were traced to the river bank near the bridge and captured before they were able to effect their purposes."

AUSTRIAN CAVALRY DISAPPEARS FROM GALICIA

LONDON, Sept. 19, 8.45 a. m.—In a despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from its Petrograd correspondent it is stated that the Austrian cavalry has completely disappeared from the scene of action in Galicia. After being severely handled in the first part of the campaign, and especially in Galicia, the Austrian mounted troops made no attempt to relieve the hard pressed rear guard which was surrounded by the Russians.

NETHERLANDS GOVERNMENT ENTERS U. S. MARKETS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 19.—The Netherlands government has entered the United States markets as a large purchaser of supplies, according to a local broker who says he has been commanded as purchasing agent at this port.

AUSTRIAN STEAMER CAPTURED IN THE ADRIATIC

LONDON, Sept. 19, 1.18 p. m.—The Star has published a despatch from Rome saying that warships cruising in the Adriatic have captured an Austrian steamer flying the Greek flag and loaded with arms and ammunition destined for Albania.

AMBASSADORS INDULGE IN DUEL OF WORDS

ROME, Sept. 18, via Paris, Sept. 19.—A duel of words is being carried on between the German and Russian ambassadors to Italy. H. De Flotow, the German ambassador, in a statement issued Thursday denying the intention of Germany to make peace, referred to the war "ignobly imposed upon" the German people. Today the Russian ambassador, A. Kroupenski, made this reply:

"This passage contains as many lies as words. All the powers recognized that Germany was the aggressor and the word 'ignoble' is the only one applicable to the German procedure before and during the war."

JAPANESE TROOPS COOPERATE WITH FLEET

TOKIO, Sept. 19.—The Japanese imperial troops cooperating with the Japanese fleet, landed at Laoshan Bay, Set. 18, according to official announcement made today.

The cavalry on Sept. 17 captured Kiaow Chow station and seized a train. Among the passengers was the president of the Shantung railroad who was made a prisoner.

AUSTRIAN TORPEDO BOATS BOMBARD FORTIFIED PORT

LONDON, Sept. 19.—In a despatch from Rome, the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Co. says that six Austrian torpedo boats have bombarded Antivari, a fortified port of Montenegro. They made an especial but fruitless effort to destroy the French wireless station. No damage was inflicted on the town.

OFFICIAL INFORMATION BUREAU MAKES STATEMENT

LONDON, Sept. 19, 3.30 p. m.—The official information bureau today gave out the following statement regarding the situation in France:

"The situation remains unchanged. A counter attack against the first division, delivered during the night, was driven back. "The weather is bad and it is raining continuously."

GERMAN EASTERN ARMY CONTINUES OPERATIONS IN DISTRICT ABOUT SUWALKI

BERLIN, Sept. 18, via London, 19, (4.15 a. m.)—The German eastern army continues its operations in the district about Suwalki, Russian Poland, according to a statement issued by the general staff tonight.

The army is now advancing on the fortress at Osorec, 45 kilometers, about 30 miles, southwest of Lyck, (Eastern Prussia) on the railroad between Lyck and Belostok. This fortress guards the River Bober, which elsewhere cannot be crossed, owing to swamps, and forms a natural barrier before the advancing army.

SIX STEAMERS CARRYING 6000 AMERICANS ON THEIR WAY FROM BRITISH ISLES

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Six steamers carrying 6000 Americans left the British Isles today for the United States. This makes the total of American departures during the week 15,000.

Among the passengers sailing today are Andrew Carnegie and Sir Johnson Forbes-Robertson. The weekly report issued by Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American relief committee in London shows that 950 Americans have been assisted during the past seven days and that the total of American departures since August sixth is 87,000; of whom 8637 have been assisted.

POSITION SAME AS IT WAS FOUR DAYS AGO—ALLIES MASSING BIG BODIES OF TROOPS

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The correspondent of the Express at Soissons, telegraphing under date of Sept. 17, via Paris, says:

"The great artillery duel continues unabated and the position is the same as it was four days ago. The Germans have prepared elaborate trenches and barbed wire approaches to protect the positions of their heavy guns behind the hillcrest."

"A British officer said to me today: 'If we held the same position we would never shift while our ammunition lasted. We realize the serious task which faces the allies.'"

"The infantry losses must be extremely heavy."

"The aeroplanes of the allies are doing splendid service. Last night one located a train filled with retreating German soldiers and the pilot dropped a torch to indicate the range. Our artillery blew the train to atoms in a few minutes. We are having frightful weather. Torrents of rain fall almost continually, the trenches are full of water and as a consequence there is something like an epidemic of rheumatism among the troops."

"It is reported that a German force, with a general in command, has been surrounded in the forest near Chateau Thierry."

"The allies are now massing enormous bodies of troops and everything points to the probability of one of the bloodiest battles of the campaign as a sequence to five days of fighting."

REPORT MADE PUBLIC IN BERLIN ANNOUNCES GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN SUCCESSES

A report from German army headquarters made public in Berlin today announces German and Austrian successes in all theatres of war.

It is declared that a decisive attack is being made north of Noyon; Beaumont has been stormed and 2500 French captured; while counter attacks of the allies along the entire front have been easily repulsed.

In the east the Germans continue their advance against the Russians and the Serbians have been routed by the Austrians, it is said.

Unofficial advices from the German capital say that members of the general staff manifest implicit confidence in a favorable outcome of the fighting in

Ty Has Batted Himself to Front During the Last Week—Leads Nearest Rival 27 Points

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Ty Cobb of the Detroit club batted himself to the front during the last week, according to figures published here today. He is now leading his nearest rival in the American league by 27 points. The averages as published here show 11 hitters in the 300 class. They are Cobb, Detroit, .375; E. Collins, Philadelphia, .348; Jackson, Cleveland, .347; Hoblitzel, Boston, .347; Speaker, Boston, .328; Cree, New York, .327; Crawford, Detroit, .321; Baker, Philadelphia, .319; McInnis, Philadelphia, .316; C. Walker, St. Louis, .307; M. Mitchell, Washington, .305. Philadelphia and Detroit continue to lead the league in club batting with figures of .270 and .255. The home run honors remain with Baker, Philadelphia, who has nine. Majest of New York leads in base stealing with 62.

The Brooklyn club of the National league is still honored with the leading hitter. This is Tex Erwin, who heads a list of 13 hitters in the .300 class with an average of .348. The others in this select group are Dalton, Brooklyn, .328; Daubert, Brooklyn, .324; Becker, Philadelphia, .321; Wheat, Brooklyn, .319; Philadelphia, and Connolly, Boston, tied with .311; C. Miller, St. Louis, .308; Stengel, Brooklyn, .305; Phelan, Chicago, and Wingo, St. Louis, tied with .304; Grant, New York, .302, and G. Burns, New York, .300. Club hitting honors go to Brooklyn with .270, with New York next with .254. Vic Salei, Chicago, leads as the home run king, with 11, while the honors for base stealing go to G. Burns of New York, who has 52.

American league pitchers who lead their leagues are: Bender, Philadelphia, with 15 and 3; Leonard, Boston, 15 and 5; Plank, Philadelphia, 15 and 6.

The Boston club of the National league has the leading pitcher. He is James, with 24 and 6. Rudolph, likewise of Boston, is next with 22 and 8, while Dean of St. Louis is third with 16 and 7.

BEFORE JUDGE PICKMAN

WOMAN WAS FINED $75 FOR ALLEGED LIQUOR SELLING—OTHER CASES

Bridget Sullivan runs a lodging house on Fletcher street and several weeks ago a complaint was registered at police headquarters that she was selling liquor. On August 27th Officers Murphy and Bigelow of the liquor squad reconnoitered about the premises and finally entered the house armed with a search warrant. As a result of their discoveries she was charged with illegally keeping liquor and pleaded not guilty through her counsel, Col. Carmichael.

The government showed where a large quantity of ale had been sent to the house of the defendant. Between the first and 23rd of August, Mrs. Sullivan ordered six cases of beer while seventeen more cases were sent to her house consigned to her roomers.

Officers Murphy and Bigelow testified to finding beer in bottles and several bottles which smell strongly of whiskey.

The defense offered the various lodgers, under whose names the beer has been consigned as witnesses. Five men testified that the beer brought to them, which was one case each week, was for themselves and was not for sale.

Judge Pickman spent some time in summing up both sides of the case. The defendant was found guilty and ordered to pay a $75 fine and also sentenced to four months in the house of correction. She appealed.

Larceny Case.—Harriett Sheehy and her husband, Patrick F., were accused of stealing $41 from David Breatin, a man who only recently came from Canada and whose bank roll was composed of Dominion currency. The defendants pleaded not guilty but such was not the finding of the court. Both were found guilty. The man was sent to the house of correction for four months while his wife was sent to jail for the same length of time.

Forgot Chauffeur's License.—Thomas Barr, a business man from Bedford, N. H., left his car too long in Merrimack square. When he was out of town he forgot to get a license to operate an auto. Mr. Barr was fined $1 for this carelessness in leaving behind the license.

James T. Ganley was fined $15 for assault and battery upon Fred F. Connors. The case of Nicholas Tampruss, charged with breaking and entering was continued.

FIRE ON CHURCH ST. BRIDGE.—The members of Hose 4 were called to the Boston & Maine railroad bridge which crosses the Concord river near Church street twice this afternoon to extinguish small fires which probably started from sparks from passing locomotives. The first fire was reported at 2.10 o'clock while the second alarm was sent in at 12.55 o'clock.

Prof. J. Waldron Edmunds has opened a vocal class at Manchester, N. H., and will devote Tuesday of each week in that city.

ANOTHER TRIP TO BOSTON

Officials Confer With State Inspector on Heating Problem—Many Voters Dropped

That so-much-talked-about heating matter at the new high school annex is being thrashed out today in Boston in a conference held between John Plunkett, head of the state inspectors and Commissioner James H. Donnelly and Inspector Francis A. Connor. Mayor D. J. Murphy was expected to be present, but he was prevented from going by previous engagements.

Messrs. Donnelly and Connor went to Boston this forenoon armed with plans for the heating system, this being done at the request of Mr. Plunkett, who informed the mayor by telephone that if plans were submitted he was positive of being able to suggest a cheap plant that will be in conformity with the law. The result of the conference may not be known until Monday.

Angry Voters

It seems many complaints have been filed with the registrars of voters by citizens whose names were dropped from the check list this year, and this department wishes it understood that it has practically nothing to do with the dropping of names except as directed by the assessors. According to reports a large number of voters have called at city hall during the past few weeks and have filed complaints, blaming the registrars for dropping their names, and the registrars are not at all pleased with the result.

As far as could be learned from that assessors' office in many instances the women are to blame for the dropping of many names. In many cases when the assistant assessors call at the various homes for information in relation to assessment, names are omitted by the women of the house with the result that the name omitted is not assessed and is dropped from the voting list. In other cases when the assistant assessors went around for information no one in certain houses could be reached and after two or three fruitless visits the assistant assessor gave up the task. It is simply a case of not finding the people in during working hours.

Tax Sales

City Treasurer Stiles again attempted to sell the remainder of real estate lots for which taxes remain unpaid, and again his efforts were fruitless. Accordingly the following lots were assigned to the city: Lots 24, 42, 55, 72, 78, 84, 95, 96, 100, 124, 125, 127, 153, 154, 166, 167, 171, 173, 179, 182, 183, 184, 185, 187, 191, 199, 197, 255, 257, 258, 254, 255, 253 and 273.

Vaccination Bureau

The vaccination bureau at city hall is open daily from 4 to 5 p. m. with the exception of Saturday. There was a rush at this bureau this week, for at the opening of the schools the doctors visited the various schools and distributed cards to children who were not vaccinated, so that they may call at city hall.

PASTOR CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL REGISTRATION

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 19.—An indictment charging Rev. Albert Jefferson, former pastor of the First Free Baptist church in this city, with illegal registration as a voter at the state election was returned by the superior court grand jury today. It is alleged that he has not lived in this city for two years but has resided at Cape Elizabeth, where he has been preaching.

OFFICER CITES ATROCITIES

He Saw in Field—Soldiers Mutilated by Germans—Towns Wantonly Sacked

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Paul Vandevelde, a Belgian, who is in the cotton business in Dallas, Tex., and who was visiting his family in Ghent when the war broke out, arrived yesterday on the White Star liner Cretic from Liverpool. He is a Belgian reservist and immediately volunteered, being made a lieutenant in the "cama," or ammunition corps. He was assigned to the automobile division, served 34 days and saw the battles of Liege, Maellon, Haughton, St. Margaret and Tirimont. Details of the outrages he declares he witnessed have been put into a signed statement to be turned over to President Wilson.

"When the Germans reached Obergien," he said, "they tore through the town like maniacs. Fleeing Belgians were rounded up by the German cavalry and their hands and feet were cut off, so they could neither run nor crawl away. Then their houses were burned. And, mind you, these men were civilians who were not taking any part in the war. Even their children were beaten by the kaiser's soldiers. I saw these men and talked with them as they lay dying."

Locked in Houses Set Afire.—"The town of Sempt, which had about 4000 inhabitants, was wantonly burned. No attempt was made to stop the Germans there and the town was burned without cause. First the Germans rushed upon it, locked the people in their houses and applied torpedoes. How many men, women and children were burned in their homes no one knows."

"I also saw the bodies of many Belgian soldiers which had been horribly mutilated. Some of the Belgian troops apparently had been dismembered alive. That practice was frequent upon men killed in action."

"One of the first things the German troops did when they reached a town was to raid every cabinet or safe and get wickedly drunk. Then they would start on a butchering expedition."

"The German infantrymen used sword bayonets. These they drove into the Belgians' stomachs, then yanked them out, mutilating their victims terribly."

Brutal to Comrades as Well.—"They were almost as brutal to their comrades. German dead were left on the battlefields with a handful of sand sprinkled over their faces. That was their form of burial. Only once did the Belgians abandon their dead. Then they were forced into a rapid retreat."

"The Belgians had no chance to hold the Germans off, as the Belgian artillery was no light. The Germans could fire long before the Belgian guns would reach. In this way the Belgian ranks were cut to pieces before they could fire a shot in defense."

"We managed to run back all our ammunition in automobiles as we retreated, although at Rosbeck the Germans were only half a mile away when we picked up the last of it. There, their shrapnel destroyed three of our auto trucks there. At another point we deliberately abandoned fifty such automobiles, after emptying them, to throw the enemy off the track. While the Germans were capturing them we hauled the ammunition off in another direction."

Lieut. Vandevelde said he saw the German Zeppelins over Antwerp, but that when he left the big airships were keeping away, as the forts had been equipped with powerful searchlights to detect aircraft.

German Tells of Belgian Cruelty.—August Pfaff, a German who has lived in this country forty years, and whose home is at No. 3847 Monroe street, Chicago, told another story of brutality. He said he saw German soldiers from Belgium in the hospital in Berlin with their eyes gouged out.

He was in Paris when the war began and went to Berlin, where he saw the mobilization of the German army.

"When I left Berlin, Sept. 6," he said, "the city was full of Russian, English, French and Belgian prisoners of war. On Unter den Linden were 62 Russian guns that had been taken, many Belgian guns and 240 English horses. At Fort Bobritz were 8000 Russian prisoners and 5,000 English and 6,000 more English prisoners were in Cologne. They were all well treated. The English prisoners in Berlin had better accommodations than the Russians. The Belgians and Russians were placed together at first, but their officers started a fight among themselves and four of the Russian officers were killed. Then the others were separated."

"The German war office announced that the 30,000 Russians at Fort Bobritz were taken in a battle near Koenigsberg, where it was said the Germans drove the Russians into a swamp and killed 100,000 of them."

Mr. Pfaff also said the Germans had special guns ready that were built to shoot across the English channel from Calais to Dover, which is 22 miles, and were prepared when ready to destroy London. The guns, he said, could carry 27 miles.

"All Europe a Lie Factory."—Congressman Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts, who was chairman of the American money transfer committee in London, said:

"All Europe is a lie factory. He did not believe Russian troops had passed through England for one thing."

"Everybody's mother's wife's sister saw them," he said, "but I could not find one man who might have recognized Russians who laid eyes on any."

Mr. Gardner went to Havre with money for Americans, and 800 French troops sang "God Save the King" in English. British troops were firing. The English soldiers in turn attempted to sing the "Marseillaise" in French, but made a bad job of it.

L. K. Hirsch, who has lived in Rome 12 years, told a different story about Russian troops. He said he was visiting members of the Solomon family at their home between London and Folkestone and saw Russian troops on their way to a vessel waiting for them at Folkestone.

Mrs. C. A. Sporeckles and her niece, Miss Oreville Woodson, were in Strassburg when the war started. Mrs. Sporeckles' automobile was commandeered and a revolver was given to her for it. She lost all her baggage.

Other passengers were G. W. McEwen, a San Francisco lawyer, who was a member of the American committee in Munich; Mrs. Lillian Duke, Henry George, Jr., Dr. Solomon Schechter, president of the Hebrew Theological seminary of America; Asst. Dist. Atty. Robert C. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor.

WELCOME TO GARDNER

Essex County Delegation of 3000
Meets Him at Station—Tells of Relief Work in London

HAMILTON, Sept. 19.—Never in the history of Essex county did any man receive a more enthusiastic welcome home than was extended last night to Congressman A. P. Gardner, who has just returned from Europe, where he had been engaged in relief work at the American embassy in London.

Long before the arrival of the train at the Westham and Hamilton station at 7.37, 3000 people from all sections of the county had gathered in Depot square. As the congressman stepped from the train, in company with his private secretary, W. W. Laflin, the crowd played "Hail to the Chief," and the crowd gave three cheers for the congressman, who raised his hat in recognition.

The congressman went to his automobile and was met by a delegation of 500 men and women, led by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dodge, followed by the band. Nearly 500 men and women, more than 500 automobiles were in line. They proceeded to the town hall, a distance of two miles.

The hall, which has seating capacity for 500, was not large enough for the crowd, so Mr. Gardner delivered his address from the front steps. He devoted his entire speech to a description of his trip abroad and avoided politics. He said in part:

Drinks Ambassador Pledge
"When the war broke out I went to the embassy and reported for duty, as every man who was in the employ of the United States government did. I found that it was not the French, and it wasn't the English that we had our interest in, but it was our own people, the people who were no more involved in the issue than the South Americans, and yet suffering far more than the English themselves."

"You think of Americans going abroad as rich people who can take care of themselves. Did you ever think of the great numbers of school teachers who leave their homes so that they can take a trip abroad and get back for the beginning of school? Why the continent of Europe was covered with them. A very great number have been sent back to the United States, and a great number are still suffering in the nooks and corners of the continent from which we could not get them out."

SAYS BRITISH MARSHAL LOVES GAME OF WAR—NAPOLEON, THE SOLDIER, STILL HIS HERO

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Charlotte Despard, interviewed yesterday about her brother, Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces fighting in France, said:

"My brother will be one of the happiest men in the field. The war game is his own passion. He loved it when he was a boy. He loved it and preaching were his only hobbies."

"Napoleon was, and is still, his hero. But it is Napoleon, the soldier, not Napoleon, the politician. Indeed, Sir John holds very strongly that a soldier should stick to his sword."

"That is one of his first axioms in life. My brother has made Napoleon his hero, because the Corsican was the greatest tactician the world has ever known."

"In one curious way his Napoleon cult has been unexpectedly useful. In pursuing his hero worship, he has traced every battle and hedge row of the country over which he is now fighting. He knows the Belgian theatre of war by heart, through the Waterloo campaign, before he ever landed there."

"War is the game the general best loves. It is the game he has spent his life in learning. He thinks it the greatest game of all, and when he is in action he is the happiest warrior in all the world."

Mrs. Despard is almost as notable a figure in England as her distinguished brother. She is a vehement militant suffragette, and has hungered in jail for "the cause" of the Women's Freedom League, of which she is an active member.

During the Boer war, in which his brother acquired much of his fame, Mrs. Despard became equally famous. She ranked with David Lloyd George and John Burns as a bitter opponent of the war, and kept up a virulent attack upon the British government from a platform of the Nelson column, in Trafalgar square, during the complete nonchalance the tomatoes, eggs, and even knives, that were flung at her.

2000 MARISTS IN FRENCH ARMY

Several Who Were Formerly Teachers in Lowell Have Joined the Colors—Anxiety at St. Joseph's College

There is probably no other party in Lowell who follows up all the smallest details of the European war like the Marist Brothers, who are in charge of St. Joseph's college of this city. Of course there is a reason for most of the brothers were born in France and they have close relatives as well as a large number of members of their order on the battlefield.

Bro. Leon Bernardin, superior of the Marist order in this city, received word yesterday that over 2,000 members of the Marist order in France have enlisted under the colors, and among them are several former teachers in Lowell and other New England cities. The large Marist college known as Valbonne preparatory school and located at St. Etienne, France, has been taken over by the government and converted into a hospital for the injured soldiers.

Bro. Leon Bernardin has a young brother in the army, Ferdinand Guen, who has joined the infantry at Epinal, France, while his other brother, who was in the states is now en route to France to enlist. The latter is Jean Marie Guen, a member of the territorial reserve. Mr. Guen is 36 years of age and lived in Lowell about one year, he being an expert silk weaver in the employ of the Morton mills. He sailed last Wednesday from New York and he is to join the infantry at Le Fay, France.

Several local Marist brothers expected to be mobilized into the army, but as yet they have not received their route papers. Most of them are members of the active reserve and at the outbreak of the war they expected to be ordered to their respective regiments, but their route papers are still to come, and it was stated yesterday as soon as these papers arrive the young men will leave the school and return to their country, where they will enlist. According to information received most of the men who are in religious orders and who enlist, are given assignments in hospitals and other places.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NEWS
PLAY LIKE CHILDREN

LONDON, Sept. 19.—In the great steel and glass pavilion known as the Olympia, where only a few months ago fashion and nobility gathered for the annual military tournament and the horse show, there are now detained some 600 Germans, Austrians and Hungarians, whom the government thinks best to keep under key until the end of the war. The number often passes 600, but the daily arrivals are reduced by drafts being sent to the detention camps in the country.

Neither the British government nor the official workings of the German-Austrian departments of the American embassy and consulate know the number of these "alien enemies" in the United Kingdom. Estimates range from 50,000 to 50,000, including women and children.

Most of the better class have received police permits to remain at liberty, reporting at stated times to the police stations. Of these many continue in employment, although the discharging of clerks, teachers, government employees and servants is becoming more common as the war feeling grows.

The women are required to register with the police, are supported by charitable funds or not by the 200,000 marks ($47,600) appropriated by the German government for the relief of subjects in England. But the vast majority of unemployed are penniless, who are at once sent to a detention camp. The source of concern to the police, have been gathered into various detention camps.

There are several of these camps in England. The one near Aldershot has over 200 inmates. They live in a tent city within a barbed wire enclosure. As an extra inducement to remain inside the barbed wire, the prisoners are deprived of their shoes. Other large camps are at Liverpool and Manchester. It is expected that the prisoners will soon be put to work in the fields, just as the detained aliens have been in Germany.

The asphalt floor of the Olympia is the largest under one roof in London. It gives the prisoners plenty of space for exercise, which takes generally the form of children's games. They run after each other and shout like schoolboys in a playground.

EVANGELIST TENT LECTURES
The last of the Evangelist tent lectures which have been attracting large congregations to the tent in Varnum avenue will take place Sunday evening, September 20, at 7.45 o'clock. The subject will be "The Marriage Supper of the Lamb." Hereafter it is the intention to hold the meetings in Odd Fellows hall, 361 Bridge street, on Saturday afternoons and Sunday evenings. A large attendance is expected at the final lecture in the tent tomorrow night.

GRAND LARCENY IN NEW YORK, HAS WORRIED POLICE
PROVIDENCE, Sept. 19.—Charles Gondorp, "king of the wire tappers," who was convicted of grand larceny in the first degree in a New York court Thursday, is a native of Providence.

He, his two brothers, George and Fred, and half a dozen other associates have kept the police of a number of American cities exceedingly busy during the past 15 years. Their aged parents are still living in this city, passing the last days of a useful and honest life. The father was a shoemaker. Their fourth brother, who still lives in this city, has never been associated in their eventful career.

The Gondorfs never operated in Rhode Island.

WOULDN'T PREVENT WAR

Russian Book Says Germany Refused—England Asked Delay in Starting Hostilities

LONDON, Sept. 19.—There has just been received in London a copy of the Russian Orange Book, giving the Russian diplomatic correspondence from the time the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia was issued to the outbreak of the war. The first despatch in the book is from the Russian charge d'affaires at Belgrade to the foreign minister at St. Petersburg. It tells of the ultimatum and says Serbia solicited the aid of Russia as the Serbian government could not accept the Austrian demands. This was on July 23.

More Than is Asked
The next day, M. Sazonoff, the foreign minister, instructed the Russian charge d'affaires at Vienna to tell Count Berchtold, the Austrian foreign minister that it was inadvisable that the 48-hour time limit to Serbia be stronger in order to give the powers time to smooth out the complications.

The despatch said, inasmuch as Austria was willing to inform the powers of the results of the inquiry upon which the ultimatum was based, "she ought, therefore, have given them time to consider them. A refusal to prolong the term of the ultimatum would deprive of all weight the proceeding of the Austro-Hungarian government toward the powers and would be in contradiction with the very bases of international relations."

Russian representatives in England, Germany, Italy and France were told to urge those countries to make similar representations to Vienna.

The same day the Russian charge d'affaires at Berlin telegraphed that all the Berlin papers welcomed with great sympathy the energetic tone of Austria while the official Lokal Anzeiger was particularly aggressive and stigmatized as superfluous the appeals of Serbia to St. Petersburg, Paris, Athens and Bucharest.

The charge d'affaires telegraphed that the German ambassador had visited the French foreign minister and told him if Serbia refused the ultimatum Austria would be obliged to have recourse to military measures. The ambassador told the minister that Germany thought the settlement of the question should be left to Austria and Serbia.

Austria Refuses Delay
July 25 the Russian charge at Vienna telegraphed that Count Berchtold was away, but that his representative said he could predict with certainty Berchtold's categorical refusal of Russia's proposal for delay, and a few hours later his refusal formally was given by Austria.

On the same day the charge in Berlin telegraphed that he was unable to induce Germany to bring pressure on Austria for delay. England, on the other hand, as shown by a telegram from the ambassador in London, not only worked hard for an extension of the ultimatum, but suggested that if the time limit were not extended the result might be secured by Austrian delay in beginning hostilities, if Serbia refused the ultimatum.

JURORS HELD ALL NIGHT
Sealed Verdict on the Brassard Case to be Opened Monday Morning

After being confined in the jury room on the top floor of the Gorham street court house for over 12 hours, the jury that heard the case of Rose Brassard, charged with maintaining a house of ill fame, finally made a report which was sealed and will be opened at the resumption of the criminal session of superior court in this city next Monday morning. The case was tried Thursday afternoon and Friday morning and was given to the jurors shortly before the noon recess yesterday.

Two of the jurors who live in points too remote to travel after midnight were obliged to remain in the building throughout the night.

APPLE GROWERS GATHER HELD AN OUTING
PROFESSOR REES GIVES PICTURE OF ENOUGH PEOPLE IN COUNTRY TO CONSUME CROP

STOW, Sept. 19.—Fruit growers to the number of 135 gathered at the farm of Lyman F. Priest at Gleasondale yesterday afternoon to witness a demonstration of apple packing and hear suggestions relative to the best methods of handling this year's crop. Prof. Ralph Rees of the Massachusetts Agricultural college gave points and demonstrations.

Prof. Rees said the crop of 1914 was not the largest in history. Five times in the past 12 years the crop has been larger, he said. The crop of the United States was 7 per cent above the average for a period of 10 years, while that of Massachusetts showed a yield of 12 per cent above the average for a similar period.

The export market is paralyzed to a certain degree, he said, but this condition is overestimated in many cases. The export trade under normal conditions averages 3 per cent of the commercial crop of the country. The speaker said that it was impossible to ship apples abroad tended to keep down prices. Prof. Rees thought that despite unfavorable conditions, 1 per cent of the total crop will be exported this year.

Prof. Rees believed a hopeful feature for the growers lay in the fact that the United States contains people enough to consume the apple crop if it is properly distributed. Again, the quality of fruit put upon the market would affect the general result.

W. M. Davis, proprietor of the Assabet Hill orchard, spoke of his advertising campaign in the Globe for the selling of apples direct to the consumer in cartons, which has been attended with gratifying results. He believed that other growers would find it to their advantage to adopt this method.

The conference was in charge of Wesley H. Bronson of the Marlboro Agricultural school, and agricultural students from Concord and Marlboro were in attendance.

IS NATIVE OF PROVIDENCE
CHAS. GONDORP, CONVICTED OF GRAND LARCENY IN NEW YORK, HAS WORRIED POLICE

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 19.—Charles Gondorp, "king of the wire tappers," who was convicted of grand larceny in the first degree in a New York court Thursday, is a native of Providence.

He, his two brothers, George and Fred, and half a dozen other associates have kept the police of a number of American cities exceedingly busy during the past 15 years. Their aged parents are still living in this city, passing the last days of a useful and honest life. The father was a shoemaker. Their fourth brother, who still lives in this city, has never been associated in their eventful career.

lar representations to Vienna. The same day the Russian charge d'affaires at Berlin telegraphed that all the Berlin papers welcomed with great sympathy the energetic tone of Austria while the official Lokal Anzeiger was particularly aggressive and stigmatized as superfluous the appeals of Serbia to St. Petersburg, Paris, Athens and Bucharest.

The charge d'affaires telegraphed that the German ambassador had visited the French foreign minister and told him if Serbia refused the ultimatum Austria would be obliged to have recourse to military measures. The ambassador told the minister that Germany thought the settlement of the question should be left to Austria and Serbia.

Austria Refuses Delay
July 25 the Russian charge at Vienna telegraphed that Count Berchtold was away, but that his representative said he could predict with certainty Berchtold's categorical refusal of Russia's proposal for delay, and a few hours later his refusal formally was given by Austria.

On the same day the charge in Berlin telegraphed that he was unable to induce Germany to bring pressure on Austria for delay. England, on the other hand, as shown by a telegram from the ambassador in London, not only worked hard for an extension of the ultimatum, but suggested that if the time limit were not extended the result might be secured by Austrian delay in beginning hostilities, if Serbia refused the ultimatum.

JURORS HELD ALL NIGHT
Sealed Verdict on the Brassard Case to be Opened Monday Morning

After being confined in the jury room on the top floor of the Gorham street court house for over 12 hours, the jury that heard the case of Rose Brassard, charged with maintaining a house of ill fame, finally made a report which was sealed and will be opened at the resumption of the criminal session of superior court in this city next Monday morning. The case was tried Thursday afternoon and Friday morning and was given to the jurors shortly before the noon recess yesterday.

Two of the jurors who live in points too remote to travel after midnight were obliged to remain in the building throughout the night.

MRS. RAY'S LOW COST MENUS

FOR THE COMING WEEK

With a view to supplying housekeepers with ready cooking recipes sufficiently simple to be practical and sufficiently inexpensive to be economical, The Sun today publishes the first of a series of Mrs. Ray's menus to appear weekly, on Saturday. For sake of variety, there will be a separate menu prepared for every day in the week. Housekeepers will do well to cut out these articles and preserve them for future reference as the writer is an eminent authority on all dietary matters. By studying these articles housekeepers will be enabled to reduce the cost of living which in this era of high prices is an important problem in every household.—Editor.

STATE CANDIDATE SORE

Preferred List Rends Harmony of Republicans — Rebel Slate is Being Circulated

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The feeling of harmony and apparent good fellowship which has characterized the contest for places on the republican state ticket was rudely shattered yesterday when it became known that a "rebel" slate is being circulated throughout the state containing the following list of preferred candidates:

For lieutenant governor—Grafton D. Cushing of Boston.
For secretary of state—Frank L. Brier of Boston.
For state treasurer—Frederick E. Pierce of Greenfield.
For auditor—Joseph Monette of Lawrence.
For attorney-general—John A. Curtin of Brookline.

It was said yesterday that large batches of cards had been shipped from Boston to republicans of prominence in various parts of the state for distribution, and that some of them were sent out with the personal address of Herman Hornell, chairman of the Boston city committee, while others were being shipped from the state committee headquarters.

Hornell admitted yesterday that he was responsible for the distribution of about 4000 of the cards containing the above slate, but declared that he is doing it on his own individual responsibility.

Chairman Thurston, Executive Secretary Felt and all of the employees at state committee headquarters emphatically deny that any slate has been sent out by them, and they challenge anybody to prove that the state organization is taking any hand in the primary fight outside of the contest for the auditor nomination.

Candidates Saying Things
In spite of the denial of Chairman Thurston and the state committee men, and in view of the admission by Chairman Hornell of the Boston city committee, most of the candidates not included on the slate are saying things along which are not altogether complimentary to the organization men.

Kinney of Boston, candidate for secretary of state, was in a particularly witty state of mind yesterday. He was extremely caustic in his criticism of Chairman Hornell of the city committee.

Curtin Makes Reply
Kinney addressed letters to Grafton Cushing and John Curtin, the "rebel" slate.

INTERIOR OF HOSPITAL, TERMONDE, BELGIUM, DAMAGED AND BURNED IN GERMAN ATTACK

Belgian Hospital at Termonde, burned by Germans. This war picture was taken at Termonde, Belgium, a fortified town sixteen miles east of Ghent. It shows the interior of the hospital there which was burned by the Germans. When the town was attacked the German shells raked the town, and the hospital was shot full of holes. The patients were removed when the engagement began and spent the night in the fields. Several of the wounded soldiers died as a result of the exposure.

IMPORTANT FREIGHT CHANGE

Local Railroad Offices Improve System of Handling Inward and Outward Shipments—Great Improvement to Lowell Business

Local business firms will rejoice much to know that W. G. Parkin, general agent of the Boston & Maine Railroad in this city, has at last succeeded in perfecting arrangements whereby the inward and outward freight business of Lowell may be kept entirely distinct. For years, owing to the many scattered yards, the inadequate track facilities, the two freight offices of Western avenue and Thorndike street and the frequent transfers from and to the New York, New Haven and Hartford yards, there was an apparent lack of system which was not the fault of the local offices, but which was a constant source of annoyance. Those who wished to make a freight shipment were never sure to which freight house they should take it and the heads of the local departments were compelled to answer constant telephone inquiries. The same held true of inward shipments which, instead of coming to one distributing point, were scattered over two or three, with resultant confusion. Generally speaking, all outward shipments going to a southern point were sent from the Thorndike street house; northern shipments went from Western avenue. In like manner inward shipments which, in the past, were found at Thorndike street and Western avenue respectively, were now sent to a single point, which at its best was a contradictory and confusing system, and one of which the public complained continually.

Commencing next Monday, Sept. 21, all outward shipments of freight will be made from Western avenue, no matter what the destination may be, and all inward freight will come to the Thorndike street storehouse. The change may be a little confusing at first but it will do away with a great deal of trouble and will be approved by the general public without delay. Important changes are now being made in the routine of the offices so as to accommodate conditions to the new system. There will be no changes in the working force but the office system will be entirely revised so as to facilitate the carrying out of the improved arrangements.

WAR ORDERS TELL OF GREATEST HEROISM

Eloquent Hints of Sacrifices Made to Gain Advantage—Officers and Men Regardless of Personal Safety—Order of Day Shows How Murderous is the Modern Warfare

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Fragments of news from the front confirm the serious character of the combat on the Aisne. Some of those wounded on Thursday who have arrived here, declared that the fighting was even more violent than on the Marne, and that the losses on both sides must be heavy. The English, as on the Aisne, are bearing the brunt of the counter-attacks and are conducting themselves brilliantly.

After a four days' constant hammering the German artillery slackened its fire last evening during a heavy down-pour of rain which lasted all night.

The trenches must have been nearly filled with water, diminishing greatly the advantage of the defensive works prepared by the Germans and at the same time adding to the sufferings of the wounded.

Returning confidence is shown in the return to Paris of many who took refuge in Bordeaux and other provincial towns on the approach of the Germans. Some of the newspapers temporarily at Bordeaux are getting ready to publish in Paris again. The Daily Mail comes back today. The government, however, probably will remain until the war is practically ended.

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF A CHOICE BUILDING LOT ON THE WEST SIDE OF WENTWORTH AVENUE, IN THE OAKLANDS.

ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26th, 1914, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

The owner of the above lot has instructed me to sell at public auction to whomsoever will bid the most, one of the finest building lots in that beautiful residential section of Belvidere known as the Oaklands.

The lot has a frontage on Wentworth Avenue of 83 feet, and a total area of 14,378 square feet; it has sewer, gas and electricity; the street has recently been newly macadamized.

This is a splendid chance for anyone thinking of erecting a house to purchase a lot in a strictly home locality, and one that is rapidly growing, and also a location that will remain exclusively residential.

If you are looking for a choice lot at your own price, attend this sale. Terms: $75 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as struck off.

For Alleged Sale of Liquor at Venice Villa in Billerica—Many Witnesses Testified in Court

Two sessions of police court were made necessary this morning on account of the two liquor cases upon the docket. Both of these cases involved a large number of witnesses and were very lengthy.

The Billerica liquor case, in which James and Christina Zecchini, owners of the Venice Villa were individually charged with the illegal sale of liquor, was heard before Judge Enright while Judge Pickham sat on the other cases.

The Billerica case was begun a week ago and developed into a so-called "spotter" case. The evidence introduced at the first hearing was to the

INEFFICIENCY IN LIGHTING

MORE STREET LIGHTS NEEDED IN MERRIMACK AND CENTRAL STREETS

Although Lowell is not as badly in need of light by night as some cities, it is a well known fact that there is a lack of efficiency in the lighting system that could easily be remedied with beneficial results. To a resident of the city this fact, perhaps, is not very noticeable, but the first thing that attracts a visitor in the city in walking down Central street or up Merrimack street is the almost entire lack of street lights. Particularly is this noticeable at the present time at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets, where the A. W. Dows Drug Co. was formerly situated. Since the removal of the company to its present quarters in Bridge street this corner has been in almost total darkness by night. The only light that now strikes this corner comes from the stores on either side and these are only available on certain nights in the week.

The only street lights that might possibly cast their beneficent rays in this darkened direction are situated in front of the J. L. Chalfoux store, one directly opposite in front of Mitchell, the tailor's, and one farther up the street in front of F. E. Bailey's drug store. The only light in Central street that is anywhere near this corner is situated in front of the Harrington building, opposite Middle street.

A city the size of Lowell can ill afford to have such a state of affairs exist, and it behooves us to call the attention of the proper officials to the fact that it is high time that something was done in the way of street lighting, so that our daughters, sisters and wives can at least walk up and down our main streets without the fear of being insulted, or possibly attacked by some cowardly person who can easily hide his identity under cover of the darkness.

REAR OF BATTLE FRONT SCARRED WITH GRAVES

LONDON, Sept. 19.—If reliance can be placed on British and French assertions that the right wing of the Germanic horde which stretches across northeastern France is slowly yielding, then the battle of the Aisne seems likely to follow the course of the battle of the Marne, for there it was the German right first fell back across the river.

Along the 150 mile front, the rear of which is scarred with graves of thousands whose lives already have been sacrificed, two armies comprising millions of nerve-wracked men rapidly approaching a stage of exhaustion and standing in trenches deep with water, wait an opportunity to drive a wedge through the opposing line and thus end the terrible strain which must last so long as Emperor William's troops hold their now strongly entrenched positions and so long as the allied forces can face the murderous hail of projectiles from the hidden batteries of their opponents.

Both the British and the French admit that it will take almost a superhuman effort to turn the tide, the strength of the German position being emphasized in almost every despatch from the front.

These in London closely following the war base the chief hope of the allies in a possible envelopment of the German right wing under General Von Kluck, who has heretofore shown himself a master of strategy. Renewed activity on the part of the allied cavalry and a significant movement of the allied troops to the north and west of the German line of communication together with a possible advance of fresh allied troops from the north through Amiens, gives expression to these hopes.

A fact which stands out among the varied accounts of the hostilities is the utter prodigality with which the Germans throw forward man after man in close formation in an attempt to carry a position. The tremendous losses they have suffered seems not to have changed their tactics.

Despatches received from Paris late last night noting a lull in the struggle is taken here to refer to the artillery only, and today perhaps may see the most sanguinary infantry fighting since the start of the battle of the Aisne one week ago. From the eastern theatre continue to come further reports of overwhelming Russian victories against the Austrians in Galicia and of the stubborn German pressure on the Russian frontier to the north in which the Russians appear to be holding their own.

GRAPHIC STORY BY CORRESPONDENT FROM POINT BEHIND THE LINES

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Times correspondent from a point behind the lines at Senlis and Chantilly, under date of Sept. 16, writes:

"The allies succeeded in crossing the line Sunday after a most desperate struggle. On the north bank the Germans were able to reform their lines and obtained large reinforcements.

"On Monday a second and greater battle opened all along the line. Details are scanty, but there is every indication that the struggle has been, if possible, more terrible and greater than the struggle on the banks of the Marne.

"General Von Kluck's defense demanded the allies' utmost strength and determination. Smashing attacks have been made and sustained in a manner that will make this battle one of the most momentous of the whole campaign. I have heard narratives how columns went down again and again to the blazing death in the valley and how the men worked in this inferno.

"In the trenches, likewise, there are tales of heroism. A wounded private told me:

"We lay in the trench, my friend and I, and when the order to fire came we shot and shot till our rifles burned up. Still they swarmed on toward us and then my friend received a bad wound. I turned to my work again, continuing to shoot slowly. Then I tossed a little too high on my shoulder. Do you know what it is like to be wounded? A little sting pierced my arm like a hot wire, too sharp almost to be sore and my rifle fell from me.

2700 FRENCH PRISONERS

BERLIN, Sept. 19 (by wireless via Saville, L. L.).—The following official statement from the German army headquarters was issued today:

"It is reported that a decisive attack is being made by the 13th and Fourth army corps and part of other German divisions south of Noyon with loss.

"Reinforcements have been ordered and 2500 French prisoners captured.

"Attacks along the entire battle front are being easily repulsed.

"The invasion of the Alpine ridges over the Vosges into the Breizach valley has been repulsed.

MIDDLESEX NORTH FAIR

Final Day Attracted Large Attendance—Lowell School Gardens Win Prize

The two-days' fair held by the Middlesex North Agricultural Society under the auspices of the Dracut branch at Dracut Centre Thursday and yesterday, was brought to a close last night and the organizers were well paid for their efforts for the fair was a real success in every way. The weather was ideal and the attendance each day was very gratifying.

Yesterday's program consisted of out-door sports, open air speaking, baby show and other interesting events and the large gathering present enjoyed immensely each number on the program. As on the previous day an excellent dinner was served at noon and a most enjoyable day was spent by all present.

The special prizes for school gardens were awarded to Lowell public schools and the children are elated over the result of their work. Many other prizes went to Lowell people, who made a very good showing at the exhibition.

The forenoon was spent in visiting the various exhibits and at the close of the dinner an open air meeting was held under the direction of Lapham T. Trull, the principal address being delivered by Mrs. Alfred Wood Park of Boston, who spoke on "Equal Suffrage." James Stuart Murphy of this city also addressed the gathering on the same subject.

In the latter part of the afternoon a fire alarm contest was held between the companies from Dracut Centre and Chelmsford Centre and the prize was awarded to the latter company. There was also keen interest in the contest between a pair of heavy horses and 10 men for $10 a side. The horses literally pulled the men off their feet and they did not work very hard to do it either.

Baby Show
A feature of the afternoon was the baby show which resulted as follows:

In division one for boys under one year and over six months, Herbert Adam Sturtevant of Chelmsford and Kenneth Whitman of Dracut were first place. First honors for girls in this division were awarded to Eleanor Martha Thomas of Lowell.

In division two, between one and two years, Alfred Norman Devine of Lowell and Hazel Adair Colburn of Dracut were first.

Handsome boy under one year: Arthur Kitchen, Jr., of Lowell, first; Herbert Sturtevant, Chelmsford, second. Plumpiest boy: Leon Beechell, Lowell, first; Jonathan Bancroft, Tyngsboro, second. Girls under one year: Dorothy Mills, Lowell, first; Dorothy Lavoie, second. Plumpiest girl: Josephine Gallagher, first; Dorothy Richardson, second.

Handsome boy over one year: Carl Young, Lowell, first; David James Fox, Lowell, second. Girls over one year: Margaret Ryan, first; Hazel Colburn, Dracut, second. Plumpiest: Gladys Frances Heathcock, first; second, Lucella Sousa, Lowell.

The handsome twins were May Rose and Sophie Chaire Lavoie of Lowell. The youngest child was Muriel Alice Macquarrie.

School Contest
In the floral and vegetable display for public schools, the West street school of this city was awarded first prize. The Argonne street school got first prize for asters and dianthus, while the Lyon street got second prize for general floral display. The Cabot street school was awarded third prize for general floral display.

Awards
The other awards throughout the exhibit were as follows:
Household and fancy work: Nellie Stowell, lace insertion, 1; Florence Welch, crocheted, 1; 1; Mabello Carpenter, slippers, 1; lace, 2; Mrs. Frank Hodges Hudson, cushion on skirt, 1; 1; P. B. Bacon, bedspread, 1; Mrs. H. B. Harding, Billerica, knit slippers, 1; crocheted jacket, 1; Mrs. Perry Phil, Tyngsboro, bag, 1; Mrs. Fred Fox, Dracut, cushion set, 1.
Children's exhibit, poultry, etc.: Bart Bryant, Dracut, rabbit, 2; J. Benson, Dracut, hantons, two gratitudes; Roy Stacey, Chelmsford, rabbit, gratuity; Anna Threl, Chelmsford, game bird, gratuity; Arthur Allen, Chelmsford, 1; 1; 1; 2; Charles Woodworth, Chelmsford, 1; 1; 1; 1; game bird, gratuity; Kenneth Fiske, Chelmsford, ducks, 1; octave Foster, East Chelmsford, ducks, 2; Frank Cassidy, North Chelmsford, hen, gratuity; John Slight, Collinsville, hantam, gratuity; Theodore Emerson, Chelmsford, hantam, gratuity; J. C. Peabody, Dracut, two birds, 1; second and two gratitudes on hantams.

TEDDY IN KANSAS

Making Rapid Tour in Interest of Progressive Party

WICHITA, Kas., Sept. 13.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, reaching here today, expected to begin a rapid tour through Kansas in the interests of the progressive party. Three addresses have been arranged, one here today, another in Hutchinson tonight, and a third in Kansas City Monday night. From Kansas City, Mr. Roosevelt will go to Lincoln, Neb., to speak. It was planned to ask Col. Roosevelt to make short speeches in several towns through which this special carrying the party was to pass, but it was believed these requests would be refused.

The winners in the arts and crafts were: George F. Foss of Lowell, H. H. Hall of Chelmsford, Mrs. Ephraim Hall of Dracut, Miss Irene White of Dracut, Walter Burnett of Lowell, Ethel S. Johnson of Lowell, Mrs. G. V. Hazeltine of Chelmsford.

The winners in the fancy work contest were: Nellie Spaulding of Lowell, Nellie Atwell of Lowell, G. B. Lovejoy of Lowell, Florence Weidick of Lowell, May Upham of Lowell, Gladys Crozier of Dracut, Mrs. J. M. Crosby of Dracut, Mrs. B. E. Harding of Billerica, Mrs. J. W. Bailey of Lowell, Mrs. J. L. Coffin of Dracut, Miss Gertrude Fox of Dracut, Martha Foster of Billerica, Mabel Carpenter of Dracut, Mrs. Harry Fox of Dracut, Mrs. A. G. Tins of Dracut, Blanche Newell of Lowell, Violet Macgregor of Dracut, M. C. Barry of Lowell.

James J. McManis got seven prizes as follows:
Nursery stock, first and second; delphinium, 1st prize; phlox, 1st; display of palms, 1st; plants, 1st prize; H. V. Greene, second; display of geraniums in bloom, 1st; dahlias, 1st; flowering plants in pots, 1st.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

BELIEVES HE WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE IN 1916—HE SAYS HE HOPES HE WON'T ANYWAY

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 13.—Edward C. Carrington, Jr., republican nominee for the United States senate yesterday made public a letter under date of August 27 last, from Col. Theodore Roosevelt, which, after saying "there are certain states where the republican candidates have declared they are for me in 1916," goes on to say:

"As regards the announcement for myself I do not regard it as amounting to anything, because in the first place I not only hope, but at the present time believe that I will not be a candidate in 1916, and also, what is more important, because it is of no earthly consequence to endorse me unless the principles for which I stand are endorsed."

Col. Carrington was a strong supporter of Col. Roosevelt in the last presidential campaign, but afterward returned to the republican party.

SAYS TIME IS NOT OPPORTUNE FOR GENERAL TRADE CAMPAIGN IN SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Secretary Redfield informed the senate yesterday that the time was not opportune for a general trade campaign in South America. Moreover, replying to the senate's resolutions asking for an estimate of the probable cost of sending government vessels carrying American supplies and trade envoys, in South America's principal ports, the secretary suggested that displays of "individual and corporate products should not be made under the auspices of the federal government."

The effect of the European war has not impaired the ultimate purchasing power of South America, Mr. Redfield said, but its present buying strength and resources of current credit are adversely affected.

GERMANS HAVE NO FEAR

Of Outcome of Battle in France—They Believe That French Army Has Shot its Bolt

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—Members of the general staff here, in private conversation, have manifested absolute confidence in the outcome of the battle in France, as their own army is steadily growing stronger and the lines of communication have been adjusted to permit of a more efficient supply of provisions and ammunition, it having rather outrun its supply arrangements in the rapid advance on Paris.

The French army, according to the night bulletin, is showing signs of having shot its bolt and fought itself to a standstill, being unable to fill its depleted ranks like the Germans. The Germans, according to last night's bulletin, are slowly but surely gaining ground in the center.

The headquarters' announcements still give no definite information regarding the position of the battle line, containing themselves with speaking of it generally as located between the Oise and Meuse rivers.

About Werner von Baulieu, one of the best known German aviators, has been killed. He was mortally wounded while reconnoitering a hostile position on September 4, but clung to the steering gear until he and his observer had safely landed within the German lines. He then collapsed. As a result of the trip the observer was able to deliver a valuable report.

Well Known Sculptor Killed
The well known sculptor, Friedrich

Mannschmidt, captain of the fourth foot guards, was killed in the battle near Chalons.

Herman Wendell, the socialist member of the Reichstag, who caused a sensation during the budget debate by closing his speech with the words "Long live France" has volunteered in the Frankfurter Landsturm battalion, and has seen service in Belgium.

He writes to the socialist organ that he could not sit quietly before the fire while the whole nation was fighting for its existence.

A shower of steel arrows, released by French aviators over a mile high in the air, is the most modern terror of war, according to accounts of German wounded printed in the Munich Medical Weekly. The arrows which are of pressed steel from four to six inches long and a quarter of an inch in diameter, have a heavy pointed head and a sharp barbed shaft. The arrows seem to have caused more surprise than actual damage. Only one man was killed in the attack described, the other missiles causing mostly flesh wounds.

The regiment to which the wounded belong, resting in close battalion formation, paid little attention to two aviators circling a mile overhead until the novel projectiles suddenly rained down, scattering far and wide. Men were wounded in three companies. As many as possible crawled under the wagons and escaped another shower of them.

Crown Prince George and Prince Frederick Christian, of Saxony, have been awarded the Iron Cross.

DRACUT

On account of the overflow of pupils at the Parker avenue school in Dracut, the members of the school board have decided to open the spare room at the Goodhue school on Monday. This decision was taken after a conference between the chairman of the school board, H. B. Lincoff, and the superintendent of the district, C. B. Randall. Miss Alice McKeon has been appointed as teacher and Miss Elizabeth Whipple, who has been in charge of the altar room for some time, will act as principal.

DIED AT SUMMER HOME

MRS. HARRIET PARKER, MOTHER OF JUDGE PARKER, PASSED AWAY

DERBY, Conn., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Harriet Stratton Parker, mother of Judge Alton D. Parker of Essex, N. Y., died at the summer home of her daughter on Pond Point, Milford, today after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Parker was born in Orange county, New York, in 1825. Married in early life, Mrs. Parker lived in Cortlandt, N. Y., until her daughter was married to Mayor James A. Miles of this city, about 14 years ago when she came here to live. The surviving children are Judge Parker, Frederick H. Parker of Albany and Mrs. Miles.

A service will be held at Mr. Miles' home on Monday morning and the body will be taken to Cortlandt for interment on Tuesday.

THE SPELLBINDER

A senatorial candidate who recently made a tour of the country towns in his district returned to Lowell with the report that all the country residents wanted to discuss with him was the war, and that some of them hadn't come to a realization of the fact that the state caucuses are on next Tuesday. As a general rule it is the man who neglects to go to the caucuses who makes the biggest protest over the results of the primaries. But a man who doesn't take interest enough to go to a primary and vote for the candidate of his choice has no license to criticize the action of those who have sufficient interest to exercise their privilege. While the democrats have no contest on the state ticket this year there are very important contests on in the seventh and eighth senatorial districts and the 15th and 17th representative districts, not forgetting the county commission contest which this year for the first time in history in all probability will result in the ultimate success of the democrats on election day, provided of course, a strong man is placed in nomination. Election day's success depends in a great measure on the good judgment shown in the primary election, and the best judgment is that of the largest number of voters. The fact that there is no Lowell candidate for the position should not deter local democrats from taking part in the primaries. Their interest in county affairs and politics is as great in the first instance and should be in the second, as that of the citizens of any other part of the county.

In the seventh senatorial district, with a fine chance for a democrat to win on election day, the democratic primary contest is between ex-Rep. Thomas S. Cuff, of this city and Thomas S. Dunn, of Lynn. As there are no lively democratic legislative contests in the lower end of this district that will bring out the full strength of the democratic vote on caucus day, Mr. Dunn is giving his entire attention there and apparently has not bothered about the two Lowell wards. In the two wards of Lowell that are included in the seventh there are no legislative contests, but this fact should not cause the democrats of those wards to lose interest and remain away from the polls. All should get out and vote on the senatorial and county commissioner contests.

In the eighth district a big caucus vote is expected on account of several local contests, including the senatorial, in which four candidates are out after the nomination. Senator Draper, the present incumbent, appears to have determined opposition in some quarters, notably Mr. Spence while the senator's friends and those of ex-Senator McMahon appear to be directing their fight against each other. James P. Dunigan and Michael H. Brady are going it alone, with no apparent opposition from any source. The appearance of Mr. Dunigan in the contest puts the result in doubt, for although a resident of North Chelmsford, he is as well known in Lowell as any of the other candidates and has been a party hustler for many years. Mr. Dunigan enters the contest free from enemies in his own party while his past experiences in town politics have proved him to be a great vote getter on election day. Whoever is nominated can win, that is if the party gives him full support on election day.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR SENATOR IN EIGHTH DISTRICT

Mr. Dunigan has served as selectman for four years and as assessor for 11 years in the republican town of Chelmsford. He was chairman for two years of Chelmsford's first water commission and was instrumental in establishing the water system in that town. He led and successfully carried through the fight for a state highway along the south side of the Merrimack river from the Chelmsford line to the Tyngsboro bridge. He has represented the town of Chelmsford at all legislative hearings on matters concerning that town and has a wide acquaintance and influence at the State House. He can think; he can talk; he can act, and if elected will make a useful senator for his district. He is a member of Lowell Aerie of Eagles, Highland Council, R. A., M. C. O. F., and the Central Club. He has no enemies in his own party and many friends in the others. If nominated he will be elected. Safety first! Vote for the candidate who can be elected! Vote for James P. Dunigan!

"The City Hall" Ransay

The practice of seeking Divine guidance in the conduct of municipal affairs having been made popular by two former mayors, one holding communion with the Almighty within the sanctity of his home and the other within the sanctity of his sanctum, it is hoped that the other members of the municipal council will go and do likewise. Speed the happy day when each member before entering the meeting will emulate these pious and worthy officials and sing to the music of Mr. Noy's immortal ballad:

"The hours I spent with thee my heart,
When candidates tormented me;
I count them over every one apart,
My rosary, my rosary.
Each act of mine forethought in prayer,
To still a conscience sorely wrung,
I supplicate unto the end,
And thus my vote is hung.
O memories that bless and burn
Like Hanson's gain and Putnam's loss;
By path alone I see the light, and learn
To mark a cross—sweet vote—to mark a cross."

Something About Paving Blocks

A statement attributed to Commissioner Morse to the effect that the street department will need 300,000 paving blocks to finish this year's work and that they will cost about $2 per thousand has caused certain persons to sit up and take notice and incidentally to ask questions. Some of the questions are as follows:

"Mr. Morse, why didn't you call for bids for paving blocks in April as has been the custom for years, and not wait until the last moment?"

"Is there an opportunity for open competition at this time to supply paving blocks at short notice?"

It is claimed by the critics that in April or thereabouts annually the street department has sent an estimate of the blocks, cement, etc., that will be necessary for the year's work and bids are then called for to supply these materials. This year, it is claimed, no such bids were called for and hence the city is short of blocks.

In the meantime, the critics claim, the Hildreth Granite company has bought up about all the paving blocks available in these parts, except perhaps those of Louis Palmer of Graniteville, who it is said has recently received a big order that will eat up his supply on hand. Thus when the time for calling for bids arrives the Hildreth Granite company, if the critics are right, will have no more to offer to themselves and can charge their own price.

The Hildreth Granite company is composed of several well known granite and paving men. The officials last year were as follows: President, Herbert E. Fletcher; treasurer, Alfred Thomas; clerk, Walter E. Hassam; directors, George D. Webb, Thomas Leach and H. V. Hildreth. The names of Fletcher, Hassam, Leach and Hildreth are familiar as granite producers and paving men from different sections, and there is something decidedly familiar about the name Hassam. Recently the Hildreth Granite company secured the contract to furnish the city of Brockton with paving blocks at a cost of about $2.93 per thousand. Commissioner Morse may be basing his estimate of the probable cost of the blocks soon to be purchased for Lowell on Brockton's experience. But it is said that the freight on paving blocks is only $2 per thousand to Lowell, while it is $16 per thousand to Brockton; some difference. Last year the city of Lowell bought its paving blocks by the square yard, paying $1.19 per yard. Figuring on 334 yards to the thousand, the city paid $39.846 per thousand, somewhat less than $2 per thousand. The critics claim that had the city been called for in the spring before the smaller quarries had sold out their product to the combination the city would have secured the blocks much cheaper than it will get them at the present time. Whether this is true or not will come to light when Commissioner Morse calls for the bids.

More About Paving Blocks

Recently the public was made acquainted with the astonishing fact that 3500 paving blocks had been recovered by the police in the yard of a brother of a former councilman. That number of paving blocks would mean about 18 or 20 loads and would fill a pretty good sized yard. But the blocks were not counted individually, the number simply being estimated and this year's government has seemed to have a weakness for estimates of the mark. Considerable has been said about an enormous number of old paving blocks that have disappeared, and the inference is that they have been stolen. But thousands of old blocks have been used to build a fence about the Franklin school; to pave driveways in school yards so that the coal carts could reach the cellar windows without destroying the yards, while others were used to repave crossings and side streets. It may be that if these jobs were measured up the missing blocks would be accounted for. And they do tell me that the scheme of recutting and relaying old blocks, instead of laying new ones, is only a fine bit of false economy. In the first place there is the expense of recutting and a great amount of waste into the bargain. Then when the old blocks are relaid it takes about 20 per cent more cement than it does with new blocks, and cement is an item of expense, and you do not get the same strength of the bond. They don't last as long as the new blocks which come closer together and prevent water from getting in under them. Finally, it takes more labor to relay old blocks, being smaller more of them are required and in the end it is estimated that recutting and relaying old blocks cost close to $60 per thousand.

The High School Muddle

And now they tell us that the Varnum property will not be ready for occupancy until Dec. 1, and meanwhile we will have two sessions of High school for three months, an injustice to pupils and teachers alike, as the result of the short-sightedness and neglect of our municipal council. This is one matter surely, the responsibility for which cannot be laid at the door of last year's administration. The school board presented the situation at the beginning of the year and found opposition in the ranks of the municipal council. With the situation as it is even the most straight-laced "church member" must admit that there are mighty questions involved in the conduct of municipal affairs than the enforcement of the Sunday laws, relative to the sale of handwheels and the paving of brewery yards.

Has Some Value

The representative contest in ward 2 brought out two of the three candidates in open-air rallies. John J. Quonan opened the series, closely followed by Representative Dennis A. Murphy. Both men made favorable impressions. Representative Murphy surprised those who had never before heard him in public speech by his resonant voice which could be distinctly heard at a great distance and his easy flow of words. Representative Murphy speaks like a seasoned stump orator.

Joke, a la Spence

George T. Spence, the gentleman who is carrying on the trail of Senator Draper has quite a reputation as a punster and when he became active in the campaign his friends expected that he would hand out a new line of puns. But George appears to be deadly in earnest and as yet has uncovered nothing of a jocular nature. The question appears to be, will this opposition to Draper be dis-Spenced with by the voters of the district, or will Henry be Dunligan?

Follows Lowell's Example

And now President Wilson is going to hold communion with the Almighty. Boom Lowell! We've been doing that for a long time.

Closely following the announcement of Commissioner Brown relative to his implicit trust in the Power above came the news that the Kaiser's army has been getting a thorough wallowing and along comes a joker with a reason for the sudden change in the Kaiser's fortunes, to wit, that the Almighty has withdrawn his support from the German emperor and has allied with the Lowell municipal council.

17th Middlesex District

The democratic candidates for the legislature in the 17th district are confident that this year they can overcome the republican majority of that district and go to the state house. A red hot fight has developed among the republicans that undoubtedly will leave its sore spots after the caucuses while the progressives have put up a well known citizen, Pierre Brousseau. The democratic candidates are Joseph P. Whitley who showed good vote-getting ability as a candidate last year; Hercules A. Toupin and Joseph J. Mulvaney, both of whom have served in the board of aldermen, and Thos. J. Mulvaney and Thomas H. Corcoran, both well and favorably known in the district.

Look at Varnum Avenue

Varnum avenue was recently macadamized and yet a correspondent informs The Sun that the top dressing already is beginning to break up and that the street needs to be gone over again at once.

Such Is Fame

The Courier-Citizen's political writer this morning mentions among the republican candidates for attorney-general Messrs. Higgins and "Holland" of Middlesex County. The "Holland" referred to is none other than J. Mott Halliwell, former assistant attorney-general of this state and one of the best known lawyers in Massachusetts.

Jewett and Achin

While the pictures of Jewett and Achin, the perennial candidates for the legislature in the 17th district appear side by side in the daily papers, "they do say" that in ward three the word has been passed around to vote for Jewett alone while in ward six, it's vote for Achin alone. Watch for the bullets.

Another Financial Blunder

Financial blunders on the part of the municipal council are becoming so common that they no longer attract much attention. The latest is the contract for the filtration plant for which the city has awarded the lowest bidder. The city council had had the bid money to pay for it is on hand, and that money is not there at present.

To Sen. Draper

Hon. Senator Henry J. Draper, how many letters have you received from the Trades and Labor Council, asking you to come to their meetings, and up to date you have not done so. Are you afraid to show up? Come out in the open Senator, and tell the truth. Please show us where Foss is a friend of labor. I am not favoring the nomination of any special candidate but am showing the Senator up in his true light. You missed 38 roll calls, Senator. The voters in your district would like to know why.

I submit the following letter received from the Foss campaign committee showing how Mr. Draper stood in the gubernatorial contest last year:

Oct. 27, 1913.
George Spence, Esq.,
236 Chelmsford St.,
Lowell, Mass.

My Dear Sir—Your name has been handed to me by Senator Henry J. Draper, and I take the liberty of asking you to do such service in the interest of the governor's campaign as you may deem wise.

Any names that you can send to me of those whom you think may be interested enough to do some personal work will be gratefully received. I shall be glad to send literature to you or any others whom you may designate.

Trusting to hear from you favorably, I am,
Yours very truly,

H. E. KEITH'S THEATRE

Vaudeville bookings that will please amusement lovers wonderfully well will be featured at the H. E. Keith theatre, next week. As usual eight acts have been secured, and these will come from the so-called "big time" houses. The principal feature for the first three days of the week will be "Doing Well, Thank You," an inimitable little comedy in which James E. Donovan and Marie Lee will be featured. Mr. Donovan is universally known as "The Man from Ireland," and Miss Lee, for perfectly obvious reasons, is widely known as "The Little Beauty." For a pure fun-making combination the two are without any superiors on the vaudeville circuit. "Doing Well, Thank You," is for the sole reason of coining laughter, and while there is a thread of story in it, it is very largely bright patter, some brand new songs and sprightly dancing. That's the sort of a combination which tickles the palate of everybody. Another act, manufactured along the same lines, is "At Economy Junction," in which Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Friel appear. This is a rural affair, with plenty of so-called atmosphere in it and a homely type of comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Friel are well known performers who have had a long list of one-act successes. For downright novelty—and one like unto nothing this town has ever had—Gordon Brothers and their boxing kangaroo will prove the goods. It's a real kangaroo, imported from Australia when very young and taught to box with either front or back feet. And it strikes a blow that no man, under ordinary conditions, could withstand. Furthermore it has a tail of such wonderful strength that it supports its entire body on it. This act has only recently come from the continent, where the advent of war made it necessary to cancel all bookings. King, Carleton and the Clifton Sisters, banjoists and fun-makers, have a very pretty act, and one that holds unique features to it.

For the final half of the week feature acts are again brought forward, with the Hirschoff troupe of Russian singers, dancers and singers headlined. Four men and four women, from Trans-Caucasia constitute this advertising company of entertainers, and they will present bewitching numbers re-

(Boudoir Secrets)
Here is a simple, yet very effective method for removing hair or fuzz from the face, neck or arms: Cover the objectionable hairs with a paste made by mixing some water with a little powdered delectone. Leave this on for two or three minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. No pain or inconvenience attends this treatment but results will be certain if you be sure to get real delectone.

REAL ESTATE and BUILDING NEWS

In introducing a real estate and building news, The Sun will endeavor each week to publish for its readers the latest and most interesting articles available in order that these features may be of the greatest possible value both to the general public and to the advertisers. Consequently, The Sun urges its readers to look for this page each Saturday and to cultivate the habit of reading it throughout. Its title is one that should interest everybody.

That such a newspaper feature, carefully prepared, is bound to be of real value to those interested in real estate and building, in fact to everyone, appears most reasonable, especially in the case of a growing city such as Lowell, where building is constantly receiving added stimulus both in the residential and business sections. On this page will be found the notices of the real estate men, plumbers, furniture dealers, builders and contractors of every description, so that it will serve as a directory to all desiring any work, large or small, done on or within a house or building.

Lowell Building Rapidly

Lowell is building rapidly; new homes are being constantly erected, and several big additions are being made to the business sections. The buildings of the city are most up to date and attractive, and of them the city may well be proud. The business blocks, too, are of modern structure, central location, and especially is the new Sun building an ornament and a credit to the city. All these things are most favorable to the building business of the city, and many predict that Lowell is soon to experience an even greater building boom.

There are many bustling real estate dealers in the city, and all are doing big business, a fact which indicates that people of Lowell regard real estate as about the safest and most highly paying investment. The writer, on interviewing a number of the contractors, found them very optimistic regarding the conditions at the present time, in spite of the cry about the scarcity of money.

The real estate men, builders, contractors, furniture dealers, landscape gardeners, and all others whose business is the building, selling, beautifying, remodeling, equipping of buildings of any description, will find The Sun's real estate and building news the most efficient medium by which to reach the public and receive direct returns. No pains nor expense will be spared in making this new feature as effective as possible.

Readers having items of interest, articles, new ideas on these topics are invited to submit them to The Sun for publication on this page. All copy for the page should be at The Sun's office no later than Thursday evening, in order to secure publication on Saturday.

Week's Building Operations

In accordance with the requirements of the law recently passed regarding safety and fire prevention in garages, extensive inside alterations and remodeling are in progress at the extension of the Lowell Bulk company in Appleton street. The fire commissioner recently visited the garage to make inspection and told the management just what changes were required. The specifications made by the fire commissioner on this occasion are being followed to the letter in the carrying out of the work. A hard plaster and cement wall is being constructed about the entire garage, to separate that department from the other business. This wall will completely separate and protect the large show rooms and salesrooms which form a most attractive portion of the garage, and will also be erected on the western side, between the garage and the establishment of the National Biscuit Co. A cement ceiling is also to be constructed, as well as a cement floor to replace the wooden floor. The door openings in the partitions are to be filled in in the course of the work. The work at the Lowell Bulk company's building is going ahead rapidly, and should be completed within a reasonably short space of time. These alterations will make quite a difference and quite an improvement in the garage.

New School Rooms for Hebrews

Congregation Asile Sward, a local Jewish association, has arranged for extensive alterations, additions and improvements on the headquarters at 143 Howard street and the city building authorities have granted the society a permit for the carrying on of the work. The changes will provide new school accommodations. The main part of the present building, and also the oil portion, are to be moved back about fourteen feet. Then the plan calls for the erection of a brick addition on the site of the part which is to be moved, this addition to be used as a synagogue. Some of the partitions on the first story of the present structure are to be removed and new ones constructed, dividing the space into two large rooms for school purposes, thereby very substantially increasing the school accommodations for the children of the Hebrew population.

These alterations will make a big improvement and the action of the society gives it an even higher position among the progressive organizations of Lowell. The work will be done at a cost of nearly four thousand dollars.

Make Dwelling Two Tenement House

Charles S. Dodge is making extensive alterations to his property at 269 Westford street, which will convert the present cottage on that site into a two tenement house. This is quite a big piece of work, and apparently a very skillfully planned one, which will doubtless greatly increase the value of the property. Mr. Dodge intends that each of the tenements which will result will consist of 6 rooms, pantry and bath. They will have separate entrances.

Remodeling One Family House

Mr. Patrick F. Mahoney also is making extensive alterations upon his property at 68 School street. Mr. Mahoney will change his one-family dwelling house into a two-tenement house. The alterations will result in additional rooms, including two chambers on the second floor and one chamber and new bath and fixtures on the first story.

Renewing Boiler Room Roof

The Lowell Electric Light corporation is renewing the boiler room roof in its building in Ferry street. The roof is being covered with reinforced concrete according to the most modern ideas of building, and the work will be accomplished at a cost of approximately $2,600.

Operations planned by John Racette at his property at 527 Moody street, will result in the converting of the basement of the building into an up-to-date store. The store will have ample room, and a new metal ceiling will be constructed. New windows are to be constructed, and the entrance will be at the corner of Moody and James streets.

To remodel the ell consisting of four rooms and build an addition for a new bath room and fixtures is the intention of Andrew Urzecz. The property in question is located at 25 Elmwood avenue. The work includes extensive interior alterations.

Gen. A. Shaw has been granted a permit by the city authorities to build two storage sheds in the rear of his house in Varnum avenue.

Interior alterations and the changing over of a bath room constitute the work which is to be done by Bernard J. Kelley upon his property at 1 Dracut street. Walking through the various residential sections of the city, one could not but comment upon the large number of new dwelling houses, that are being erected. This is evidence of the continual activity in the building field, and, moreover, bespeaks the rapid growth of the city. The houses are of varied style of construction, some being single dwellings, while others are tenements.

The property of Henry J. Rogers at 131 Cumberland road is to be the object of considerable remodeling. Mr. Rogers will construct an addition 12 feet by 17 over the kitchen in the rear of his house, the new portion to be used as a chamber.

The size of the rooms in the building of Joseph Martin, located at 252-254 Allen street, is to be considerably increased by the construction of bay windows. The building is a three story structure and 12 new bay windows are to be built in, four on each floor, adding much to the already attractive property as well as to the convenience of the occupants.

Andrew MacLean is contemplating the erection of a dwelling at 61 Beacon street, and has begun work on the foundation for the building.

Robert James Blackstock is moving his cottage in Dayton street from the rear of the lot to the front, with the intention of locating it a distance of about 15 feet from the street. It is planned by the owner of this property to cut down the ell and build a second story over it.

A new piazza is to be constructed by William Saunders at his home which is located at 139 Methuen street.

Daniel Murphy of 66 Arlington street is making extensive alterations on his home. The work consists of the enlarging up of two rooms and the building of a second story to the ell of the house for chambers and a new bath and fixtures.

A stairway is to be constructed in the property of Margaret M. Merrill at 278 Central street, from the rear, facing on Green street, into the boiler room in the basement.

Avila Sawyer will build additional rooms in his tenement dwelling at 526 Moody street, and will change the location of the bathrooms. Following the completion of these changes, the building will consist of three seven-room tenements. There are at the present time five rooms on each floor.

Brokers are Active

The condition of the real estate and building business in the city of Lowell, as manifested by the reports of sales of the real estate brokers, and the reports of the transactions which are published on this page, appears to be most encouraging. The various contractors, also, are kept quite busy and conditions, as a whole, appear to be quite satisfactory.

Sales Reported

Abel R. Campbell, real estate and insurance broker with offices at 408-405 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending September 15th:

The sale of an eleven-room house and stable near Canton street. The house is equipped with several hardwood floors and open plumbing, bath and set tubs. The stable accommodates three horses and several carriages. Land to the amount of about 4000 feet will be conveyed with the house. The grantor lives out of the city and the grantee is a local party.

The sale of an exceptionally well constructed two-apartment house near the Highland school. Each tenement contains eight rooms, pantry and bath. The house is heated with two steam plants and is equipped with baths, set tubs, slate roof, cement cellar and electricity. The lot contains 7000 square feet of land. This was sold to a man out of town and the grantor also resides out of the city.

Final papers have been passed on a nine-tenement block situated at Nos. 141-143 Lakeview avenue. Each tenement is entirely separate from the other and is always rented. It brings in a total rental of $900 a year. In this transaction Arthur G. Beharrell, executor, transfers title to Mary E. Foley, who buys for investment. The purchaser will put the property in first-class renting condition in a very short time.

Thomas H. Elliott, real estate broker, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Sept. 18:

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a first-class cottage property situated near Twelfth street in the Centralville section. The house has seven excellent rooms equipped with modern conveniences. The land to be conveyed approximates 4300 square feet and is laid out for the most part to an attractive garden, fruit trees and shrubbery. The sale is negotiated on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser being a local business man buying for personal occupancy.

Also parties have been closed on the purchase and sale of a high class parcel of business property situated near lower Westford street. The land involved in the transfer amounts to 8000 square feet and is assessed at the value of $6000. Extensive improvements will be commenced on the parcel and in the future it will be devoted exclusively to business purposes. The transfer is effected on behalf of a local estate, the purchaser buying purely for investment purposes. Full details will be given on the passing of the final papers in this immediate future.

THE BEAUTIFUL HOME

Henry Tyler, a landscape gardener, contributes the following to Keith's Magazine:

"One has said, 'A house is never a home until guarded by trees, seconded by shrubs, and tied down with vines and creepers.' This tied down is significant. A house set up in a meadow is a dreary intruder, but if it is into the meadow with proper planting and it begins to look as though it belonged there and had been there a long time, association with the ground, thus rapidly becoming a part of it. In planting your tree and shrubbery layout, one cannot be too careful to maintain a proper sense of proportion, and by leaving the centre of the lawn free from plantings, you leave the unobscured site of your lot, can bring out the points needed to accentuate the beauty of your house, and with proper shrubs and vines can make a perfect landscape picture out of each dwelling place."

"One should always remember that the exterior of a home is equally as important as the interior. It is seen and last and by all the passing public. So whether your home be old or new, small or large, an attractive yard takes the leading part in making the charming home. Such a place will not only give you greater satisfaction, but will rent for more, sell for more, and command a larger loan."

SOME CLOCK

After six years' work James Calway, of Stowhegan, Me., has finished a clock 7 ft. 10 in. in height and which has involved the use of more than 20,000 pieces. The clock was made entirely by hand from many different kinds of wood. The mechanism is unique in that it includes mechanical figures that march and go through evolutions at certain hours.

BEST TIME TO BUILD

In discussing the prices of building materials and the cost of labor, a writer in a recent issue of the Manufacturing Record points out that as architects and contractors have more time just now to plan and carry out contracts than in periods of activity the present is the time to build. The man who wants a home and has money with which to build it can do it now to better advantage than when prosperity comes and at a much lower cost and with more care and attention on the part of contractors and mechanics.

"Thousands and tens of thousands of men in this country are intending to build homes for themselves, but are waiting for what they think will be a more propitious moment, when everybody is an optimist rather than a pessimist. When they do undertake to build, every item will cost them more, and they will find great difficulty in securing as much attention in construction work and in the equipment of their homes as could be had now."

"This is preeminently the time when every man who expects to build a home, a store, or an office building, should have the money, should do it. It is the time when every manufacturing enterprise which knows that it needs new machinery or the enlargement of its plant, and has the money available, should do the work now. This is the time when our municipalities should press as vigorously as possible all of their improvements, in order to get the benefit of the low or prices of materials now prevailing as compared with boom periods. Almost over night a change in business could be brought about, if people who are able to do this building and construction work would undertake it now."

LEGAL POINT OF INTEREST

Plaintiff in the employ of defendant as painter and decorator. He used a scaffold, consisting of a plank stretched upon ladders. Planks and ladders were furnished by defendant. There is evidence that in the course of the work it became necessary to use a plank of different length from any that had been furnished, and that defendant directed plaintiff's foreman to go to an employee of defendant in charge of another job and that such employee would furnish one. The foreman acted accordingly and the plank was so furnished. It was unfit for the purpose by reason of a knot near the end. This knot was somewhat obscured by lime plaster and dirt. The duty of defendant to furnish suitable plank for scaffolding was absolute, and could not be delegated. The evidence is sufficient that this plank was in contemplation of law, furnished by defendant, and that defendant was negligent in not furnishing a suitable plank. The question of whether plaintiff assumed the risk of the use of this defective plank was for the jury. The test is whether the defect was known to or plainly observable by him, and whether he understood, or by the exercise of ordinary observation ought to have understood, the risk inherent to its use. In view of the manner in which this defect was obscured by lime plaster and dirt, the question of assumption of risk was one of fact.

CLEANING WINDOWS

There are many things offered for this purpose, perhaps the simplest being to use benzine. One solution recommended for this purpose is made of benzine and burnt magnesia made to a paste-like consistency. This is spread over the glass with a wad of cotton or a soft brush, rubbing it on thoroughly and then rubbing it off again. It is supposed to take with it all the grease, paint and putty.

KING SELECTS AMERICAN STYLE

King Christian of Denmark has decided that the newest of his numerous residences shall be furnished in American style in every detail. He will not imitate the home of the American multi-millionaire. The style has been selected to copy in that of the simple and efficient equipment of the average American home. He has long been an admirer of the American arts and conveniences of home-making, and he has insisted that his newest house, which is situated on the Skov, will lack none of them.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE TALES OF THE BATTLE

Makes Stirring Speech to Arouse Welsh Enthusiasm for Lord Kitchener's New Army

LONDON, Sept. 19, 4.05 p. m.—"There is no man in this hall who through-out his political life has regarded the prospect of engaging in war with greater repugnance than myself. There is no man either inside or outside this hall who is more convinced than I that we could not have avoided the present war without national dishonor."

This was the text of a speech which David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, made in Queen's hall this afternoon, to arouse Welsh enthusiasm for Field Marshal Earl Kitchener's new army. The chancellor went on to say that any nation that dis-regarded its national honor was doomed and Great Britain was bound by honorable obligations to defend the independence and integrity of Belgium.

Referring to the accusation that Great Britain had used the treaty providing for Belgium neutrality as a cunning cloak to veil her jealousy of the superior civilization, the chancellor said:

"Our answer was the action we took in 1870. In that case Prince Bismarck respected Prussia's treaty obligations; but it was to the interest of Prussia to break her treaty today and she has done it. To Prussia a treaty is just a scrap of paper."

$100,000,000 GOLD FUND

Plan to Meet American Obligations to Europe Approved by Federal Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The administration's plan for a $100,000,000 gold fund to meet American obligations to Europe was approved today by the federal reserve board.

National banks in central reserve districts will be asked to contribute to the fund but country banks will not be expected to. Although a syndicate of New York bankers has arranged to take care of $80,000,000 of that city's European obligations, national banks in New York will be counted on for contributions to the additional $20,000,000 fund. The gold will be deposited in the bank of England in Ottawa, Canada. The first call on banks probably will be designed to bring out from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. Details of the plan, however, were not worked out today at a conference between bankers and the board. They will be considered next week.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES "DOPEY BENNY" SEIZED

PATRICK MORGAN OF TEWKSBURY PASSED AWAY AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Patrick Morgan of Tewksbury, who was struck by a passing automobile at Baker's cor., Tewksbury, Wednesday night, died this forenoon at St. John's hospital. It is understood that the man stepped from between two wagons and knocked down by the automobile which was proceeding toward Lowell. He was removed to St. John's hospital where it was at first thought his injuries were not very serious. Mr. Morgan, who was 49 years of age, leaves a wife and six children.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Benjamin Fain, known as "Dopey Benny," gang leader, and William Siegel were arrested yesterday in the office of Henry Salzmanovitz, organizer of the Koshier Butcher Workers' Union, at No. 151 Clinton street.

"I am expecting to be killed almost any hour," Salzmanovitz had told Police Commissioner Woods earlier in the day. "About three weeks ago there was a strike of kosher butchers. 'Dopey Benny' came to me and told me he would force all the kosher butchers in New York to join the union if I gave him $2500. He said it might be necessary to kill a few. 'That strike was settled Sept. 7. Benny demanded that I give him $600, or I lost a day as long as the strike had lasted. He threatened to get rid of him I gave him $50. 'On Sept. 10 three men entered my office and demanded the $600. They put revolvers to my head and took $25—all the money I had. One of the men then said: 'Take a good look at this gun for it's going to kill you the first time you fail to come across with money.'"

Commissioner Woods called in Lieut. Costigan and Detectives Roos and Ben. Salzmanovitz got word to the gangster to come to his office at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Siegel came with him and concealed in the office were the three detectives and two stenographers. The stenographers took down the conversation that passed and then Salzmanovitz handed over $50 in marked bills. The arrests followed. Benny and Siegel fought savagely and had to be beaten severely. They were locked up, charged with extortion. Later both men were released on bail.

FIRE ON GORHAM STREET
A lighted match or cigar stub thrown into a pile of rubbish which lay between the building at 89 Gorham street owned by Michael Corbett and the store occupied by James Smith, started a fire about 3 o'clock this afternoon which necessitated an alarm from box 23, corner of Green and Central streets. The fire was quickly put out by the use of a new hand extinguishers while the damage was confined to the rear of the Corbett building. A large number of people who were in the vicinity were attracted to the scene of action.

To all persons interested in any of the real estate of Annie E. Bisbee, late of Lowell, in said County, deceased, in-estate.

Whereas, Herbert L. Bisbee of Chelmsford, in the County of Middlesex, has presented to said Court a petition representing that he as the husband of said deceased, is entitled to take five thousand dollars and one half of the remaining personal and one half of the real estate and property of said deceased; that the personal estate is insufficient to pay the said five thousand dollars and that the whole amount of the estate of said deceased does not exceed in value the sum of five thousand dollars over and above the amount necessary to pay the debts and charges of administration; and praying that the whole of the real estate which is described in said petition be assigned and set out to him by the Court representing to law, to provide for said deficiency at a value of twenty-five hundred dollars, or at such other value as may be fixed by said Court.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-ninth day of September, A. D. 1914, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested who can be found within the Commonwealth, fourteen days, at least, before said Court; and if any one cannot be found, by publishing the same in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, once in each week, for three successive weeks, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esq., First Judge of said Court, this ninth day of September, 1914, at one o'clock, W. E. ROGERS, Registrar.

Furnished by German Prisoners or Obtained From Documents Seized by French Troops

BORDEAUX, Sept. 19.—There has been given out officially here the following information concerning incidents of the fighting and personal experiences, which has been furnished by German prisoners or obtained from documents seized by French troops. It relates particularly to the fighting around Rheims between the 11th and 16th of September.

A German artillery officer wrote: "Modern war is the greatest of follies. Companies of 250 men in the tenth army corps have been reduced to 70 men and there are today companies of the guard commanded by volunteers of a year, all the officers having disappeared."

The following is taken from a letter written by a German captain of infantry: "We were surprised by the French and I lost my company. Searching for it in a village I was made a prisoner. Now my fate is in the hands of God."

Another German officer who was captured at Rheims said: "For tactical reasons the guard had to retreat. We had many killed and 800 injured. The first battalion of the First regiment of the Guards has not another officer. The French artillery defied so well that we could not discover its sight. Gen. Von Schack and the colonel of the second regiment of artillery of the guard are among the killed."

"With what grief we learned each evening of the death of our comrades," this officer continued to one of his captors. "It is necessary to have lived the battle and to find one's self in the evening without food and with only the hard earth for a bed to appreciate the truth of the words: 'Warm was the day and bloody the battle; cold is the evening and calm is the night.'"

The following is from a letter written by a Lieutenant of the 26th German artillery: "The tenth corps has been constantly in action since the opening of the campaign. Nearly all our horses have fallen. We fight every day from 6 in the morning till 8 at night, without eating or drinking. The artillery fire of the French is frightful. We get so tired that we cannot ride a horse, even at a walk."

"A French aviator last night threw four bombs, killing four men and wounding eight and killing 20 horses and wounding ten more. We do not receive any more mail for the postal corps have been destroyed."

OLD 26TH REG'T REUNION

The Forty-first Annual Gathering Held at the Essex House in Lawrence Today

The 41st annual reunion of the 26th regiment association was held today in the Essex house, Lawrence, with members from Lowell, Lawrence, and many other nearby cities present. Today's event was sort of a double observance, as it also marked the 50th anniversary of the battle of Winchester, Virginia, during which nearly half of the 26th regiment was annihilated.

Patrick F. Hogan of North Andover, president of the association presided and the usual business session was opened at 11.30 o'clock. Secretary P. H. Stevens announced during the roll call that he had received 91 responses to 97 notifications which were sent out and this news was received with pleasure.

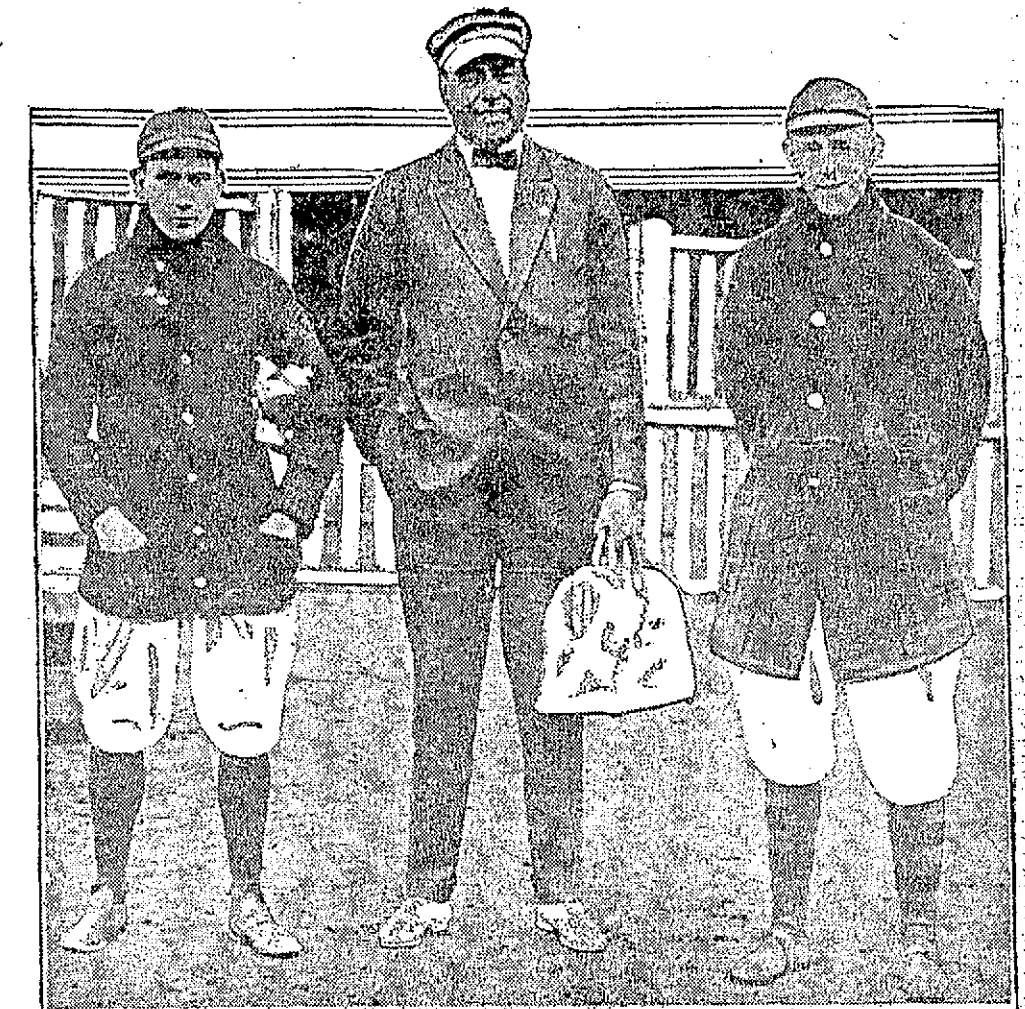

The following officers were then re-elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, Patrick E. Hogan of North Andover; vice presidents, Cyrus P. Pickard of Acton and Amos T. Jones of Methuen; secretary, P. H. Stevens of Stow; treasurer, D. H. Hall of Acton.

At 1 o'clock a bountiful dinner was served to the veterans and wives after which Acting Mayor Paul Harrison of Lawrence delivered an address of welcome. Rev. James A. McDonald of St. Mary's church, and members of the association also spoke. The 26th Massachusetts regiment was mustered in Lowell on October 19, 1861, the nucleus of the regiment being the old sixth.

THE MUSICIANS' STRIKE
The strike of musicians employed at the Lowell Opera House, the Keith, Royal, Gaiety, Colonial, Jewel theatres and the Academy of Music will, it is thought be called off at the meeting to be held by the Musicians' union tomorrow. The theatres have thus far made no concessions.

IN EVERS AND MARANVILLE STALLINGS HAS STAR GUARDIANS ON KEYSTONE BAG

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—No championship baseball club has ever been organized that did not have a star combination around second base. The keystone sack must be guarded by a second baseman and a shortstop who are always alert and on the job and who understand each other and who play together without having to hold conferences and postmortems. Johnny Evers, who made his reputation as a member of the "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination that pulled off so many double plays for the Chicago Cubs, is just as good as he ever was and is a trifle better so far as brain work is concerned. Maranville, who is almost as big as the bag boy, also has baseball sense, and a good many critics regard him as the best shortstop in the National league. Whether or not he is the best, he is just about good-enough, and-if-he-has any shortcomings they are not noticeable when Evers is there to help him out.

HIT WITH BLACKJACK

ITALIAN CONSUL-GENERAL ATTACKED IN STREET—BELIEVES COUNTRYMAN ASSAILED HIM

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—As he was coming out of the subway at Spring and Lafayette streets yesterday afternoon, Giacomo Fara Forni, Italian consul-general, received a blow on the right side of the head from a black-jack. The man, who assaulted him escaped. An attempt was made to burn the consulate at No. 225 Lafayette street, last May, and later an Italian threatened to "go up" the consul-general. Signor Fara Forni told Police Capt. Gray, who went to the consulate after the assault, that he could not think of any but his own countrymen who had a grudge against him. He said that recently some of the reservists complained that the consulate did not take care of them when they insisted on remaining in the city. Dr. Carlo Savini treated the consul-general for a slight scalp wound.

WILL "DRY" A STATE

TO KEEP IT "WET"—SALOON MEN WILL SHOW WHAT PROHIBITION MEANS

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 19.—Pending the voting next Tuesday to determine whether Virginia shall banish the saloon, every barroom in the state will remain closed for three days.

The saloon men contend that if Virginia goes "dry," the state treasury will lose $700,000 a year, the amount now paid for liquor licenses. The deficit, it is asserted, must be met by an increase in taxes.

To prove the effect of a no-license law would have on the state, the saloon-keepers all over Virginia have decided to close their places today and remain closed until Wednesday. This is the first time in Virginia when the saloon men have voluntarily decided to shut their shops when the law permits them to remain open.

Mammoth torchlight processions, composed chiefly of women advocating prohibition, will be held in Norfolk tonight.

WELCOME HOME

Anything that concerns a school teacher in a city such as Lowell interests a great many people, and undoubtedly in the masses of our citizens are hundreds who without knowing the members of the Owen-Kill, partick parties personally, hoped for their safe return from the war-torn fields of Europe and rejoiced to read that they are back to their duties with ripened experience and with gladdened hearts.

Had our travellers anticipated the terrors that lay in wait for the countries they were to visit they would certainly have postponed their tour until a more auspicious season, but now as they look back they have good reason to rejoice at an experience which will give them a larger outlook on life for the future and which will enable them to more truly interpret the spirit of history and to make geography lessons more realistic. They have learned a great deal that they may impart, but above all, they have learned to love and regard their own country and its institutions with a greater love than they had previously known.

In their visits to the cities of Italy with their wonderful churches, museums, squares, monuments and palaces, they have come to regard the past with reverence and to understand the temperament of some of the races whose descendants will look to them in American schools for instruction. They have been the folly of sectional patronage towards those who have such a marvellous heritage of art and beauty. In the glories of olden Athens they must have felt the thrill of the storied times of Greek magnificence and treasured up mental pictures that will illuminate many a classic page in the long evenings of American winters.

But they have learned something more vital than all this. With terrible directness has been borne in upon them the horror and misery of war—that barbaric injustice against which the peoples of all nations are rising up in disgust. In a little Austrian mountain town in its setting of jeweled loveliness they went through winding streets that echoed only to the footsteps of boys, women and old men; they saw with their own eyes the tragic pity of it. All the men between the ages of 20 and 42 had been sent to the front and the women waited in sullen resignation for the second call which would enroll the men from 43 to 70. There was poverty and suffering in plenty, but it was war.

It is to the credit of our Lowell teachers and their friends that they acknowledge a debt of gratitude to the American consuls and other government representatives who are striving so hard to lighten the load of returning American tourists. The testimony of a school teacher carries more weight than that of most individuals and when they so generously praise the efforts of their government, there is a feeling of gratification in the acknowledgment for all Americans who are not warped in judgment by pretty prejudices. Our Lowell school teachers who have experienced so much of interest have shown a fine spirit and Lowell cordially welcomes them home to their labors of usefulness.

ATTEND THE PRIMARIES

All citizens of whatever class or political creed should without exception attend the primaries next Tuesday and vote for the most desirable candidates for office. Even should an individual feel no especial interest in any of the aspirants he ought to remember that it is a strictly American duty and that he is grossly neglecting that duty if through sloth or indifference he stays away from the ballot box. It is most essential that he vote well but it is certainly to be desired that he vote, however his fancy may dictate his choice of men.

They who take no part in the nomination of candidates who will be voted upon in the fall election have no cause for complaint if the popular decision is unfavorable to their desires, for they have forgotten a principle which is greater than any candidate. There is no excuse for the pessimistic individual who professes disgust at politics generally and remains away from the polls. In the list of candidates for office he must surely have a political or merely personal preference and he is not doing his duty to his state or city if he ignores the claims and demands of his citizenship. The victory that is won by any party because of a slight vote is won dearly, and it would be far better for the people generally that we have a large vote, whatever the consequences to any particular party.

The Lowell democrats need have no apprehension about the results if they individually resolve to go to the polls and vote for their most representative candidates. The Sun does not presume to dictate a particular choice where more than one democrat aspires to office, but it urges on all democrats that they weigh fitness above personality and decide with an eye to the future rather than with the intention of placing anybody in a good position. The Maine election is a pretty good straw to indicate which way the wind is blowing and Lowell will do its part in swelling the democratic majorities if it considers the achievements of the democratic party in federal and state government and picks worthy democratic candidates to contest the various political offices in the near future.

FRENCH THRIFT

The recent speech of Lloyd George of England advertising to the "silver bullet" drew international interest to the respective resources of the various countries engaged in war and emphasized the part national thrift plays in a long conflict. It is noteworthy in this connection that France has long been a synonym for thrift. Recent investigators declare that its reputation is richly deserved and they have called attention to some of the phases of government conservation and guidance which has made thrift a national trait of the French people.

The individual is thrifty in France and the state pays a premium to encourage the characteristic, according to the published opinions of President S. W. Straus of the American Society for Thrift who made a four months' study of thrift in its foreign aspect. He found that the government gives awards and prizes to school children in the form of small bank deposits which grow to a large amount by the time the child has reached maturity. The state is empowered to transfer these savings bank deposits into interest-bearing bonds.

The people of France live on small farms and draw small incomes but they spend in proportion to their incomes and they manage to make a consistent saving of some part of their wages. Collectively their bank accounts have a great influence on financial Europe. Out of 12,500,000 savings bank depositors in 1909 over fifty per cent. had less than $4 to their credit in the saving banks, but this is an indication of prosperity when it represents the poorer classes throughout the country. The American spirit is to ignore small savings until the individual can save larger amounts, but this eventually leads to general poverty and distress. The lesson of French thrift is a lesson that reaches down to our very poorest citizens.

What is needed here is the realization that no one can be prepared for the future who does not live within his resources. In a desire for all which money can buy most people throw thrift to the winds and live their lives a day at a time, forgetful of the future and indifferent to its hardships.

WAR DURATION

On what seems like rather weak grounds many American papers incline to the view that the Kaiser is open to offers of peace but there is little on which to base conviction or hope. His alleged withdrawal from the conflict is hedged round with so many conditions that it will take a few big battles to clear the air and open negotiations for even the preliminaries of an agreement. It would be presumptuous to base the German attitude on their recent reverses, for they have by no means exhausted their resources, though the moral effect of their retreat before the allies must have been damaging. The attitude of Italy, too, tends towards German dissatisfaction and indeed will awake but slight admiration at the present time anywhere.

Far different from the hazy sentiments attributed to the Kaiser is the declaration of Earl Kitchener to the effect that the war is likely to be long and that a great army will still be required in active service. There is no reason to alter the first opinion that the war will be to the death, and if it is to come to a speedy end it will be only after such a surrender on the part of one side as will ensure to the other the same results as an overwhelming victory.

AMONG THE TOILERS

The Bay State mills are starting up and will soon be running in full.

John Hudson, formerly employed at the Northern Waste Co., has accepted a position at the Saco-Loewell shops.

G. W. Osborn, master mechanic at the Hixlow Carpet Co., has severed his connections with that company.

Bill Marcotte of the Lawrence Mfg. Co.'s baseball team should be one of those to enter the basketball arena this winter.

Frank Houghton of the Northern Waste Co., an accomplished musician entertained his friends in style last evening.

William Merritt, formerly employed at the U. S. Cartridge Co., has accepted a position with Curtis & Spillane, plumbers.

James Mullin of the Hixlow Carpet Co., has returned from a two weeks' trip to Burlington, Vt., where he visited relatives.

John Welsh of the U. S. Cartridge Co., attracted much attention by his clever demonstration of the various dance steps last evening.

James Conney, Jr., employed at the Saco-Loewell shops has closed up his camp at Silver Lake for the season and has moved into the city.

J. E. Ashton of the Spinners' union who was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the union last evening, has been an active worker in the labor movement for a great many years.

James J. Donnelly, president of the Leather Workers' union has been chosen as a delegate to attend the state conference of the American Federation of Labor in Boston next week.

The unions in Lowell have made great progress so far this year and the various leaders predict even more in the coming future. The movement is growing gradually.

Peter Touhey of the Mass. mills has taken up his net pastime, wrestling, and will in all probability be seen on the mat in this city in the near future.

H. L. Bishop, who has been employed for some time by the Hixlow Carpet Co. in the capacity of paymaster, has resigned his position with that company.

Jack Demarais of the Tremont and Suffolk has resigned his position at the mill to accept more lucrative employment in a down street business office.

Charlie Farrell's Tremont & Suffolk baseball team is the runner up to the Lawrence bosters in the mill league. This team has been very successful.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. Harry F. Fisher, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case. Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. Anna Lawson, 128 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtues.

NOTICE OF HEARINGS

The Municipal Council of the City of Lowell will have hearings at their room, City Hall, Tuesday, October 6th, 1914, at 11 o'clock a. m., on the following petitions:

G. W. Osgood—For a license to keep and store gasoline in and from a tank (30 gal. capacity) buried in the ground at premises, 25 Robinson street.

Carla P. Harris—For a license to conduct and maintain a garage at premises 37 Sumner street.

By order of the Municipal Council, Stephen Flynn, Clerk.

Sept. 18, 1914.

on the diamond this year, due, no doubt to its able management.

We are glad to see William McDermet, captain of the Tremont & Suffolk bowling team back in harness. He capped second prize at the roll-off Wednesday night with a total of 222.

G. W. Osborn, master mechanic at the Hixlow Carpet Co., has severed his connections with that company.

Frank DeGaren, foreman of the packing department at the Mearns, Adams Shoe Co., and an accomplished violinist, has leased a studio downtown and will give lessons evenings through the winter months. His many friends wish him all kinds of success in his new undertaking.

Although the mill baseball teams were a bit late in starting this year they have all given creditable performances. It has been suggested that a basketball league be started among the young men employed in the local industries. Surely this is a good idea and a little extra money could in all probability be made on the side. Last year the game was given a sudden impetus, and came along strong, but this year there is even more of a pull from sport lovers for the great indoor pastime, and indications point to the sport flourishing if taken up by the right persons. There are a great many athletes working in the mills and factories and they should give the matter their immediate attention as an early start means a great deal. This certainly ought to appeal to Jimmy O'Brien of the Pilling Shoe Co., and Walter Lyons of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., both of whom have been actively connected with all kinds of sport for years.

Hixlow Carpet Co.

Owing to the present trade depression in the carpet trade, the Hixlow Carpet Co. is forced to maintain its present curtailed schedule.

Mills' Union Hold Meeting

Mills' union held a largely attended meeting last evening in Carpenter's hall in the Ruelo building. A list of very important business was transacted and two new members were admitted. Several applications were also received and were laid over to the next regular meeting. Several committees submitted reports of progress and communications from many sources were properly referred. The secretary reported the union to be progressing rapidly and all members working.

Spinners Elect Officers

The members of the Spinners' union gathered in Trades & Labor hall in Middlesex street last evening and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: D. Kierdan, president; Arthur Simpson, vice president; J. E. Ashton, secretary-treasurer; Michael Logan, auditor; Henry Sigmund, sergeant-at-arms. Considerable routine business was transacted and four new members were admitted. Many communications from foreign locals were read and turned over to the secretary. Several members made interesting and instructive remarks on the good of the union, and they were listened to attentively. The secretary's report showed the union, which is one of the oldest in Lowell, to be in a flourishing financial condition. After the business session, the rest of the evening was spent in a social hour and was much enjoyed.

MATRIMONIAL

RICHARDSON-RICHARDS

Charles Richardson and Mrs. Lizzie E. Richards, both of Braintree, were married yesterday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. G. Alger, pastor of the Pawtucket Congregational church, at his residence, 113 Vermont avenue.

LATE WAR NEWS

LOSS OF LIFE IN PRESENT WAR IS GREATEST ON RECORD—GREAT HEROISM

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The official communications issued this far have neglected the question of losses, which in a fight such as the battle of the Marne, covering a front of 130 miles, are almost impossible to estimate, even approximately.

Some unofficial reports have placed the allies' losses at 50,000 and those of the Germans at 100,000 in the series of engagements comprised in the great clash of arms. They fear that these figures are to the truth no and will know until the official figures are compiled. However, the impression derived from individual accounts of wounded soldiers and from the prisoners, the only unofficial sources of information at present, would indicate that these estimates are conservative.

The losses certainly are the greatest on record, and perhaps the proportion for the Germans is greater than two to one in death, at least.

If the press bureau communications are silent on this subject the order of the day for the army gives eloquent hints of sacrifices made to gain advantage and shows how murderous is modern warfare and how regardless of personal safety are the officers and men. The latest order, given out last night, is full of deeds of the greatest heroism and at the same time indicates what the cost was of the recent successes and previous reverses.

Lieutenant Naquet, of the 25th, infantry of reserves, is among those mentioned for bravery. Although wounded, he continued the energetic direction of his company, of which all the officers in his section had been killed or wounded.

Adjutant-General Deto of the 59th infantry, led his section on until the most violent fire until all his men were wounded. Then he grabbed a gun from one of his soldiers, and while the section retired, continued firing until he was killed by a fragment of shell.

For the great portion of the campaign killed or wounded two companies are given—the zeal of the officers and the orders given to the German riflemen to pick them out.

Besides those already named, yesterday's order mentions General Mangin, who achieved fame in the Moroccan campaign. General Bataille, who was killed on September 8 after showing the utmost bravery and sangfroid; Brigadier of Dragons Voltureta, who, when mortally wounded by a shell, cried as he fell: "Vive la France!" and tried to sing the Marseillaise; and Lieutenant Blanc of the staff of the Havas Agency, mentioned for brilliant conduct in battle on August 28.

CORRESPONDENT AT ROTTERDAM

DESCRIBES VISIT OF EMPEROR WILLIAM TO SON

LONDON, Sept. 19, 2.30 a. m.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Rotterdam telegraphs that despatches from Vitron, near Longwy, describe the visit of Emperor William to his wounded son, Oscar, at that place. The visit was a surprise and the emperor barely succeeded in turning out in time to welcome the emperor, who, after a brief talk with his son, inspected the grandsons. Addressing the emperor, he said:

"The fighting around Longwy will be inscribed in letters of gold on the roll of history, but all our successes we must ascribe to the God of our fathers, who is above us."

STORY OF DUEL BY BIRMEN—GERMAN AVIATOR KILLED BY HIS OPPONENT

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The newspapers yesterday related the story of an air duel between a French aviator and a German aviator at an unnamed place during a battle. After long maneuvering the Frenchman succeeded in descending above the German. Both men used revolvers. The German was seriously wounded and his machine turned over and fell among British troops. He was dead when picked up.

MAJOR STIVERS, U. S. A., RETIRED, AND HIS NECE DAUGHTER IN "TRACK OF CATTLE"

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Major Edwin Jacob Stivers, U. S. A., retired, and his niece, Miss Stivers, were caught in the track of cattle at a little village called Yaulmoise, about 45 miles northeast of Paris. The major, who is in his 80th year, broken in health, said the British troops had been in the village on Aug. 30 and 31 and the Germans from Sept. 1st to the 10th. There had been a good deal of shooting around his cottage. He painted a small American flag on a piece of board which he nailed to the cottage and this was usually respected.

Miss Stivers, however, was made to do all kinds of work for the German soldiers, such as serving them at table, making tea and watering their horses.

Major Stivers distinguished himself in the civil war. He was mentioned by General Rosecrans for conspicuous gallantry in the battle of Chickamauga.

THAT THERE ARE NEUTRALS WHO WANT TO GO TO WAR THE FOLLOWING DOPPEL ATTEST

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Adventurous neutrals who long to get into the European fight abound. Hence the Anglo-American contingent that Lord Lynden, a nobleman of some years' residence in North Carolina, is organizing.

It is not the intention of Lord Lynden to interfere with President Wilson's desire of strict American neutrality. He seeks only British subjects in the United States or Americans who are resident in Britain or have taken out British citizenship papers. Permission to organize such a contingent has only recently been granted by the British war office, yet over 200 already have enrolled. This group will form but an infantry battalion of 480 men and one or two squadrons of cavalry of 160 men each, besides small detachments. Then, if at the end of four months the command passes the inspector, the men will take the ancient army oath of allegiance to the king—not to Great Britain—and go to the front as a unit.

The small detachments already include 25 motorcyclists, a hospital staff and a machine gun detachment, to which a wealthy Anglo-American has given a maxim. A well known American soloist has sent to the United States for his stable, and other gifts of the kind are expected. Anyone giving a machine gun or acquiring a body of men will be honored by having the detachment or command named in his honor.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S WAR NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM

Germans charge 10 times in succession on the British, but are repulsed with great loss.

Alloes beat back Kaiser's troops in desperate hand-to-hand fighting. Invaders fell back seven miles after terrible contest.

Alloes' left wing gains ground in spite of German assaults. Berlin claims German center has pushed back the French.

Anglo-French forces are operating along the Franco-Belgian frontier against German communications. German forces are intrenching on the Sambre river to protect line of supply through Belgium.

Advance of Germans on East Prussian front checked by Russians. England and Germany will exchange lists of prisoners and information of their condition, and allow correspondence.

Lord Kitchener refused to let Prince of Wales go to front, as he had not completed his military training. Sir Edward Grey sends word to Washington that England has heard no peace offer and has nothing to say.

President Wilson will not ask allies' terms, as German suggested. The Austrian ambassador protests against "fake" reports of Russian victories.

GERMANS HOLD THEIR GROUND—THEIR HEAVIEST GUNS HIDDEN IN THE WOODS

LONDON, Sept. 19, 3.30 a. m.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail, describing the great battle, says:

"The Germans have held their ground three days, their heaviest guns hidden in the woods and the French artillery has not yet obtained a mastery of fire over them."

"The German infantry is entrenched

along the edges of woods in which the batteries are concealed. It is being attacked alternately by artillery fire and by infantry assaults, the French charges being driven home right into the heart of the woods."

"At night the Germans make counter attacks but these have always been repulsed. The stronghold of the German position is the height of Nogent l'Abbesse, three miles due east of Rheims. There the Germans occupy the site of what used to be the forts of Rheims and from there they are bombarding the town of Rheims, which was on fire in eight different places at 4 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon when I came down from the tower of the cathedral from which I had been watching the first battle since morning."

GIRLISH, WRINKLE-FREE SKIN Easy to Have

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the axolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels warm, washed. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagging. The formula is: Powdered axolite, 1 oz. dissolved in witch hazel, 1/2 pint.

Another wonderful facial beautifier and rejuvenator that has become quite a rage in the United States, as in Europe, is mercolized wax. Druggists report a great demand. The wax literally absorbs a shallow, freckled, craggy skin, leaving the complexion like the fresh, vigorous, healthy-hued young skin underneath a chance to "breathe" and to show itself. Applying the wax at night, like a face cream, and rinsing off mornings, will completely renovate a poor complexion in a week or ten days. One ounce usually is sufficient.

Pitching and Batting Records Which Stand for Annual Classic Between Major League Winners

New records can be established for the world's series this fall without endangering major or minor league records. All that a pitcher has to do to shatter a previous record is to pitch a blue ribbon game to dispose of his opponents without a safety. Edward Marvin Roubach, of the Superbas, has the distinction of having pitched the best game in a world's series. In 1906, while wearing the uniform of the Cubs, Roubach let the White Sox down with one safe smash, made by "Jiggs" Donohue, who died about a year ago. In the sixth inning, the Hitless Wonders scored a run in this controversy, but Donohue's safety had nothing to do with the tally.

Men who have twirled two hit games in world's series are Mordecai Brown, Ed Walsh and Eddie Plank. The three-armed marvel accomplished his feat against the White Sox. Conkie's one time man of steel, selected the Cubs as his victims and the veteran southpaw picked the Giants. Brown and Walsh whitewashed their opponents while they were limiting them to a brace of hits, while Plank missed a shut-out because of an error by Frank Baker and a piece of home-headed base-running by Arthur Shafer, who, according to a sarcastic member of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, ought to be awarded a Chalmers car because he has done more for the Braves than any other player.

The three-hit games reeled off in the annual classic now number five. Bill Dineen pitched the first of these in 1905 for the Cubs against the Pirates; Jeff Overall the second in 1908 for the Cubs against the Tigers; "Chief Bender, the third in 1910 for the Elephants against the Cubs; Jack Coombs the fourth in 1911 for the White Elephants against the Giants and Hugh Bennett the fifth for the Red Sox in 1912 against the Giants. Of these eludes by far the best was that performed by Coombs, for the Ironhorse traveled 31 innings against McGraw's cohorts.

The four-hit contents total 13. Christy Mathewson, "Big Boy" Bender and Mordecai Brown, each having pitched two and these men each one; "Deno" Philippi, Bill Dineen, Eddie Plank, Nick Altrock, Jack Pfeister, Jeff Overall and "Tub" Marquard.

The record number of strike-outs for a world's series is 12. Walsh of the White Sox fanned a dozen Cubs the first time he faced them, in 1906, and Bill Donovan of the Tigers duplicated the performance against the Chance combination the next season, having a dozen batters, however, in which to do so. Dineen of Boston whiffed 11 Pirates in 1905 and in 1911 and 1912 11 Giants took the strike-out count at the hands of Bender of Philadelphia and Wood of Boston.

Pitchers credited with striking out ten men in contests for the championship of the universe are Philippi of Pittsburgh, Overall of Chicago and Mullin of Detroit.

Considering the number of games played, it is remarkable that there is no very wild exhibition of pitching on the records. The unsteadiest stunt was uncovered by Jack Coombs of the Athletics in 1910, when he handed the Cubs nine passes and beat them, nevertheless, 9 to 2.

In order for a batsman to set a new record for home runs in one game, it will be necessary for him to hit for the circuit three. Patrick Henry Dougherty, when he was a Red Sox in 1902, slammed out a brace of four-baggers in the second game of the series, his first wallop being off Sam Leaver and his second off "Bucky" Vaile.

The greatest number of hits torn off in one contest by a batsman is four, seven men, two of whom were Chalmers car winners, having turned this trick. The best performance was Frank Jell's in 1906, all of his smashes being doubles. These are the men who have made four hits in world's series games:

Oct. 1, 1903—Leach, Pirates, two singles and two triples off Young, Red Sox.

Oct. 8, 1903—Beaumont, Pirates, four singles off Dineen, Red Sox.

Oct. 13, 1906—Jell, White Sox, four doubles off Roubach, Pirates and Overall, Cubs.

Oct. 14, 1906—Hahn, White Sox, four singles off Brown and Overall, Cubs.

Oct. 15, 1908—Cobb, Tigers, three singles and one double off Pfeister and Overall, Cubs.

Oct. 25, 1911—Doyle, Giants, two singles and one double off Pfeister and Overall, Cubs.

Oct. 25, 1911—Doyle, Giants, two singles and two doubles off Coombs and Plank, White Elephants.

Oct. 26, 1911—D. Murphy, White Elephants, three singles and no doubles off Ames, Wilkes and Marquard, Giants.

J. HENRY ROBINSON HAS NOT BEEN MUCH OF A STAR WITH THE CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—J. Henry Robinson, the pitcher who came to the Cardinals as a part of the big trade with the Pirates last winter, has not been much of a star with the St. Louis team, but at that he has been about as valuable as Bob Harmon, the former Cardinal who went to Pittsburgh in the same trade. Robinson has recently shown more "stuff" than early in the season, and with double headers coming along frequently he is likely to be used oftener by Manager Huggins.

JACK JOHNSON

Is Still an American Citizen — Gets Passport to Russia

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Giving the lie to stories that he has taken out French naturalization papers, Jack Johnson visited the American embassy yesterday and said he was a citizen of the United States. He received a passport to travel in Russia. Johnson was examined severely, but he persisted that he had never even dreamed of expatriating himself. He denounced as a newspaper invention the statement that he was a Frenchman. He showed a passport obtained from Ambassador Herriot in Paris six months ago, which now has expired. He was in Russia a few weeks ago, then in Berlin and Paris, whence he came to London. Johnson drove up to the embassy in a big limousine. He was accompanied by his wife, her maid and his managers and trainers. The only other negro in the party was Johnson's traveling partner. He is going to Russia, to fulfill theatrical engagements which he entered upon long ago. His wife will accompany him. Her diamonds so dazzled the clerk he scarcely could see to write the passport.

ELEVATED RAILWAY CONDUCTOR SHOOTS HIMSELF AT HIS HOME IN REVERE

REVERE, Sept. 19.—Harry Addison, aged 32, a Boston elevated conductor, committed suicide last night at his home, 48 Summer street, by shooting himself in the right temple with a revolver. Mrs. Addison was away from home and their three children, the oldest 5 years and the youngest only 8 months, were there in charge of a young woman, Miss May Weiner.

On hearing the shot she ran out of the house and notified the driver of a coal wagon, who notified the police. They took Addison in an ambulance to the Frost hospital, Chelsea, where he died about 15 minutes later, at 6 o'clock.

Late in the evening Mrs. Addison had not returned and neighbors were caring for the children. Addison was employed by the street railway company for nearly five years on the Chelsea division. He had been sick for a fortnight and his fellow employees believe his sickness had made him despondent.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

A large crowd of Lowell fans attended the game at Lawrence yesterday afternoon and the majority of them were rooting for the New England league champions. The delegation which came from Haverhill, however, seemed to be out for a New London win. The host of feeling does not exist between Haverhill fans and the Lawrence club since the deal went through whereby the Haverhill franchise passed into Dan Noonan's hands.

Plans are already being made to play off the remaining games of the series in Lawrence. The crowds were quite thin in New London, especially the second day and it is thought that more gate receipts can be realized by playing off the rest of the contests down river. Sounds all right to us.

Lawrence now has the edge on the series if only the club play up to the standard it set for itself yesterday, they'll win the series without any question. The club as a whole worked smoothly with machine-like precision. In fact New London looked bad in comparison.

President Murrane was present without a blush upon his cheek. Murrane and O'Rourke, the executive of the Eastern association, are "in" for ten per cent. of each game's receipts. We wonder how long we would have to wait for Timothy to appear at a post-season game if he were not "in" for a slice of the coin.

The game at Spaulding park this afternoon between the Lawrence Mfg. Co. and the C. M. A. C. amateur teams attracted a large crowd of rooters from both clubs. The contest was for the gate receipts as well as a $200 purse. Joe Cronin, at one time the best amateur twirler in the city, officiated.

Hughy Duffy and Fred Lake as well as Jimmy Gray were at yesterday's game in Lawrence. President Roach and Jim Kennedy, owners of the local park, were also interested spectators of the inter-league battle.

Becker, the New London right-hander, was the fastest man on the first base playing the game today in any league. If a grounder from his bat takes two hops in the infield he is certain to make the initial sack in safety. His hit in the ninth, which Mike Lynch did well to stop at all,

FOR SUCCESS OF ALLIES

Mass Celebrated in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Bordeaux, Today—Church Was Crowded

BORDEAUX, Sept. 19.—1.30 p. m.—A large crowd filled St. Andrew's cathedral this morning to listen to the mass for the success of the allied forces. In spite of the early hour there was not a vacant seat in the immense building.

At the conclusion of the service Abbot Wetterle of Alsace, formerly a member of the German reichstag, delivered a patriotic address. His voice ringing clear and vibrant through the cathedral, he declared that France was innocent of the crime now being committed and that God would bring the nation out victorious. When the abbot finished he was greeted with much applause.

NEW PRESIDENT CHEERED

TUFTS COLLEGE STUDENTS GREET HERMON C. BUMPUS, ELECTED BY THE TRUSTEES

MEDFORD, Sept. 19.—Just before noon yesterday at Tufts college President Hermon C. Bumpus arrived and called the faculty of the college into conference with him in Packard hall. Although practically incognito upon his arrival to the undergraduates, the news of his presence soon spread like wildfire over the "hill."

After the short conference he was warmly greeted as he left the building by almost the entire student body. Cheers for Tufts were followed by three long "Prexy's." Pres. Bumpus responded good naturedly.

Former Acting Pres. William L. Hooper, now again professor of electrical engineering, also came in for his share of the cheering. "Bill Hooper," "Bill Hooper," followed on the end of the regular Tufts' cheer.

Pres. Bumpus was elected yesterday noon by the trustees at their office in Boston. He had been under consideration for some time. Pres. Bumpus comes from the University of Wisconsin, where he had been business manager since 1911.

LAWRENCE WON THE THIRD GAME

Fuller and Green in 2-0 Pitching Dual—Each Allowed but 4 Hits

Aubrey, Former Captain of Local Club, Made the Feature Play

Wheeler Fuller, youngest pitcher on the Lawrence staff, and Paddy Green, veteran twirler of the New London club, took part in mound duel in the third game of the inter-league series played yesterday afternoon at Riverside park, Lawrence. The New England league champions were returned the winners by a 2 to 0 score.

It was a fine game of baseball and the crowd of nearly three thousand fans which attended were well satisfied. Not only was the pitching above the average but both clubs were keyed up to their highest effectiveness.

Four hits was all that either hurler allowed and all of these were singles. Each club was credited with one misplay. Rock, the phenomenal shortstop of the New London club, committed the only misplay which counted in the score when he booted Mahoney's grounder in the eighth inning with two down, allowing Lynch to tally.

The first Lawrence run came in the last half of the second inning. Mahoney hit safely to center for one base and then stole second, Warner helping him out in this feat by dropping Abear's throw. Conley then came through with a boost to single and the Lawrence second baseman raced across the plate with the only earned run of the game.

Sensational fielding on several occasions brought down rounds of well deserved applause. A wonderful one-hand stop by Harry Aubrey of a ball which was headed for right field at bullet speed was the feature of the game. Mike Lynch, Lawrence's doughty shortstop, Rock, Warner and Marheika also did some fine fielding. The score:

Former Assistant Secretary Will Tour Sixth Congressional District in Aeroplane

MARBLEHEAD, Sept. 19.—A proposed aeroplane tour of the sixth congressional district by former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury A. Platt Andrews of Gloucester was postponed today until Monday owing to the breaking down of the machine in attempting to start from here.

Mr. Andrews claimed to have made arrangements several days ago for a different machine but on Thursday was informed that the airship had been sold and that a smaller one would have to be used. The second machine proved unequal to the task today and it is hoped that it will be ready on Monday.

Mr. Andrews is running on both the republican and progressive tickets for the nomination at the primary on Tuesday. On the former ticket he is opposing Congressman Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton, while his opponent on the latter is Nelson B. Clark of Beverly.

ARRESTED IN NEW YORK BELGIAN ENVOYS PLEASED

WILLIAM MOFFATT ALLEGED TO BE MAN WHO MADE DARING ATTEMPT TO STEAL $4000 HERE

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—William Moffatt, 49 years old, who was arrested in New York yesterday afternoon, is said by the police to be the daring thief who tried to steal a bag containing $4000 from Frank G. Newhall, president of the Market Trust company of Brighton, while the latter was in the First National bank, Franklin and Federal streets, August 28th, last.

President Newhall, after drawing the money at the bank, stepped into a telephone booth. While there he saw a man seize his green cloth bag and run. Though 70 years old, Mr. Newhall chased the thief and caught him in the street. He held him until a man stepped from the crowd which had collected and said he was a detective from police headquarters. Mr. Newhall thereupon turned the prisoner over to the man, who turned out to be an accomplice of the thief. The supposed officer let the prisoner go.

Mr. Newhall again chased the thief and again caught him, but on Federal street the man slipped out of his coat and got away. Mr. Newhall had recovered the bag and money, however.

An officer will be sent to New York to bring Moffatt here.

RUN BASES IN SKIRTS

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 19.—The Calumet club clambake at Recreation park yesterday afternoon attracted more than 200.

Male members in skirts defeated their trousered brothers at baseball, 10 to 4. At the trap shoot Robert Morrow was awarded a silver cup. Lewis Partridge won the broad jump contest, George R. Allen the fat men's race and Lewis Partridge and Cheney Austin a three-legged race. Mr. Austin also won a 100-yard dash.

A vaudeville entertainment was given in the pavilion. Fred L. Allen, city treasurer, was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

TAPPINGS HEARD IN MINE

Where Miners are Entombed — Rescue Gangs Tunneling Way to Their Rescue

EUREKA, Utah, Sept. 18.—Tappings were heard early today from the Oklahoma slope of the Centennial-Eureka mine where ten of the miners caught in a cave-in Thursday are entombed. Working in hourly shifts, rescue gangs are tunneling their way to the spot from which the tappings come.

Those in charge of the rescue party say they will have a way cleared to the miners some time today, but they gave no hope of reaching the buried men in time to save their lives.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE HOLY NAME SOCIETY

BOSTON CENTRAL BRANCH CHOOSES DELEGATES TO THE CONVENTION

The Boston Central branch of the United Irish League met last night at the American house to select delegates to the convention to be held in New York on Sept. 20. President Michael J. Jordan presided.

In opening the meeting Mr. Jordan referred to what had been accomplished by the nationalist party, and brought out the fact that the delay of operation of the home rule bill was at the request of the Irish leaders, so that they could have ample time to prepare for the opening of the parliament in Dublin.

Tributes were paid to the memory of many men who had worked for the cause in past years, but who have died. Hon. Augustus P. Kelly presented the following resolutions, which were adopted by a unanimous vote.

"It is with a sense of profound pleasure that we, the members of the Boston Central branch of the United Irish League of America, gather together tonight. We have today witnessed the signing of the new charter of Irish independence.

"We recognize that the days of discord and bitterness have passed forever. We know that a new and peaceful era has opened for Ireland. We know that under a home rule parliament all Ireland will be peaceful, contented, free and independent.

Independence Won
"In the struggle for our national rights the Irish people have never made any distinction of creed or class. The party which has won this elated triumph is composed of men of various religious beliefs.

"The members of this body have ever followed in the footsteps of their leaders and Irishmen of all beliefs in Ireland, America, Canada and Australia have joined hand in hand to effect the great climax of centuries of aspiration.

The work of securing the independence of Ireland is won.

"Therefore, we, the members of the Central branch, with a sense of the fullest gratitude, offer to our great leader, John E. Redmond, the Irish people and the Irish party, our most sincere congratulations on the having achieved of home rule for Ireland.

Resolved, That we cordially express to the democracy of Great Britain our appreciation of the services which have been rendered to the cause of Ireland by the friends of liberty in England, Scotland and Wales.

Resolved, That we tender to the press and people of Boston of all creeds and beliefs our thanks for the sympathy which they have rendered to us in our efforts to accomplish the freedom of our native land."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
Three concerts are to be given for the big "Pop" Sunday vaudeville concert at the Academy tomorrow afternoon and evening, in addition to the regular program of all-star feature players.

Justin Adams & Co. present "All the Comforts of Home," a one-act farce comedy, which has been a tremendous hit in Boston and New York.

The Melody Trio will offer its latest routine of popular song numbers with their own original harmony conception.

Wallace Mackay, the clever musical mimic, will also be on the program with his presentation of imitations of musical instruments.

The prices of admission will be as usual, five and ten cents.

For Monday and Tuesday the program will be headed by the great detective melodrama, "The Devil's Eye," in four exciting parts. Here is a picture that outdoes the latest and best melodramatic photo-play in point of sensationalism and thrills. It must be seen to be appreciated.

The policy of a Keystone comedy with every program will be started on Monday with the presentation of "Dams and Banks," one of the greatest Keystone masterpieces ever turned out of that popular studio.

RAILROAD COMPANY FINED
PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 18.—Fines aggregating $2700 were imposed on the Bangor and Aroostook railroad by Judge Hale in the United States district court yesterday, for alleged violation of the "hours of labor" act.

It was claimed by the government that a number of trainmen and telegraphers employed by the road were required to remain on duty beyond the time specified by law, and that no report was made of the overworking of the employees. The defense was that it was during a strike and under conditions over which there was no control.

SENATE TRIES TO BREAK

STUBBORN FILIBUSTER

Against River and Harbor Bill—The Sergeant at Arms Directed to Request Attendance of All Senators Now Out of the City

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Through a dreary, continuous session, the senate today dragged its weary way in an effort to break the stubborn filibuster against the river and harbor bill conducted by Senators Burton and Smoot.

Against the river and harbor bill conducted by Senators Burton and Smoot, and other opponents of the measure. It had been an all night session. Democratic leaders of the senate, ably supported in point of numbers, had brought to bear every parliamentary check they could find in an effort to break the continuous flow of river and harbor information imparted by Senator Burton. Matching parliamentary strategy by strategy, Senator Burton, however, held the floor and spoke sometimes to an almost empty chamber, and whenever he could, to full attendance by a carefully engineered demand for a quorum.

Several times a roll call failed to bring enough senators to do business and a squad of deputy sergeants-at-arms, bearing writs of arrest, started in taxicabs to bring in the absent members. Senator Lewis, the democratic whip, was the first brought in, and was hurried from his bed at the army and navy club by a deputy after the latter had threatened club attendants with arrest because of their alleged refusal to permit the senator to be disturbed.

Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, reported to the senate, some time after a quorum had been secured, that he had been arrested and had promised the sergeant-at-arms to hurry to the senate in order to avoid being brought in by the arm.

Senator Burton Takes Floor
Senator Burton took the floor shortly before six o'clock last night after the democrats had determined on a continuous session. Despite all efforts to dissuade him, he continued to talk and shortly after midnight the lack of a quorum caused the ordering of writs of arrest. He had an hour and a half of rest while the majority of the senate was herded into the chamber and then resumed, his voice a trifle husky but still strong. During his respite, the senator discarded his frock coat for an alpaca house jacket and had donned bedroom slippers. Thus attired, he plodded up and down, pointer in hand, before a series of charts which he had placed on the wall of the senate chamber.

Half a dozen senators formed the audience then, and one of them Senator Vandamm, was stretched out on a couch in the rear of the chamber. The cloakrooms and nearby committee rooms were filled with slumbering senators awaiting the summons of the quorum bell. In the interval, while they waited for the sergeant-at-arms to gather in a quorum, the chamber was almost deserted. Half a dozen senators gathered about Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who told funny stories. Senator Ashurst, who then occupied the chair, was forced to call Senator Williams to order for whistling "How dry I am" in the

Dawn Dims the Lights
Altogether Senator Burton and his aides, Senators Kenyon and Smoot, forced nine calls before dawn dimmed the lights in the senate chamber. Just as day broke the democrats forced Senator Burton from the floor on the contention that he had already made two speeches on the pending bill in a single legislative day, the limit fixed by rule. Senator Burton, however, immediately presented a motion to immediately send the bill back to committee, and began one of his allotted speeches on that motion.

Shortly after 6 o'clock, when Senator Burton had occupied the floor more than 12 hours, Senator Kenyon relieved him and immediately succeeded in forcing a roll call on a point of quorum.

During the long wait to get senators to the chamber, Senator Russell proposed that the sergeant-at-arms be directed to request the attendance of all senators now out of the city, as earlier orders had applied only to those in Washington. The order was agreed to after Senator Kenyon made an unsuccessful attempt to secure an amendment exempting senators engaged in political campaigns.

Looks Like Big Fight
About nine o'clock this morning a few senators returned from their homes. A deputy sergeant at arms reported that the only absent senator who had refused to obey the order for attendance was William Alden Smith of Michigan. When awakened at his home by the officer Senator Smith declared he would not respond because he had learned that a quorum was present and his presence was not imperative.

On motion of Senator Simons four additional assistant sergeants at arms were appointed and directed to again scour the city for senators who had responded to calls during the night but had again disappeared.

Majority leader Kern returned after a brief rest and Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee took up the task of presiding officer.

Senator Burton, refreshed by one hour's sleep and some coffee and eggs, returned to the chamber about the same time Senator Smith arrived and made his peace with the sergeant at arms.

"Handicapped as we are, we will fight on all day, all night, and Sunday if necessary," Senator Burton said.

Senator Eristow is away. Senator Norris sick and Senator Borah is not here but, said Burton, "I'm still on my feet and I am going back to take up the struggle."

The day and night fight on the river and harbor bill in the senate showed signs of a break today with victory for the filibustering republicans when it became known that President Wilson favored abandoning the bill and substituting a new resolution to appropriate $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 to continue only those projects under way. The original bill proposed $35,000,000.

Officials said the president believed the bill should be abandoned in its present form because government revenues already falling because of the European war must be supplemented by a war tax. The economy measure will extend all along the line; even increases in salaries to officials will be abandoned.

FIVE ARE INJURED

In Different Accidents at the B. & M. Car Shops

Five accidents occurred at the Boston & Maine repair shops yesterday and although only one was of a serious nature, the other four were painful and required instant medical attendance. All of the injured men were attended by Dr. Neil K. Foxham of Billerica, who treated four in his office and removed the fifth to St. John's hospital where he is now resting comfortably.

William Philbrook, who resides in Lowell sustained a serious injury to his back yesterday afternoon while working in the locomotive shop of the plant when an iron pole fell and struck him just below the shoulder. Dr. Foxham treated the injury and then removed him to his home where he will be confined for a few days.

While working about a heavy machine Nicholas Vreette, also of Lowell, was struck with a heavy piece of iron and received a fractured bone in his right foot. He was removed to St. John's hospital where the fracture was treated.

Ernest Nordness, who recently came to this city to work in the repair shops, sustained an injury to his shoulder while working in one of the departments connected with the shops. He will be unable to return to work for several days.

A severe scalp wound was received by Felix Hickey which required several stitches while A. Landry's ankle was badly crushed as a result of getting caught in a machine in the locomotive plant. The latter two men also live in Lowell.

CHARGES AGAINST MAYOR

SALEM, Sept. 18.—At a meeting of the city council yesterday, Director Lally charged Mayor Hurley with interfering with police and fire appointments, after which he introduced an order that the mayor's powers in those departments be taken away from him. A long discussion followed and the order was deferred until Oct. 2, when City Marshal Lohan and Chief Engineer Arnold will be questioned regarding the management of their departments. A lively meeting is expected.

FOR AN IRISH BRIGADE

Even Wm. O'Brien Joins Demonstration in Cork in Response to Redmond's Appeal for Recruits

DUBLIN, Ireland, Sept. 18.—For the first time on record followers of John E. Redmond and William O'Brien have joined in a popular demonstration. This occurred at Mill street, County Cork, and the cause was rejoicing over the passage of the Home Rule bill. Headed by an "All for Ireland" band a battalion of volunteers paraded the streets. Speeches were delivered by local leaders who exhorted the volunteers to join the Irish brigade and at once tender their services to the war office. O'Brien has been the bitterest opponent and assailant of Mr. Redmond in the past.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW A PRAYER FOR PEACE

MISTAKEN FOR BRITON—FRENCH CHIEF EX-SENATOR BECAUSE OF HIS ENGLISH SIDE WHISKERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew, a passenger on the Baltic, which arrived yesterday, was frequently taken for an Englishman while traveling in France on a train containing many reservists.

He said: "Whenever I stuck my head out the soldiers would set up a cheer on seeing my side whiskers. They mistook me for an Englishman and cried in French, 'Long live the entente cordiale!'"

Auguste Labelle, a foreman for the Daniel and Co., left last night for his home in Canada, where he will spend a lucrative vacation.

Mrs. Minnie E. Hutchins of Wilder street has gone to Lindsay, Ga., where she will join her husband, who has accepted a lucrative position with the Massachusetts mills.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Warren club in Odd Fellows hall in Middlesex street. All members are requested to attend.

The police are unusually busy in tearing down signs posted on billboards and telephone and electric light poles which are a whole lot unsightly. At this time of year when the dances begin to be the attraction these poles are literally covered with glaring advertisements that are wholly unwarranted.

Box $24 at 7:55 o'clock this morning was for a roof fire on a dwelling in Woburn street, owned and occupied by Annie M. Gray. When the alarm was sounded a few shingles were missing but the firemen responded in quick time and kept the damage confined to one end of the room. The cause of the fire is not known. Fred C. Church carried insurance on the dwelling.

At St. Anne's church tomorrow services will be resumed under the regular schedule. The first service will be at 7:30 a. m., the second at 10:30 with morning prayer and sermon by the rector, Rev. Appleton Granik. At 12 o'clock the regular service of the Sunday school under the direction of Rev. John W. Sutor, Jr. In the evening at 7 o'clock the regular service will be resumed and the preacher will be Rev. Samuel H. Jobe.

The regular meeting of Passaconaway tribe, 32, Red Allen, attracted a large number of members to the council wigwam in Odd Fellows temple last evening. The auditors read their quarterly report which showed the council to be in good condition as regards finances, sickness and membership. A communication was received from the great sachem, Samuel W. Sawyer of Fitchburg, giving an account of the great council affairs and the progress of the order in this reservation. P. S. G. A. Frost of Hollis, N. H., was present. After the business session refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

The official number of pupils registered at the high school is 1512, divided as follows: Upper classes, 965; freshmen, 545, this being an increase of 127 over last year's attendance. A total of 1670 applications were received for admission and as experience has shown about 10 per cent. of this number failed to appear.

AWFUL TRAIN WRECK IN MISSOURI CLAIMS TWENTY-SEVEN LIVES; CARS ARE SUBMERGED

Plunging into a lake that had been formed over the tracks by a cloudburst, two cars of the westbound Texas Limited train on the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad were submerged near Lebanon, Mo. Twenty-seven persons died, many of them being drowned, and eighteen were injured when the smoking car and one chair car toppled into the water. "My train was going a little more than fifteen miles an hour," said the engineer, O'Brien, afterward. "The rain had been terrific. I was running along very cautiously, knowing the nature of the region we were traversing. As I rounded the curve just east of a twelve foot fill that had been made in a gully I found myself face to face with a lake. There evidently had been a cloudburst, which filled the hollow on either side of the tracks and covered the rails as well. I applied the brakes, but we struck the water full force. The engine rocked along through the lake, lurching perilously. It seemed the wheels never could keep to the weakened tracks, but we kept rolling on until we began to clear the deeper stretches of the water. Just when the chair and smoking cars got into the middle of the lake the coupling with the Pullman in the rear parted, and they went over into the water. The chair car was entirely submerged and the smoking car almost so. Ninety-nine persons, including the crew, were on the train, but the attempts to the injured to rescue those in the derailed cars met with little success. There were no lights, and assistance could not be summoned because the heavy storm had blown down the telephone and telegraph wires.

A "Helping Hand" Extended to the Middle Aged Woman

THERE comes a time in every woman's life when her organism undergoes an important change. This is a critical period. It is a time when a woman needs her full health and strength. For your own sake you should anticipate this turning point.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

has been recommended for over forty years as a tonic for women who are about to experience "the turn of life." It is helpful in the equalization of the circulation of the blood and in regulating the action of the bowels. Nervousness and low spirits disappear. Happiness and contentment take their place.

General Paul Pau is called the "Kitchen of France." This is a new picture of this great French fighter. He has been in active service practically all his life. In the Franco-Prussian war he lost his right arm. In the present war the movements of his troops have been fast, and he has figured in much of the hardest fighting. Many consider Pau the biggest figure in the war on the allies' side.

WOULDN'T PREVENT WAR

Russian Book Says Germany Refused—England Asked Delay in Starting Hostilities

LONDON, Sept. 12.—There has just been received in London a copy of the Russian Orange Book, giving the Russian diplomatic correspondence from the time the Austrian ultimatum to Servia was issued to the outbreak of the war. The first despatch in the book is from the Russian charge d'affaires at Belgrade to the foreign minister at St. Petersburg. It tells of the ultimatum and says Servia solicited the aid of Russia as the Serbian government could not accept the Austrian demands. This was on July 23.

lar representations to Vienna. The same day the Russian charge d'affaires at Berlin telegraphed that all the Berlin papers welcomed with great sympathy the energetic tone of Austria while the official Loh Angewies was particularly aggressive and stemmized as superfluous the appeals of Servia to St. Petersburg, Paris, Athens, and Bucharest.

The charge at Paris telegraphed that the German ambassador had visited the French foreign minister and told him if Servia refused the ultimatum Austria would be obliged to have recourse to military measures. The ambassador told the minister that Germany thought the settlement of the question should be decided by force.

The next day, M. Sazonoff, the foreign minister, instructed the Russian charge d'affaires at Vienna to tell Count Berchtold, the Austrian foreign minister, that it was indispensable that the 48-hour time limit to Serbia be stronger in order to give the powers time to smooth out the complications. The despatch said, inasmuch as Austria was willing to inform the powers of the results of the negotiations, on which the ultimatum was based, "she ought, therefore, have given them time to consider them. A refusal to prolong the term of the ultimatum would deprive of all weight the proceedings of the Austro-Hungarian government toward the powers and regard be to the satisfaction with the various bases of international relations.

Sealed Verdict on the Brassard
Case to be Opened Monday Morning

After being confined in the jury room on the top floor of the Gorham street court house for over 12 hours, the jury that heard the case of Rose Brasseur, charged with maintaining a house of ill fame, finally made a report which was sealed and will be opened at the resumption of the criminal session of superior court in this city next Monday morning. The case was tried Thursday afternoon and Friday morning and was given to the jurors shortly before the noon recess yesterday.

PROFESSOR REES GIVES PLOT ENOUGH PEOPLE IN COUNTRY TO	RAILWAY MEN FROM WEST LYNN HAD FINE TIME AT LAKEVIEW

CONSUME CROP STOW, Sept. 19.—Fruit growers to the number of 135 gathered at the farm of Lyman F. Priest at Gleasonville yesterday afternoon to witness a demonstration of apple packing and hear suggestions relative to the best method of handling this year's crop.	YESTERDAY Conductors and motormen from the West Lynn car barns held their first annual outing at Lakeview park yesterday and according to the boys who attended, the affair will be remembered as one of the most successful
---	---

Prof. Ralph Rees of the Massachusetts Agricultural College gave points and demonstrations. Rees said the crop of 1914 was not the largest in history. Five times in the past 12 years the crop has been larger, he said. The crop of the United States was 7 per cent above the average for the past 10 years, while that of Massachusetts showed a yield of 12 per cent above the average for a similar period.

With an ideal place, good weather, plenty of music, a long program of sports, swimming, and canoeing, there was certainly not much more to be desired. In a special crowded car the men left Lynn at 8.45 o'clock in the morning and arrived at Lakeville shortly after 11 o'clock. A well prepared sporting program was carried lar period.

The export market is paralyzed to a certain degree, he said, but this condition is overestimated in many cases. The export trade under normal conditions averages 3 per cent of the commercial crop of the country. The speaker said that it was impossible to ship apples abroad tended to keep down prices. Prof. Rees thought that despite unfavorable conditions, 1 per cent of the total crop will be exported this year.

Prof. Rees believed a hopeful feature for the growers lay in the fact that the United States contains people enough to consume the apple crop if it is properly distributed. Again, the quality of fruit put upon the market would affect the general result.

W. M. Davis, proprietor of the Assabetz Hill orchard, spoke of his advertisement, after which the speaker said that many men journeyed to Schofield's farm where an excellent dinner was served. In the afternoon there was speech making and a musical program was given by the talent of the car barn. The return trip was made shortly after 6 o'clock.

GRAND LARCENY IN NEW YORK, HAS WORRIED POLICE

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 12.—Charles Gondorf, "king of the wire tappers," who was convicted of grand larceny in the first degree in a New York court Thursday, is a native of Providence.

He, his two brothers, George and Fred, and half a dozen other associates have kept the police of a number of America cities exceedingly busy during the past 15 years. Their aged parents are still living in this city, passing the last days of a useful and honest life. The father was a shoemaker. Their fourth brother, who still lives in this city, has never been associated in their eventful career.

The Gondorfs never operated in Rhode Island.

A high mass requiem was celebrated on the St. Joseph home on Elm street, Springfield, at 9 o'clock this morning and burial was in St. Michael's cemetery, Springfield. The bearers will be James Lucey, William Maloney, William Flinn, Ed Smith, Howard Blanehett and Edward Lynch, pupils in St. Michael's school.

MRS. RAY'S LOW COST MENUS

FOR THE COMING WEEK

With a view to supplying housekeepers with ready cooking recipes sufficiently simple to be practical, and sufficiently inexpensive to be economical, The Sun today publishes the first of a series of Mrs. Ray's menus to appear weekly, on Saturday. For sake of variety, there will be a separate menu prepared for every day in the week. Housekeepers will do well to cut out these articles and preserve them for future reference as the writer is an eminent authority on all dietary matters. By studying these articles housekeepers will be enabled to reduce the cost of living which in this era of high prices is an important problem in every household.—Editor.

Unofficial Reports Place Allies' Losses at 50,000 and Those of the Germans at 100,000 in Great Clash of Arms Up to Date

STATE CANDIDATE SORE

Preferred List Rends Harmony of Republicans — Rebel Slate is Being Circulated

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The feeling of harmony and apparent good fellowship which has characterized the contest for places on the republican state ticket was rudely shattered yesterday, when it became known that a "rebel" slate is being circulated throughout the state containing the following list of preferred candidates:

For lieutenant governor—Grafton D. Cushing of Boston.
For secretary of state—Frank L. Brier of Boston.
For state treasurer—Frederick E. Pierce of Greenfield.
For auditor—Joseph Monette of Lawrence.

For attorney-general—John A. Curtin of Brookline.
It was said yesterday that large batches of cards had been shipped from Boston to republicans of prominence in various parts of the state for distribution, and that some of them were sent out with the personal address of Herman Hornel, chairman of the Boston city committee, while others were being shipped from the state committee headquarters.
Hornel admitted yesterday that he was responsible for the distribution of about 4000 of the cards containing the above slate, but declared that he is doing it on his own individual responsibility.

Chairman Thurston, Executive Secretary Felt and all of the employees at state committee headquarters emphatically deny that any slate has been sent out by them and they challenge anybody to prove that the state organization is taking any hand in the primary fight outside of the contest for the auditor nomination.

Candidates Saying Things

In spite of the denial of Chairman Thurston and the state committee men, and in view of the admission by Chairman Hornel of the Boston city committee, most of the candidates not included on the slate are saying things which are not altogether complimentary to the organization men.
Kinney of Boston, candidate for secretary of state, was in a particularly wrothy state of mind yesterday. He was extremely caustic in his criticism of Chairman Hornel of the city committee.

Curtin Makes Reply

Kinney addressed letters to Grafton Cushing and John Curtin, the "rebel" candidates for lieutenant-governor and attorney-general, respectively, asking them if the slate was made with their knowledge and with their consent and financial assistance.

Curtin replied to Kinney's letter last night, expressing ignorance of the existence of the printed slate, and adding:

"From the conception that I have of the present statutes governing primaries I know of no official body which could bring into existence what you term to be an 'official slate,' and should any such attempt be made I should certainly consider it a flagrant violation of the spirit of the direct primary act designed to permit the rank and file of the party a free and untrammeled choice of their nominees. I have, I hope, a great many friends in the city of Boston, and I trust that I will receive substantial support in my native city for the office to which I aspire.

"I can say, however, that, so far as I am concerned, I have effected no combination or relationship with any candidate for office, and so far as holding any 'financial assistance' to the project which you outline, I would deny the same most emphatically, and so far as any 'consent' of mine is concerned, I can simply say that it is impossible to give consent to a situation which one has no knowledge of."

From Springfield it was reported that Col. Goetting was also in a warlike frame of mind.

Burrill Makes Caustic Statement

Charles L. Burrill, candidate for treasurer, who was the nominee last year in spite of the fact Hornel carried Maurice Kant on his slate at that time against Burrill, also started things last night.
"Under Hornel's leadership the republican vote in Boston," he said, "has been reduced to the attenuated vote of today, has at last come out in the open with the state he has been working quietly since he filed nomination papers at the state house early in the year.
"I do not believe that candidates on Hornel's slate approve of this parasitism, and I call on them to repudiate it."

Stevens Aroused

Elmer Stevens, who is making one of the most thorough campaigns for the nomination for lieutenant-governor, was also aroused by the reports of Hornel's action.
"If Mr. Hornel or anybody else is circulating a slate," said Stevens, "I think it is decidedly unfair to the men who are on the preferred list, as well as to those who are not."

INTERIOR OF HOSPITAL, TERMONDE, BELGIUM, DAMAGED AND BURNED IN GERMAN ATTACK

This war picture was taken at Termonde, Belgium, a fortified town sixteen miles east of Ghent. It shows the interior of the hospital there which was burned by the Germans. When the town was attacked the German shells raked the town, and the hospital was shot full of holes. The patients were removed when the engagement began and spent the night in the fields. Several of the wounded soldiers died as a result of the exposure.

IMPORTANT FREIGHT CHANGE

Local Railroad Offices Improve System of Handling Inward and Outward Shipments—Great Improvement to Lowell Business

Local business firms will rejoice much to know that W. G. Parkin, general agent of the Boston & Maine Railroad in this city, has at last succeeded in perfecting arrangements whereby the inward and outward freight business of Lowell may be kept entirely distinct. For years, owing to the many scattered yards, the inadequate track facilities, the two freight offices of Western avenue and Thorndike street and the frequent transfers from and to the New York, New Haven and Hartford yards, there was an apparent lack of system which was not the fault of the local offices, but which was a constant source of annoyance. Those who wished to make a freight shipment were never sure to which freight house they should take it and the heads of the local departments were compelled to answer constant telephone inquiries. The same held true of inward shipments which, instead of coming to one distributing point, were scattered over two or three, with resultant confusion. Generally speaking, all outward shipments going to a southern point were sent from the Thorndike street house; northern shipments went from Western avenue. In like manner inward freight from the south and north were found at Thorndike street and Western avenue respectively. There was no certainty about this, however, which at its best was a contradictory and confusing system, and one of which the public complained continually.

Commencing next Monday, Sept. 21, all outward shipments of freight will be made from Western avenue, no matter what the destination may be, and all inward freight will come to the Thorndike street storehouse. The change may be a little confusing at first but it will do away with a great deal of trouble and will be approved by the general public without delay. Important changes are now being made in the routine of the offices so as to accommodate conditions to the new system. There will be no changes in the working force but the office system will be entirely revised so as to facilitate the carrying out of the improved arrangements.

HARVARD ORNITHOLOGIST WHO PASSED WINTER IN ARCTIC ICE HAS PRECIOUS SKINS

SEATTLE, Sept. 19.—Sprague Brooks, Harvard Ornithologist, who passed last winter on the power schooner Polar Bear in the Arctic ice west of the Mackenzie river, arrived from Nome last night with a precious collection of bird skins.

He was carried to Point Barrow by the schooner Anna Olga and thence to Nome by the revenue cutter Bear.

Eloquent Hints of Sacrifices Made to Gain Advantage—Officers and Men Regardless of Personal Safety—Order of Day Shows How Murderous is the Modern Warfare

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Fragments of news from the front confirm the serious character of the combat on the Aisne. Some of those wounded on Thursday who have arrived here, declared that the fighting was even more violent than on the Marne, and that the losses on both sides must be heavy. The English, as on the Marne, are bearing the brunt of the counter-attacks and are conducting themselves brilliantly.

After a four days' constant hammering the German artillery slackened its fire last evening during a heavy down-pour of rain which lasted all night.

The trenches must have been nearly filled with water, diminishing greatly the advantage of the defensive works prepared by the Germans and at the same time adding to the sufferings of the wounded.

Returning confidence is shown in the return to Paris of many who took refuge in Bordeaux and other provincial towns on the approach of the Germans. Some of the newspapers temporarily at Bordeaux are getting ready to publish in Paris again. The Daily Mail comes back today. The government, however, probably will remain until the war is practically ended.

POSITIVE SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF A CHOICE BUILDING LOT ON THE WEST SIDE OF WENTWORTH AVENUE, IN THE OAKLANDS

ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26th, 1914, AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

The owner of the above lot has instructed me to sell at public auction to whomsoever will bid the most, one of the finest building lots in that beautiful residential section of Belvidere known as the Oakland.

The lot has a frontage on Wentworth avenue of 53 feet, and a total area of 14,378 square feet; it has sewer, gas and electricity; the street has recently been newly macadamized.

This is a splendid chance for anyone thinking of erecting a home to purchase a lot in a strictly home locality, and one that is rapidly growing, and also a location that will remain exclusively residential.

If you are looking for a choice lot at your own price, attend this sale. Terms: $75 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as struck off.
